PBCC ACCEPTS CREDIT CARDS

During the January Board Meeting, Trustees approved the use of credit cards for the payment of tuition, books and other fees. Plans are for the College to accept VISA and MASTER CARD.

Credit card payments will help students who need to delay fee payments when they register for classes.

It is estimated that about two percent of the students will use credit cards for payment. This amount is based on the experience of the other 21 Florida Community Colleges who currently accept credit card payments.

PBCC must now identify a banking institution that will provide acceptable terms. According to state law, the College is prohibited from paying the bank a service fee; therefore, the agreement will require the bank to waive the vendor fee.

In other business, it was announced that the Dedication Ceremony for the Philip D. Lewis Center for Business and Industry Technology on North Campus will be held on Tuesday, February 7, 10 a.m.

The next regular Board Meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, February 15, 7:30 p.m. at the Glades Campus in Belle Glade.

CENTRAL LIBRARY EVENTS

Several events are underway at the Harold C. Manor Library at Central Campus, according to Faculty Services Librarian Carole Blum. Current offerings include:

*Photographs by David Andrews on display, first floor, AV Lab, through February.

*Florida Citrus Fruit Labels from the late 1800's to the 1960's on exhibit through February 14, first floor lobby.

*Senior Players performance, February 6, 11 a.m., second floor.

*Poetry readings by Bruce Weber and Jan McLaughlin, February 8, 1-2 p.m., second floor.

For further information, call 8114.

LEWIS CENTER DEDICATION

Palm Beach Community College North will hold a Dedication Ceremony for the Philip D. Lewis Center for Business and Industry Technology on Tuesday, February 7, at 10 a.m.

Philip D. Lewis, for whom the Center is named, will be present at the Dedication, and is scheduled to speak.

The facility houses credit programs in the areas of Electronics, Drafting, Medical Transcription and Respiratory Care. Also located in the building are Office Systems Technology, Computer/Data Processing and Waste Water Treatment Programs.

The Dedication is open to all faculty and staff. Any persons interested in attending should RSVP to Dr. Smith's Office, 622-2440, extension 251 by Wednesday, February 1.

DUNCAN BOOK REVIEWS

Watson B. Duncan III, Distinguished Chairman of Arts and Letters, will continue his Annual Literary Lecture Series through February.

The book reviews are held at the Woman's Club Building, 105 South Flagler Drive, West Palm Beach, every Friday afternoon at 3 p.m.

A $3 donation is requested and proceeds benefit student scholarships.

The following reviews are scheduled for February:

February 3-Gracie: A Love Story, the story of Gracie Allen's life as told by George Burns.

February 10-All I Really Need To Know I Learned in Kindergarten, by Robert Fulghum, a current #1 bestseller.

February 17-Golda: The Romantic Years, by Ralph G. Martin, the story of Golda Meir.

February 24-Child Star, an autobiography of perhaps the most famous little girl to grace the silver screen.

For more information, please call 8142.

The Monday Report Deadline is Tues., 3 p.m.

MONDAY REPORT:

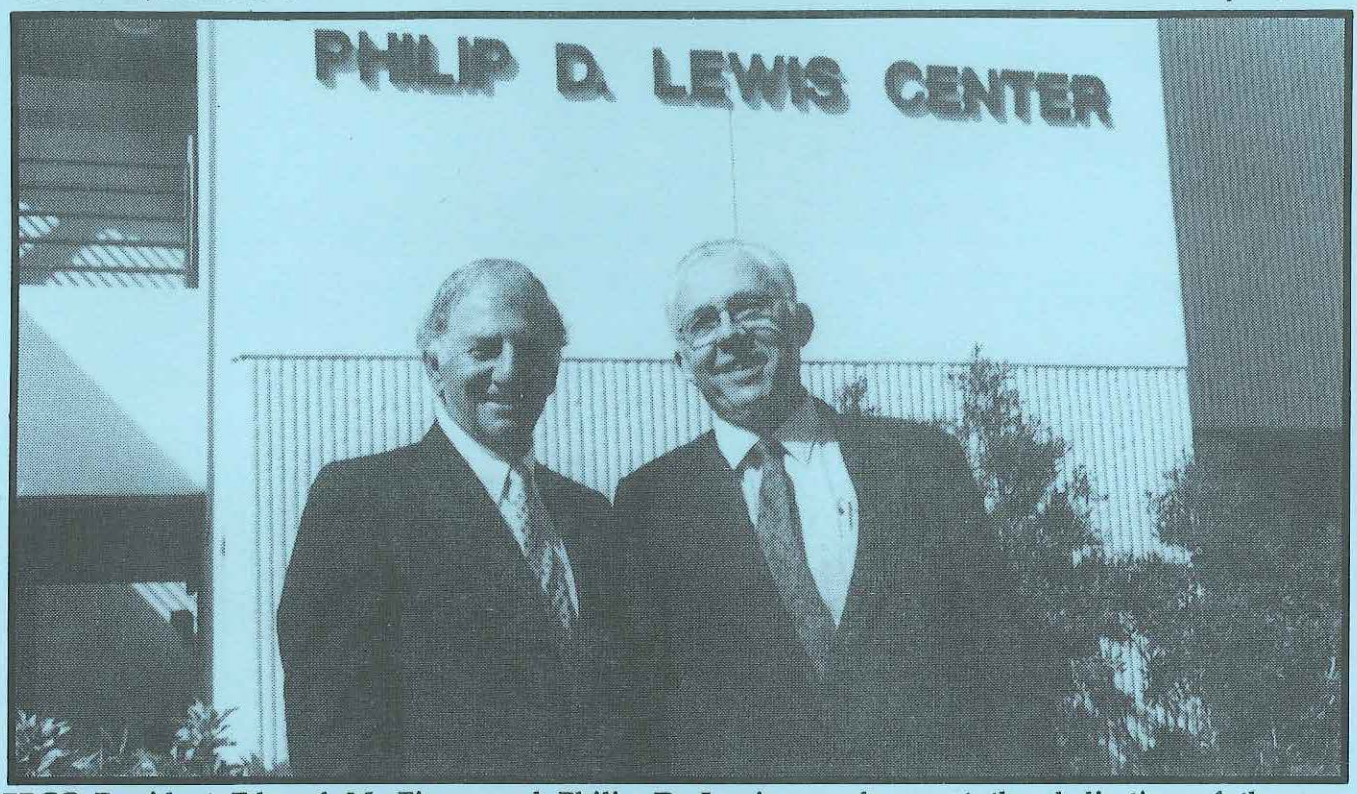
Volume XI, Number 3 February 13, 1989



PBCC President Edward M. Eissey and Philip D. Lewis are shown at the dedication of the new facility at the North Campus held on Tuesday, February 7.

LEWIS CENTER DEDICATED

The Philip D. Lewis Center for Business and Industry Technology on the North Campus was dedicated on Tuesday, February 7. The event honored the former State Senator for his lifelong dedication to education.

In his comments, Lewis said that the real credit for the Center should go to the taxpayer. "I am very pleased that you have chosen to honor me, but there are so many persons who are more deserving," Lewis reflected.

As the driving force behind the scenes at the Legislature, Lewis helped to bring many projects to PBCC. After leaving his position as State Senator, he provided leadership as a member of the State Board of Community Colleges.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey read a letter from Clark Maxwell, Executive Director of the State Board of Community Colleges, which commended Lewis by calling him a man of wisdom and visionary leadership.

The Philip D. Lewis Center houses several academic programs.

SPECIAL BOARD MEETING

Following a special Board of Trustees Meeting held Monday, February 6, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey said that financing is the major hurdle preventing the acceptance of the bid for construction of the Performing Arts Center.

According to Florida State Statute 235.42 (5), the Board of Trustees is prohibited from entering into a contract unless funds for the project are in hand.

College Trustees expressed their desire to build the best possible Performing Arts Center.

They directed PBCC Attorney James Adams to meet with representatives of the Center for the Performing Arts and with participating banks to work out an agreeable solution.

Eissey said, "At this point, everyone is hoping that the financial conflicts will be alleviated and the construction will proceed as planned. The Board members and I truly believe that all parties will be successful in removing the remaining barrier."

DOLLY HAND CENTER REOPENS

The gala reopening of the newly-renovated Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center will boast two concerts by country music superstar Mel Tillis on Friday, February 24. The event will be attended by PBCC President Edward M. Eissey, the PBCC Board of Trustees and community officials from Belle Glade and Pahokee.

The DHCAC has been remodeled to allow for incline seating which will yield better viewing from all parts of the theatre.

Starting its sixth season, the Center will host Pahokee's favorite son, Mel Tillis and his band, the "Statesiders." Tillis, who is known for such songs as "I'm Tired," "Detroit City," and "Ruby, Don't Take Your Love to Town," will perform before standing room-only crowds. Tickets are $20 and student tickets are $10.

Following the reopening, the Winter Season will continue with a performance by "AMIGO," Mexico's hottest musical group, on March 7, at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10.

On March 30, the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center will host The Florida Shakespeare Festival production of "Pygmalion" at 8 p.m. Tickets are $12. "23 Skidoo" will be at the theatre on April 10, 8 p.m. Tickets are $8.

Pop, country and rhythm and blues star Rita Coolidge will top off the season on April 22, 8 p.m., tickets are $15. For further information about any of the events, please call the Box Office at 996-7529.

The Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center is a 500-seat theatre located on the PBCC Glades Campus.

DOLLY HAND RECEIVES AWARD

Dolly Hand

The Florida Community Education Foundation, Inc. presented the Benefactor's Award to Frances R. (Dolly) Hand during an awards dinner held January 14 in Lake Buena Vista.

She was one of only 15 in the State of Florida who were recognized as exemplary community education benefactors.

The award is given to individuals and businesses for support of programs which make Florida communities better places in which to live, learn, work and play.

The Florida Community Education Foundation was organized in 1981 under the Florida Department of Education by a general appropriations act of the Florida Legislature. The Foundation is a non-profit organization that promotes, organizes and conducts activities which will develop and enhance community education in the State of Florida.

Dolly Hand has been actively involved in education and community activities for many years. She has served on the Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees since 1976 and has been Vice Chair since 1980.

She was a member of the Collegewide Millage Committee, the College Plan Committee, and the Palm Beach Community College Foundation.

FAIR WINNERS ANNOUNCED

The South Florida Fair winners were selected at a drawing on Thursday, February 9. Dr. Melvin Haynes and Debra McCray did the honors, and Leo Salvatore of West Palm Beach was announced as the winner of the dual cassette radio which was donated by the PBCC Bookstore. The winners of six free semester hours of in-state tuition are Lucy A. Carr, Lisa M. Wilson, Teresa Mims, and Barbara Jurado.

Following the announcement of the PBCC/South Florida Fair Booth Prize Winners, Debra McCray thanked all those who took part in the planning, preparation and execution of the project.

"I would like to thank Mac Bennett for continuing to support the booth through the donation of prizes and give-aways. Many thanks go to the Physical Plant staff for their help with setting up, breaking down and transporting the actual booth. Appreciation also goes to Jan Bussell for his ideas and participation in adding a display of technical equipment representing several PBCC A.S. Degree Programs," McCray said.

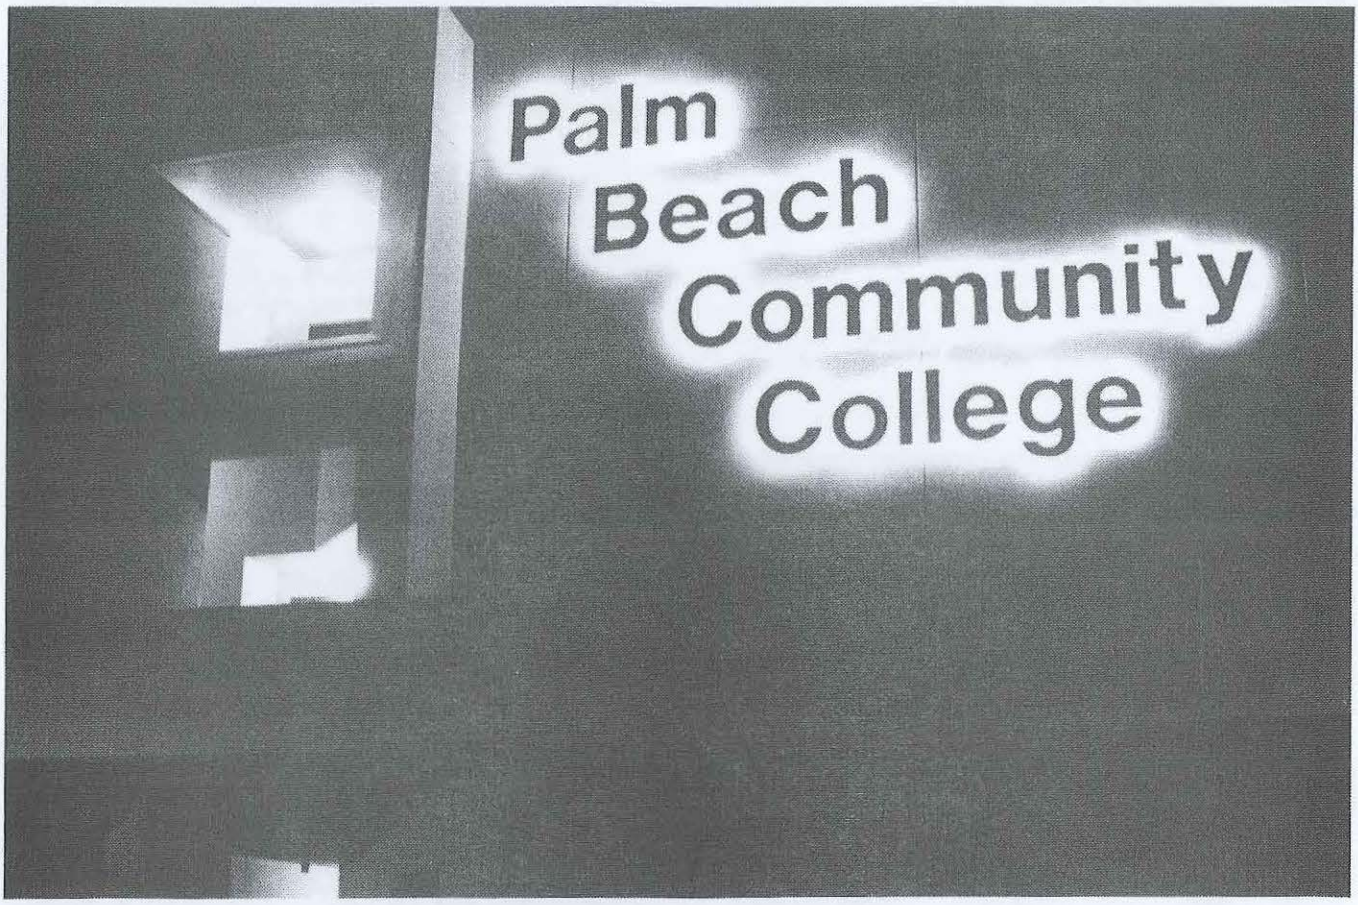
Her donations of time and money have been considerable over the years and they continue to be a major factor in the promotion of education in western Palm Beach County.

She was nominated to the Florida Women's Hall of Fame in 1982 and was selected as the recipient of the "Educational Social Service Award" by the Executive Women of the Palm Beaches.

Her many other awards include the "Distinguished Service Award" and the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year Award" given by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

The Monday Report Deadline is Tues., 3 p.m.



Palm Beach Community College, established in 1933, is credited as being Florida's first public community college. Today, PBCC serves approximately 42,000 full-time students annually.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE WEEK

Florida Governor Bob Martinez has proclaimed February 19-25 as Community College Week to celebrate the quality and diversity of the educational programs and services of Florida's 28 community colleges.

Florida's public community college system had its beginning in 1933, when Palm Beach Junior College (now Palm Beach Community College) was established as a public two-year college.

The goals of the community college system were to provide post-secondary education within commuting distance of 99 percent of Florida's population and to serve as an entry point for students seeking higher education. Florida became a national model for the development of similar colleges.

Today, more than two-thirds of the students entering Florida's higher education system choose a community college for their first two years of study.

Community college students who transfer to four-year universities perform well academically. Last year, community college transfers comprised 69.9% of the students enrolled in the upper divisions of Florida's nine pubic universities.

CHILDREN'S SERIES AT DUNCAN

The award-winning Stage One: The Louisville Children's Theatre will perform "The Wind in the Willows" at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday, February 26. The performances at the Duncan Theatre mark the beginning of a national tour for the professional theatre group.

The production is part of the Duncan Theatre Saturday Morning Specials series. The play features a pop-up storybook set and colorful costumes and unusual characters such as Mr. Toad, Mr. Mole, Mr. Rat, Mr. Badger and the Wild Wood Weasels.

The story is based on the classic book, The Wind in the Willows, by Kenneth Grahame. The play is described as an action-packed comedy for audience members of all ages.

"Wind in the Willows" is made possible in part by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts through the Southern Arts Federation, of which the State of Florida, Department of State, Division of Cultural Affairs and the Florida Arts Council are members.

Tickets are $5 for all family members and can be purchased at the Duncan Theatre Box Office, Monday through Friday, 12 noon - 5 p.m. For further information, call 8141.

ENDOWED CHAIR DRIVE BEGINS

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey announced the establishment of the Endowed Teaching Chair Program at a private kick-off reception on Wednesday, February 8.

Two $45,000 contributions were made on behalf of the project. George Barbar, Chairman of the Boca Raton-based Barbar Group, served as host of the reception while making his own donation through the Barbar Group to the Endowed Teaching Chair for Business. Barbar is also volunteering his time as Chairman of the Endowed Teaching Chair Drive.

Edward M. Eissey, Elizabeth Calder and George E. Barbar at the reception to kick off The Endowed Teaching Chair Program.

The Board of Directors for the West Palm Beach Sunfest followed suit and immediately pledged support to PBCC by donating a second Chair.

The Endowed Teaching Chair Program was developed to acknowledge those faculty members who have dedicated themselves to the advancement of learning and intellectual growth of the PBCC student population.

The Program will allow PBCC to continue to attract and maintain the highest-quality faculty available, both nationally and internationally.

Palm Beach Community College and community supporters of higher education have risen to the challenge of acknowledging superior educators. Without reservation, the Endowed Teaching Chair Program is one that comes with great prestige and honor.

The contribution necessary to endow a Chair at PBCC is $45,000. With existing matching funds, such as the Florida Academic Improvement Trust Fund and the National Endowment for the Humanities, a private contribution of $45,000 will generate a $30,000 match, resulting in a $75,000 total contribution.

The Endowed Teaching Chair will be established in the name of the donor or in a name selected by the donor in perpetuity. The College will choose faculty members based on the merits of their educational contributions to Palm Beach Community College.

Faculty members chosen for this distinction will receive approximately $7,500 as a stipend to advance their academic endeavors, which includes funds for the purchase of various teaching materials, books, and any related travel expenses.

Endowed Teaching Chairs may be established in any one of Palm Beach Community College's academic curriculums.

Areas of study include but are not limited to Accounting, Architecture, Art, Aviation, Ballet, Banking, Broadcasting (Radio and Television), Business Administration, Communications-English, Computer Science, Criminal Justice, Dance, Dental, Economics, Electronics, Engineering, Fashion Design and Merchandising, and Fire Science.

Endowed Chairs may also be given in Foreign Language, Graphic Arts, Health, Hospitality Management, Interior Design, Journalism, Law, Music, Natural Sciences, Nursing, Orchestra, Photography, Physical Education, Real Estate, Teacher Education, Theatre, Travel and Tourism. Chairs may also be endowed in other categories including the Lannan Museum.

Individuals wishing to donate to the Endowed Teaching Chair Program can contact Patricia Myers, Executive Director of the PBCC Foundation, 8072.

WINNING WAYS

Palm Beach Community College's athletic teams are continuing their winning ways by posting victories in Baseball, Women's Softball, and Men's and Women's Basketball.

Hamid Faquir, Administrative Director of Student Activities and Athletics, had nothing but praise for PBCC athletic teams, athletes, and coaches.

"We are very happy in athletics. Everyone is very supportive of our athletes and coaches. The administration and faculty have been extremely cooperative in their efforts to help our programs and the athletes' educational needs."

Presently, the Women's Softball Team, coached by John Anderson, is looking toward a promising season with a record of 13-3. There are 10 new players on the team and three returning players from last year. The team posted a 35-15 record last year and is well on its way to a winning season.

Coached by Randy Gailey, the PBCC Baseball Team is 9-8 and is also looking forward to a great season. Coming off such a successful 1988, the team is very young, with only five seasoned players returning.

Turning to Men's Basketball, Scott Pospichal's team has an overall record of 19-8 and presently stands 5-3 in the Conference. The Pacers Basketball Team recently signed former University of Florida power forward Cesar Portillo to its roster and looks for positive results from the 6'9" standout next season.

Pospichal is happy with his team's performance and is very supportive of the players. "We are very pleased with the progress of our program. Our kids have worked extremely hard both academically and athletically," he said.

Women's Basketball is 7-4 in the Conference for a second place finish. The overall record is 21-6. During the Conference game with Edison on February 14, PBCC's Pam Morrison broke a season high-scoring record with 40 points.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

BOARD TOURS DHCAC

During the February Board Meeting, Mary Orsenigo, Director of the Glades Center, discussed the importance of PBCC to the people of the Glades. In addition, she gave an update of programs and improvements on the Glades Center, including the new CPI Lab and the renovation of the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center. The Trustees also toured the Center.

Last year, the unduplicated headcount of students enrolled at PBCC Glades Center increased 25 percent, and the number of full-time students increased as well. More students from the Clewiston area are attending PBCC.

In other business, Trustees approved Educational Specifications for an Ornamental Horticulture Program Greenhouse on the North Campus and a Student Services Facility on the South Campus.

SKILLS GRANT AWARD

Palm Beach Community College was the recent recipient of a Sunshine State Skills Grant in the amount of $200,000. The grant is for the specific purpose of training Pratt & Whitney personnel for the expansion of their heat treatment facility.

This marks the second year that the Sunshine State Skills Grant for Pratt & Whitney has been awarded to the College. In February of 1988, the College was awarded $45,448 to support a joint effort with P & W to train employees in the expansion of their rocket engine business.

In a recent letter to Executive Director of the Community College System Clark Maxwell, Pratt & Whitney President William Missimer pointed to the initial success of the program and lauded the cooperative efforts between education, business and industry.

The PBCC "12 o'clock" and "Tues Nite" Jazz Ensembles were featured at the Big Band Jazz Festival held in the Duncan Theatre, February 21-22. Eleven area high school jazz bands also participated in the annual event which is sponsored by the PBCC Music Department.

PBCC GLADES AWARDED GRANT

Palm Beach Community College Glades Center was awarded a federal grant in the amount of $25,000 to assist in the re-entry of economically-disadvantaged drop-outs into college vocational progams.

The funds from this grant will be used to target economically-disadvantaged college drop-outs, and will provide services needed to re-enroll these students.

The services will include the identification, location, recruitment, counseling and placement of these students.

Currently, the College is only serving those economically-disadvantaged students who are enrolled. The funds will allow PBCC Glades to target those who have dropped out, allow College personnel to make visitations, assess the problem and make an effort to re-enroll these students.

For more information, call Freddie Harrell at the Glades Campus, 8168.

GOLDEN THREAD AT DUNCAN

The PBCC Division of Humanities will present two performances of "The Golden Thread" on Saturday, March 11. Ticket prices are $3 and performance times are set for 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Directed by Sunny Meyer, this Japanese-Kabuki style theatre will incorporate the lavish costumes, movement and tradition of the Japanese culture.

Meyer has been studying Kabuki theatre for five years and specializes in Japanese dance and movement.

Designed for a young audience, Meyer recommends the play for families with children in grades 2-6. For more information, call 8141.

The Sunshine State Skills Grant is offered through the PBCC Center for Business and Industry. The College provides specialized training programs for employees of new, expanding, or diversifying businesses in an effort to stimulate economic growth in the community.

Grant funds are made available through PBCC and the Florida Sunshine State Skills Program. Application for grant funds is through a competitive process which requires design of a training program to meet specific needs for a targeted employer.

CENTRAL DECA WINNERS

Delta Epsilon Chi, the PBCC Chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA), attended the 24th Career Development Conference held February 16-19 in Destin.

All of the PBCC members who attended the conference placed in their respective category, and will be traveling to the National Conference in Orlando, April 16-20.

SGA SEEKS NOMINEES

The PBCC Student Government Association (SGA) is currently seeking nominees for the "Bob Graham Distinguished Service Award," sponsored by the Florida Junior Colleges Student Government Association.

Each student governance group participating in FJCSGA can nominate one student, one employee, and one college trustee or community supporter. Nominations will be reviewed by a panel of judges, including members of the FJCSGA Executive Board.

The selection committee will base the awards solely on the submitted nomination forms. They are looking for a student, employee, college trustee or community supporter who truly typifies the spirit of the community college.

If you are interested in submitting a nominee, please contact Norma Walter, SGA Advisor, in the SAC Lounge or call 8151. The deadline for submission is March 10.

THE CAMBRIDGE EXPERIENCE

For the fifth consecutive year, PBCC faculty and students will have the opportunity to experience the sights and sounds of England while attending the University of Cambridge.

Florida college credit can be earned in many subjects, including English, art and architecture, literature and drama, British society and politics, economics, international relations, music and art history.

Students will attend lectures given by Cambridge faculty. Students will also meet weekly with an advisor from a Florida college who will guide them in preparing a final essay for each course taken.

The essays will be evaluated and grades will be forwarded to the students' colleges or universities to apply toward general education or major course requirements.

Students will have many activities from which to choose during their free time. There will be historic tours, concerts, plays, trips to London, plus several other choices.

The cost is approximately $2,500, and includes dormitory housing, breakfast and dinner. For more information, please call Dr. Hugh Albee at 8144 or 8142.

PBCC Trustee Bettye King and other panelists are shown during the panel discussion, "Unity Beyond the Color Line," which was part of an event at North Campus in honor of Black History Month.

FIRST DRAMA AT SOUTH

Palm Beach Community College South Campus will present Kaufman and Hart's "You Can't Take It With You," April 7-8 at the Henderson University School Theatre in Boca Raton.

Performance times will be 8 p.m., and ticket prices are $3 in advance and $4 at the door.

Directed by PBCC Communications faculty member Phil Anderson, this marks the first drama production in South Campus history. Anderson teaches Drama and English at South, and has worked diligently to assemble the cast of 19 characters and 30 crew members.

The cast has been in rehearsal since February, and Anderson is pleased with their progress. "The play is starting to shape up nicely," Anderson said. "I'm certain the audiences will enjoy the show as much as we've enjoyed putting it together."

The Henderson University School Theatre has a limited seating capacity of 180 people, so patrons are encouraged to purchase their tickets as early as possible. For more information, call the South Campus Division Chair Office, 6-2220.

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

The Palm Beach Community College Division of Continuing Education will hold its 8th Annual International Festival on Saturday, April 8 and Sunday, April 9 at the Central Campus. The Festival will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and admission is free.

As in past years, the accent will be on food, fun, entertainment, and education. The event, which attracts thousands annually, will feature a wide variety of ethnic foods for sale, a display of native arts and crafts, and a horse show. In addition, several groups will offer music and folk dancing, which will be performed in colorful, native costumes.

The International Festival is sponsored by the Palm Beach Community College Center for Multicultural Affairs and will benefit the Scholarship Fund of the PBCC Division of Continuing Education Center for Multicultural Affairs.

For more information, please call 8013.

OSSIE DAVIS VISITS PBCC

Character actor Ossie Davis, who co-stars with Burt Reynolds on the highly-acclaimed B.L. Stryker series, gave a workshop for Palm Beach Community College students and faculty on Tuesday, March 7 at the Duncan Theatre Second Stage.

Speaking, singing, and reading poetry before a capacity crowd, the 71-year-old actor-writer concluded his hour-long program by fielding questions from the audience and media after discussing his experiences in the entertainment industry.

Davis has appeared in such productions as "A Raisin in the Sun," "I'm Not Rappaport," and the television miniseries, "Roots: The Next Generation."

Tapped for the role of Oz Jackson in B.L. Stryker, Davis pointed out that this was not his first experience working with series star, Burt Reynolds. Davis reprised his role in "I'm Not Rappaport," at the Burt Reynolds Jupiter Theatre in 1988.

Reynolds, a former PBCC student, established the Burt Reynolds Jupiter Theatre, located in Jupiter.

PRE CLAST TEST

Palm Beach Community College is once again offering a Pre-CLAST Assessment Test (PCAT) to students with less than 54 semester hours of credit towards an AA Degree.

It is hoped that through taking the PCAT, students will be better prepared to pass the CLAST the first take they take it.

The PCAT will be offered on Saturday, April 8 at 8 a.m. on the Central and Glades Campuses. It will follow as closely as possible the same procedures as CLAST.

Registration for the PCAT will continue through April 5 in the Testing Center and in the Guidance Office of the Glades Campus. There is a $5 registration fee to help cover administrative costs.

For further information, contact Gwen Ferguson in the Testing Center, 8053.

NATIONAL BOOK WEEK

National Library Week is set for April 9-15. In recognition of this event, all PBCC students and staff members are invited to take part in a paperback book exchange.

To participate, please bring one or two paperback books, in good condition, to the Second Floor Library at Central and help yourself to an equal number of books.

For more information, please call Carole Blum at 8115.

Davis praised Reynolds for "building a theatre that allows young people to understand the importance of actual stage experience and allow regional theatre to grow and turn out accomplished actors."

Candid in telling the audience that the acting profession is not an easy way in which to earn a steady income, Davis stressed that actors must establish their own identity in order to keep working.

"As actors, you will have to find yourself. . . develop some way of defining who you are. You must make your own contribution to whatever role you play," Davis said.

Davis was greeted by Dr. Eissey who arranged for Davis' visit to the College, to the delight of both students and faculty.

CLAST APPOINTMENT

Eileen B. Lintz, Program Manager for the CPI Lab at Central, has been appointed to the 1989 Advisory Committee for the College Level Academic Skills Test (CLAST). Dr. Patricia Dyer recommended Lintz for the appointment.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 8 March 20, 1989

PBCC HOSTS WALK AMERICA

Dr. Eissey spoke at the Executive Breakfast for Walk America in January. He is pictured above with the 1989 March of Dimes Poster Child, Keri Keller, who is five years old and lives in Lake Worth.

PBCC has supported the event for the past three years by hosting the Walk. This year, the Walk will take place on Saturday, April 1 beginning at 9 a.m. Registration is scheduled for 7:30-9 a.m. in the Student Activities Center at PBCC Central.

The Walk is 20 kilometers (12 miles), and is routed around John Prince Park. At the end of the Walk, a picnic lunch and entertainment are planned.

There is no fee, but anyone who wishes to participate can obtain a sponsor form in the SAC Lounge. Volunteers are also needed. Proceeds will benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation. For more information, call 684-0102.

There will be no Monday Report on Mar. 27 due to the Easter Holiday.

TRUSTEES MEET AT CENTRAL

At the Trustees Meeting held Wednesday, March 15, several presentations were made to the Board.

Susan Thompson, Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) student advisor, presented awards results from the recent state convention. PBCC students won 11 of the total 14 available DECA awards at the convention. The students will be competing in the national convention this spring.

Jack Fayssoux, Associate Professor of Chemistry, and Fred Van Dusen, Instructor in Criminal Justice, gave the Board a brief review of their experiences in the Faculty to Industry program. The program allows faculty members to work with the business community to research the current developments in their field.

Following the regular Board Meeting, an announcement regarding the status of the Kravis Center for the Performing Arts was made by Dr. Eissey to the Trustees. "Attorneys from both the Arts Council and the College are working together to develop a contract with Blount Construction which will be acceptable to all parties," Eissey said.

He added that when such a contract is completed and ready for the Board's review, a special meeting will be called.

STUDENT ART SHOW

Palm Beach Community College Division of Humanities will present a Student Art Show April 4 through May 1 at the Humanities Gallery on Central Campus.

Exhibit times are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The student art exhibit will represent such disciplines as painting, interior design, graphic and fine arts, and ceramics.

The show has been divided into two showings in order that all qualified students have the opportunity to display their works. For more information, call 8142.

MONDAY REPORT:

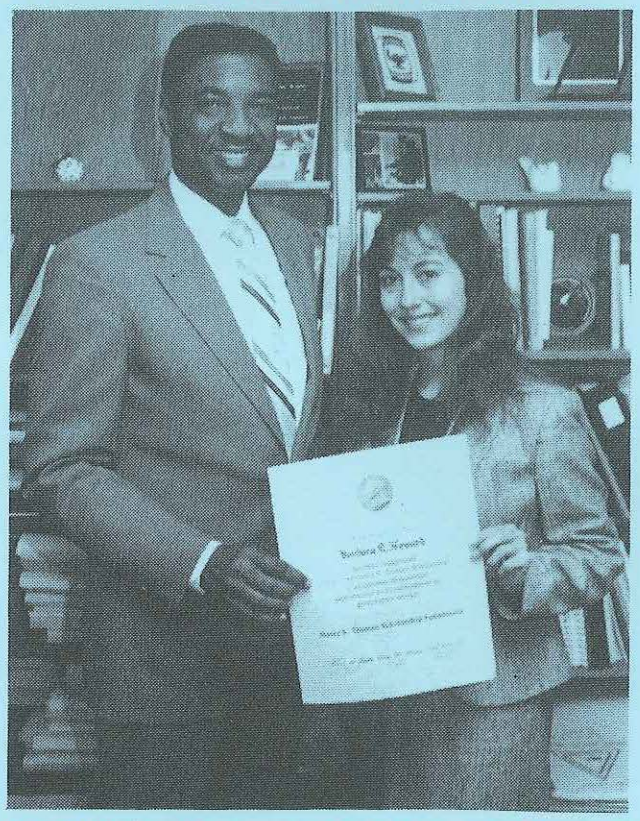
TRUMAN SCHOLAR NOMINEE



Dr. Melvin Haynes, PBCC Vice President of Student Affairs, is shown above with Harry S. Truman Scholarship Nominee Barbara Howard.

PBCC sophomore Barbara Howard was selected as the singular nominee for the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Award.

The scholarship, named in honor of the 33rd President of the United States, is awarded on the basis of merit to students who will become college juniors in the forthcoming academic year and who have outstanding potential for leadership in any phase of government.

Howard is currently enrolled and will be graduating in the spring. She has a 3.6 GPA, is a member of the Honor Society and is involved with the Children's Abuse Center.

In addition to her academic qualifications, Howard was required to answer three detailed questions and write an extensive essay. She chose the timely topic of "Ethics."

The winners of the scholarships will be announced in late April.

KRAVIS CENTER SUPPORT

Last Wednesday, elected officials and community leaders gathered at the proposed PBCC location for the Kravis Center for the Performing Arts to show their support.

Edward M. Eissey, PBCC President, greeted the group which was organized by Ron Exline, Mayor of Lake Worth. State Representative Frank Messersmith was also present.

In comments made by Eissey, media representatives were told that PBCC is ready to proceed with construction of the Center.

The College and the Board Members of the Performing Arts Center signed an agreement on March 20 which finalized a new working arrangement that meets all state rules and regulations for construction of the facility. In addition, all financial arrangements are in order.

Locating the Center on the PBCC Campus offers a multitude of advantages including $10 million in State PECO funds.

The site, consisting of 17 unobstructed acres on beautiful Lake Osborne, is surrounded by an area which is clean and absent of housing.

Roads around the area are uncrowded and provide easy access. Free parking is also ample with 1,000 spaces designated for the Center. The architectural plans were designed for the Palm Beach Community College site.

PBCC also provides the Duncan Theatre as a supplement for rehearsal space. Student musicians, singers, set designers, and costume designers are available on site.

A $750,000 cultural facilities grant is also ready to be approved by the Legislature and could be spent in 1989-90 if the Kravis Center for the Performing Arts is built on the PBCC site.

In summarizing the benefits, Eissey said, "We are very pleased with what we are offering the Center. It is smart that they are looking at all their options, but we believe they will decide that PBCC is the best location."

Annual Physical Inventory is April 10-May 1. A certified printout copy signed by the division or department manager is due in the Property Records Office, May 1, 4 p.m. Any questions, call Mary Ann Reasner, 8148.

DRUG FREE WORKPLACE ACT

On March 18, 1989, a new federal law becomes effective which requires employers who receive federal grants, or contracts exceeding $25,000, to maintain a "drug-free workplace."

While this law specifically covers personnel employed with grant funds, the College supports the concept for all College staff. In the future, the College will certify in writing to appropriate funding sources that it will provide a drug-free workplace by:

1. Notifying employees that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession and use of a controlled substance in the workplace is a violation of the College's published "Employee Conduct" and may also violate State Board of Education Rules. Disciplinary action, up to and including termination, may be taken for such violations. Under the terms of employment, covered employees must abide by these conditions, and report to the employer any conviction under a criminal drug statute for conduct in the workplace no longer than five days after the conviction.

2. Notifying employees of their coverage under this law and the consequences of illegal drug-related acts.

3. Establishing a drug-free awareness program informing employees of the availability of internal or external instruction or counseling services which identify the dangers of drug use and abuse in the workplace, and may offer rehabilitation as a possible option in lieu of disciplinary action.

4. Notifying the granting or contracting agency within 10 days after receiving notice from an employee, or other source, of an employee's criminal statute conviction in the workplace.

The College is committed to make a "good faith effort" to comply with this law.

FAU PROGRESS AT NORTH

Dr. William Hullihan, Director of the Centers and Off-Campus Extensions of Florida Atlantic University, announced that its 45th Street location was recently sold. An architectural firm has been chosen to design the North Center facility of the University which will be located on the North Campus of Palm Beach Community College.

"I believe it will be between 12-to-14 months before the architectural drawings are completed, received, approved and construction will begin. We are looking at a time frame that may put FAU in operation at the new building by the 1992-93 academic year," he said.

Currently, FAU holds a few classes at the North Campus of PBCC, and additional courses are offered at the Palm Beach Gardens High School location.

Upper division courses in three undergraduate degree programs, Nursing, Elementary Education and General Management, are available through FAU at the northern Palm Beach County locations.

FAU also offers graduate degree programs in Educational Leadership and an MBA program. A graduate-level certificate program in public administration is also offered as well as many elective courses. Students may take electives from the FAU College of Business and Public Administration, Education, Engineering, Humanities, Science, and Social Science.

For further information about programs and services available at the FAU North Center location, please call the offices at 627-0705, 627-0706, or write to: Florida Atlantic University-Palm Beach North Center, 3160 PGA Boulevard, Palm Beach Gardens, FL 33410.

Annual Physical Inventory begins today, April 10 and continues through May 1 as required by Florida Statute. Two copies of the inventory printout will go to each division and department. A certified copy signed by the division or department manager is due in the Property Records Office by 4 p.m. on May 1. Please call extension 8148 if you find an item in your area that is not on your printout.

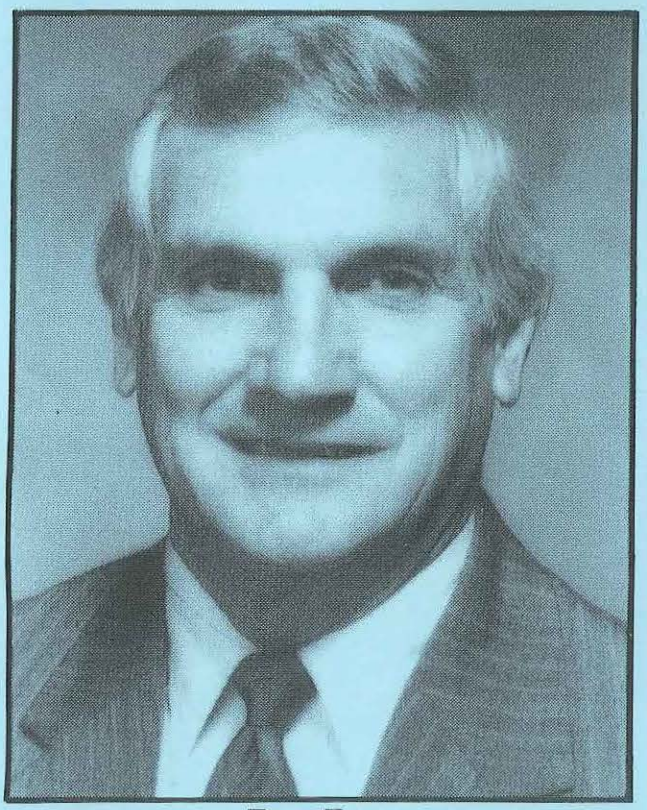
PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 11 April 17, 1989

TATE WINS REGIONAL AWARD



Tony Tate

Tony Tate, Palm Beach Community College Vice President of Administration and Business Affairs, has been awarded the Region 12 (Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and Puerto Rico) Outstanding Business Officer Award.

The award was presented by the National Council of Community College Business Officials (NCCCBO) at the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC) National Conference which was held March 30.

Nominations for the award were made by members of NCCCBO, which is an affiliate of AACJC.

Criteria for selection focuses on the nominee's outstanding leadership and effectiveness as a Community College Business Officer.

Robert Jensen, Chairperson of the NCCCBO Awards Committee, said, "This award is very special as it provides recognition by one's peers."

HAND LEADERSHIP AWARD

The Board of Directors of the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) has announced that Palm Beach Community College Trustee Frances R. "Dolly" Hand is the winner of the 1989 Southern Regional Trustee Leadership Award.

Each year, ACCT presents the leadership award in each of its five regions to a trustee who demonstrates exemplary leadership on behalf of a two-year postsecondary institution and the community. A national winner is selected from the five regional winners.

Criteria for selection focuses on demonstrated leadership on the College's Board of Trustees, development of innovative programs, service on special committees, involvement with legislation, participation in professional associations, and interaction with the community.

Hand has been a member of the Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees since 1973. She served in a leadership position for the Board as Chair from 1976-1978 and as Vice Chair since 1980.

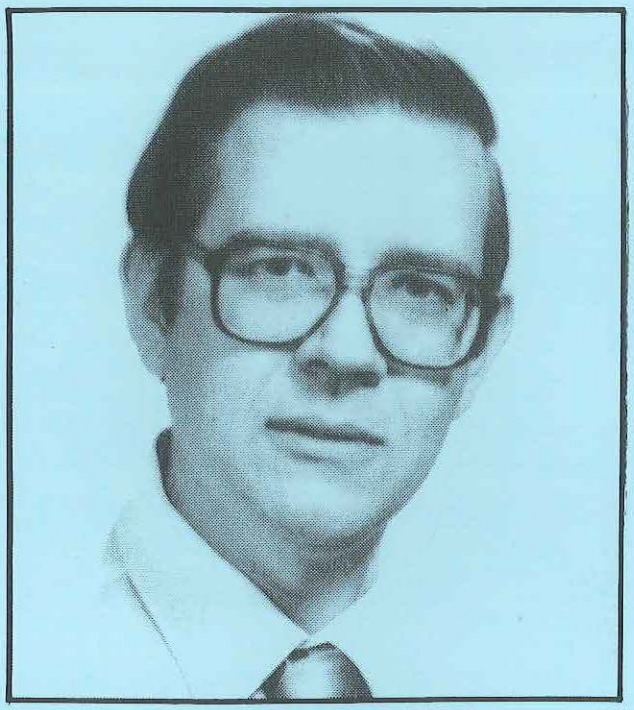
HAMLIN RECEIVES AWARD



Allen C. Hamlin

PBCC Mathematics Instructor Allen C. Hamlin was recently selected for the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) Regional Faculty Member Award for 1989.

Hamlin, a 1969 graduate of PBCC, was selected for the award based on his ability to illustrate complex subject matter in ways that interest and excite his students. He has been teaching at PBCC Central for 12 years and serves as program leader, and as faculty advisor for Central Campus Phi Theta Kappa.

In addition, Hamlin recruits students at area high schools, and serves as an advisor to the Cities in Schools Program. He also serves on many interorganizational committees and is an active member of several professional associations.

PBCC JAZZ CONCERT

Palm Beach Community College Division of Humanities will present a concert featuring the 17-piece "Tuesday Nite" Jazz Ensemble on Thursday, April 27 at the Duncan Theatre.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m., and admission is $5.

The "Tuesday Nite" Jazz Ensemble is directed by Sy Pryweller and will be performing musical favorites including a medley from "West Side Story."

Also performing will be the Jazz Trombone Ensemble II directed by Art Sares. For further information, contact the PBCC Music Department at 8142 or the Box Office at 8141.

PTK CONVENTION

Approximately 50 PBCC students and three faculty members (Idell McLaughlin-North, Beverly Raznoff-South, and Allen Hamlin-Central) attended the 71st Phi Theta Kappa National Convention in Atlanta in March.

The South Campus Chapter of PTK (Alpha Delta Iota) received the national service award and faculty advisor Beverly Raznoff received the Fred Baker Award. She will be flown to Canada for eight days of workshops and seminars regarding the PTK organization and the honor study program.

Former PBCC student, Beachcomber Editor and Delta Omicron Chapter President Ron Dupont was named to the PTK Alumni Hall of Honor.

Dr. Jack Guistewhite was named the first PTK Alumni Coordinator Emeritus.

PHI BETA LAMBDA FINALS

At the Phi Beta Lambda State Competition held in Orlando, March 16-18, PBCC North student, Susan Joynes placed first in Ms. Future Business Executive.

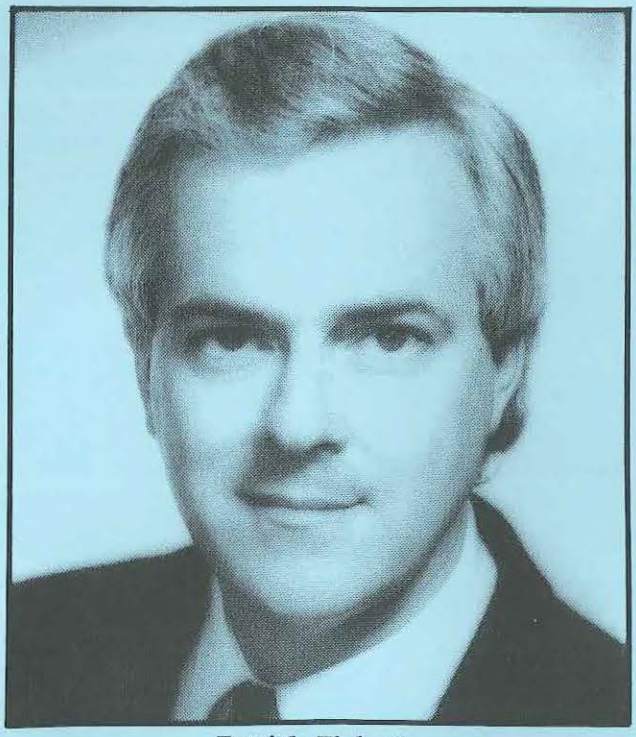
Ron Gottlieb placed second in Business Law, Fourth in Economics and Business Principles and fifth in Mr. Future Business Executive; and David Mrus placed third in Job Interview.

Joynes and Gottlieb will be competing at the National Competition, July 9-12, in Orlando. Joan Holloway and Barbara Scheffer are the Palm Beach Community College North Phi Beta Lambda faculty advisors.

ROY BELL HONORED

All staff and faculty are invited to attend the Roy E. Bell Dock Dedication Ceremony to be held on April 20 at 10 a.m. at the dock located on the east side of the Central Campus at the water's edge.

NEW RC PROGRAM MANAGER



Patrick Flaherty

Patrick Flaherty has been named Program Manager for Respiratory Care at the North Campus. He previously served as Clinical Director in Respiratory Care at East Tennessee State University.

Flaherty has 10 years of full-time teaching experience and has published a number of articles and illustrations in two Respiratory Therapy trade journals. He has also given several professional presentations and seminars, and he holds the award for Membership Ambassador of the American Association for Respiratory Therapy for 1985, 1986, 1987 and 1988.

Flaherty holds a B.A. in Biology from Olivet College in Olivet, Michigan; a B.S. from the University of Detroit in Respiratory Therapy; and a M.S. in Vocational/Technical Education from the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

BUDGET REDUCTION

The Senate Appropriations Committee has asked all state agencies that receive general revenue appropriations to reduce their respective budgets. The proposed reduction amount for the community college system is $19,344,786.

Each college board of trustees will make specific reductions from the prior year's base revenue. PBCC may be required to cut allocated funds for 1989-90 by 4.23 percent, which is $819,177.

In comparison, Miami-Dade will be required to cut their base budget by 18.27 percent and Broward Community College by 6.69 percent.

As a native of Palm Beach County and an alumnus of Palm Beach Community College, Hand has a special feeling for the needs of the College.

She has been credited as the driving force behind the creation of the PBCC Glades Campus and the Cultural Arts Center in Belle Glade.

Recently, Hand was also awarded the Florida Outstanding Community Education Benefactor Award by the Florida Community Education Foundation.

In addition, she has received numerous other honors including the Distinguished Service Award and the Outstanding Citizen of the Year Award by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

According to PBCC President, Edward M. Eissey, Hand is a truly exceptional individual. "Her dedication to PBCC and the community is unparalleled and her leadership inspires others to also give their very best to the College," Eissey said.

The national winner is selected from the 16 regional winners and will be named in December. A college scholarship will be established in the winner's name.

Tate has been Vice President since 1975. As the result of his strong leadership in the financial area, PBCC has received excellent reports from the state auditors for the past 14 years. He has also served in a variety of instructional and administrative positions during his 31 years with PBCC.

Previously, Tate was appointed to the "Charter" Committee for the establishment of the Florida Junior College Insurance Consortium, the topic of the dissertation prepared for his Ed.D. He also received the Outstanding Alumni Achievement Award from Lock Haven University in Pennsylvania.

Tate is a member and past chairman of the Steering Committee for the State Council of Business Affairs for Community and Junior Colleges. He is also a member of the Florida Association of Community Colleges and serves as a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' accrediting teams each year.

In addition, he has served as a member of the Research Committee for Junior Colleges. His other memberships include the American Association of School Business Officials, the National Association of College and University Business Officers, and the Florida Educational Facilities Planners Association.

ATHLETIC AWARDS BANQUET

The Palm Beach Community College Athletic Department hosted its annual Sports Banquet at the Atlantis Country Club on Monday, April 24.

Designed to honor the achievements of all PBCC athletes, the event was attended by college administrators, faculty, Board of Trustees members, honored students and their families.

College President Edward M. Eissey addressed the group and praised the athletes for their outstanding accomplishments both athletically and scholastically. "I am very impressed with the caliber of athletes we have at PBCC, and I want to thank you for participating in an athletic program that you have helped to make so great."

Students were honored in six sports including Men's and Women's Basketball, Golf, Softball, and Men's and Women's Tennis. Members of the Baseball Team were unable to attend the festivities due to their participation in the Conference Baseball Playoffs.

Scholar Athlete Awards were presented to Softball Most Valuable Player Lisa Meltzer, who presently maintains a 3.5 GPA and plans for a career in Accounting, and Michal Rubner, who carries a 3.7 GPA while playing the number one position on PBCC's Men's Tennis Squad. Rubner plans to attend George Washington University where he will study medicine.

Corporate Sponsor Awards were presented to Steve Moore Chevrolet, Wayne Akers Ford, County Ice, William Theis & Sons, and the Atlantis Country Club for their continued support of the PBCC Athletic Program.

All athletes received first and second year letters, and individual honors were presented to the Most Valuable Player (MVP) in each sport.

David Poteet received the MVP Award in Golf while Lisa Meltzer received MVP for Softball. Women's Basketball standout, Pamela Morrison, was voted MVP honors while the Men's Basketball MVP was Chris Rose.

In Women's Tennis, Team Captain Kristen Wertenberger was awarded the MVP Award, and the Men's Tennis Team's number one player, Michal Rubner, won the MVP accolades for his outstanding season.

APRIL BOARD MEETS AT NORTH

The North Campus Student Art Show Opening was held preceding the Regular PBCC Board of Trustees meeting on April 19. Following a reception, the scheduled meeting and Kravis Center Workshop commenced.

During the Board Meeting, Trustees received an update on North Campus Academic and Student Services programs. Dr. Claudia Chiesi, Dean of Instruction, and Patricia Anderson, Director of Student Affairs, spoke of the effective partnership between the two areas and the positive influence on the students.

The PBCC Men's Tennis Team, who won this year's State Championship, appeared before the Board. The team will compete in the national tournament. In addition, it was announced that Jonathan Klorfein, PBCC's Tennis Coach, received the award for State Coach of the Year for the third consecutive year.

Edward M. Eissey, PBCC President, announced that Board Member Dolly Hand recently was honored with two awards. She was selected as winner of the 1989 Southern Region Trustee Leadership Award by the Association of Community College Trustees and the "Bob Graham" Distinguished Service Award by the Florida Junior Colleges Student Government Association.

Following the Board Meeting, a special workshop was held to discuss the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts. Eissey and the Trustees pledged to continue to support the Center, regardless of location.

Eissey said, "We want to allow the Performing Arts Center Board all the time necessary to make the best decision, and we are absolutely convinced that when they make a decision, it will be a wise one."

He added, "The College is ready to proceed. PBCC has passed all state requirements for the use of the money and all major hurdles are behind us."

HARRY JOHNSTON TO SPEAK

The Honorable Harry Johnston, US Congressman from Florida, will be the featured speaker at PBCC's Commencement Exercises on Friday, May 5, at the Florida Atlantic University Gymnasium. Commencement exercises will begin at 8 p.m.

Johnston will address the 500 degree candidates and their families as well as College administrators, faculty, and friends.

He will speak on career opportunities, the quality of life, and the ability of young people to help curb the growing drug problem in America.

DOLLY HAND HONORED

The Florida Junior Colleges Student Government Association (FJCSGA) has announced that Palm Beach Community College Trustee Frances R. "Dolly" Hand is the winner of the 1989 "Bob Graham" Community College Distinguished Service Award. Hand was one of over 125 nominees from the 28 Florida Community Colleges.

The award was presented to Hand in honor and recognition of her outstanding dedication to the community college system and for the service that she has rendered to Palm Beach Community College. Through her extra efforts, the lives of area residents and PBCC students have been enriched.

The state award is given each year to a community college trustee or community leader for exemplary service to the community college system. The winner must typify the "community college spirit."

Hand has been a member of the Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees since 1973. She served in a leadership position for the Board as Chair from 1976-1978 and as Vice Chair since 1980.

As a native of Palm Beach County and an alumnus of PBCC, Hand has a special feeling for the needs of the College. She has been credited as the driving force behind the creation of the PBCC Glades Campus and the Cultural Arts Center in Belle Glade.

According to Edward M. Eissey, PBCC President, there isn't a single person in Palm Beach County who has done more for community education than Mrs. Hand. He said, "She has given unselfishly of her time and resources to this community and to the State of Florida."

Recently, Hand was also awarded the Southern Regional Trustee Leadership Award by the Association of Community College Trustees as well as the Florida Outstanding Community Education Benefactor Award by the Florida Community Education Foundation.

In addition, she has received numerous other honors including the Distinguished Service Award and the Outstanding Citizen of the Year Award by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

SPRING MUSIC AUDITIONS

Auditions for children between the ages of seven and 14 will be held for the Central Campus Spring Musical Production of "Rags," the week of May 7. The Center for Personalized Instruction (CPI) Award was given to Cynthia Uncapher, and the student newspaper award went to Kris Kemp. SGA Awards were presented to Adrian Hinds, Bernard Buteau, Roger Howzell, Christie Fredrick, Mat Aker, Becky Bramuchi, and Tom Foley.

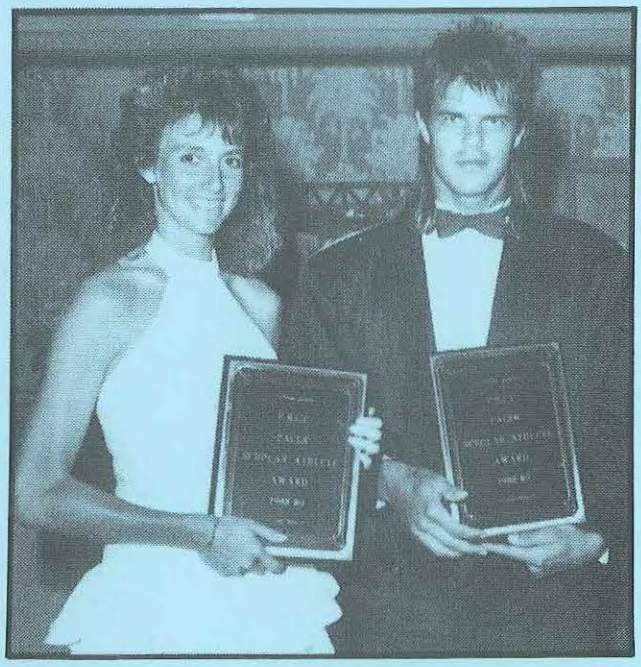
The Men's Tennis Team won the Florida State Championship in the Region Eight National Junior College Athletic Association for the third consecutive year under Coach John Klorfein. Klorfein was recently voted Coach of the Year by the Florida Tennis Coaches Association for his efforts which yielded a men's record of 23-0 and a women's season of 19-6.

The Pacer Cheerleaders were recognized for their support of the Pacer teams and were praised for their ability to motivate both athletes and spectators.

PBCC's Director of Student Activities Hamid Faquir spoke proudly of all the athletes as well as those who helped support the teams throughout the year. "I am proud of you all," he said. "We are looking forward to the future, and wish those students who are graduating the best of luck in their careers."



Scholar Athlete Awards were presented to Lisa Meltzer and Michal Rubner at the Palm Beach Community College Annual Athletics Banquet.

SPRING TERM REGISTRATION

Registration for spring term at Palm Beach Community College is now underway at all campus locations. Students may register through Monday, May 8, and classes begin on Tuesday, May 9.

Please remind all current students to register early for best selection of classes.

For more information, call 8101 or 8174 at the Central Campus, 6-2211 at the South, 8160 at the Glades, or extension 206 at the North.

MEDICARE SURTAX

Under a new tax law, persons age 65 and older who are eligible for medicare for more than six months in 1989 will have an obligation to pay an income tax surcharge. This new tax, which is about 15 percent of income taxes, will result in additional taxes of up to $800 per year for each medicare eligible person.

Normally, personnel who have less than 90 percent of their total income taxes deducted are subject to penalty from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). An IRS representative recently informed Human Resources that there would be no such penalty if the reduced withholding was solely the result of the medicare surtax.

However, those personnel who are eligible for medicare may wish to increase their withholding tax to avoid paying the additional taxes when individual tax forms are filed for the 1989 calendar year.

Please contact the Office of Human Resources, 8018, for further information on the Medicare Surtax.

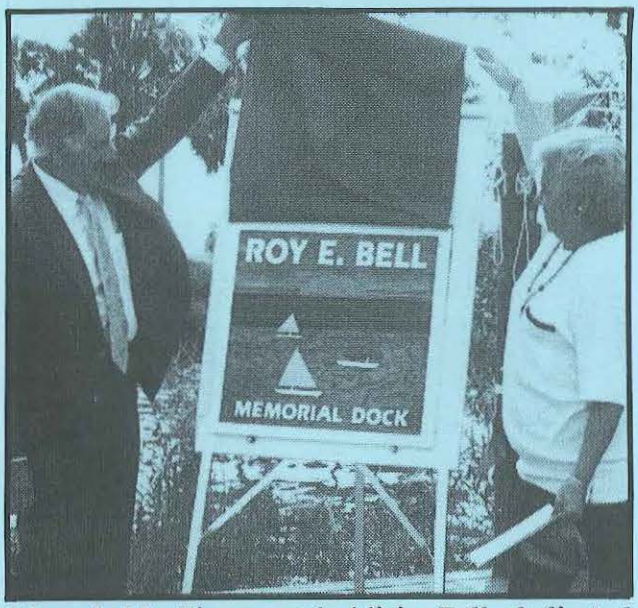
STUDENT FASHION SHOW

The PBCC Central Campus Fashion Association will present its annual judged fashion show on Thursday, May 4 at the Duncan Theatre. Show time is 7:30 p.m., and admission is free.

"International Colours" is the theme for this year's show. Local designers, fashion writers, and fashion merchandisers from leading department stores will serve as judges.

Under the guidance of Instructor Johanna Prinz, original student fashions will be shown. An open reception will follow the awards presentations. For more information, call 8126.



Edward M. Eissey and Alicia Bell dedicated the Roy E. Bell Memorial Dock on April 20.

DAYS OF REMEMBRANCE

Palm Beach Community College will host a series of activities in observance of "Days of Remembrance" at the Central Campus Library on Monday, May 1.

"Days of Remembrance" recognizes victims of the Holocaust and is observed worldwide. The following is a listing of activities:

May 1-31 - Donated by B'nai B'rith, "Days of Remembrance" is a collection of books commemorating the victims of the Holocaust. The collection will be displayed on the Central Campus, Second Floor Gallery, Monday-Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

May 2 - "Days of Remembrance" continues with a lecture by famed WWII and Holocaust photographer Howard Cwick who will discuss combat-savaged Europe and the Buchenwald Concentration Camp during the final days of WWII. Cwick's photographs will be available for viewing, and he will speak at 1 p.m. in the Central Campus, Second Floor Gallery.

May 2 - "Genocide," the Academy Award-winning feature-length documentary, will conclude the activities. Narrated by Orson Welles, the film also features readings from Elizabeth Taylor. It will be presented at the Central Campus Library, AV Lab, First Floor, at 2 p.m.

Admission to all events is free. For more information, please call 8114.

NORTH GOLF TOURNAMENT

The PBCC North Foundation's Seventh Annual Golf Tournament was held Monday, April 24, at the Cypress Links Golf Course in Jupiter.

The event is sponsored each year by the PBCC Foundation to benefit North Campus scholarship and academic enhancement funds. This year's tournament raised over $9,000.

The tournament was chaired by R. Michael Caldwell, the PBCC Foundation Board of Directors, and members of the North Campus Committee for the Foundation.

The College wishes to express their thanks to Punch Martyn and Joe Webster for allowing use of the Cypress Links Course and to Cy Smith and Kimberly Desjarlais of the John D. and Catherine MacArthur Foundation for providing the well-stocked goodie bags.

Teams were divided into three flights, and there were prizes given for first, second, and third place finishes in each group. Awards were presented at a dinner reception following the event. The "Closest to the Pin Award" was won by Dick Aldred and "Longest Drive" went to Larry McGarrahan. Aldred and McGarrahan each received cellular phones as prizes.

PEACE BREAKFAST

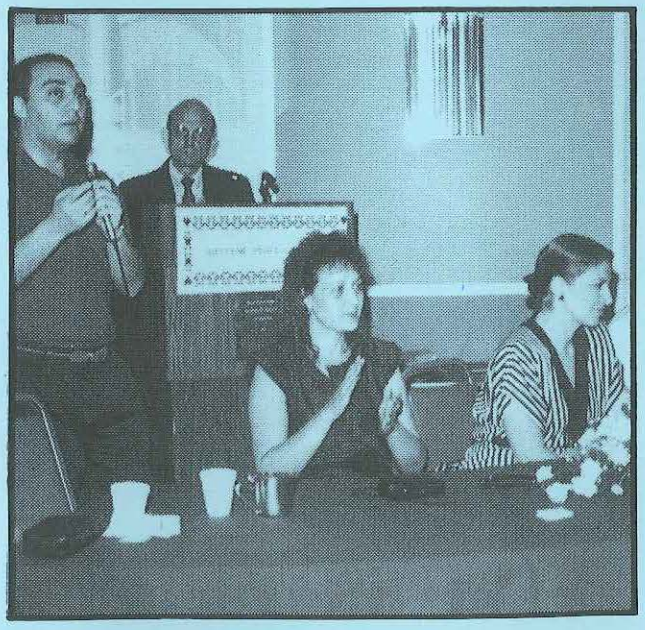
Social Science faculty member Richard Yinger recently coordinated a "Peace Breakfast" between participants of the Soviet Georgia Peace Committee and PBCC administrators, faculty, and students. Community residents were also in attendance at this lively question-and-answer forum which was held in the President's Dining Room.

College President Edward M. Eissey welcomed the capacity crowd and, in an effort to extend his own form of "glastnost," spoke to the Peace Committee in the Russian language. "People are people no matter what country in which they live," Eissey said. "Those of us who are peace loving should do whatever is necessary to maintain or bring peace to the world...and one way to do that is to get to know each other better."

Yinger stated that this event was sponsored in the hope of strengthening ties between the Soviet Union and the United States. "This is a human effort," Yinger said. "We are trying to take peace out of the abstract and make it a reality."

The Peace Committee is visiting various schools, hospitals, and local organizations to clarify some of the misconceptions held of life in the Soviet Union.

Peace Committee member Maia Jibladze spoke warmly of her trip to the United States, and pointed out that this was not an official visit on behalf of the Soviet Government, but it did have Moscow's approval. "We are all neighbors," she said, "We must learn to cooperate and help each other. "Yours is a beautiful country, and I hope one day that you will be able to visit mine."



Richard Yinger is shown at the "Peace Breakfast" with the Tbilisi, Georgia, USSR Peace Committee during the discussion.

At 1:30 p.m., a seminar entitled "A Novel Setting" will be moderated by Dr. James Hall of FIU. Helpful hints will be suggested for writers who use fictional settings to develop plots and characters.

At 4:00 p.m., a lecture will be given on the futuristic environments used by classical science fiction writers of the past.

At 7:00 p.m., PBCC's Stephen Owens will moderate a discussion on Stephen Hawking's landmark book, A Brief History of Time.

Thursday, May 25, Admiral's Cove Clubhouse, AIA, Jupiter

At 10:30 a.m., an Author's Reception will be held. The public will be invited to meet many local authors, purchase books and ask questions.

At 12:00 p.m., an Author's Luncheon will be held in honor of 20 local authors to mark the highlight of the forum. Following the meal, Patrick Smith, author of six novels, will speak on his Florida historical novel, A Land Remembered.

For ticket information, call the North Campus LLRC at 622-2440, or the Central Campus LLRC at 8114.

SUNBANK SUPPORTS SCHOLARS

Sunbank/South Florida, N.A. has pledged $45,000 over three years to the "Dollars for Scholars" program at PBCC. Daniel S. Goodrum, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Sunbank, presented the bank's 1989 donation to former Dean Paul Glynn, chairman of the College's Scholarship Committee, and Max Davis, president of the Alumni Association.

The scholarship program enables teachers to employ academically-qualified students with financial need in a variety of on-campus jobs.

"We are particularly pleased that this program helps students get hands-on training in their fields of interest," said Goodrum. "We hope that many of them will reinvest their skills in our community."

The state matches every $10 donation from the community with $6 from the Academic Improvement Fund. The first Sunbank Dollars for Scholars scholarships will be awarded in July of 1989.

"This program is mutually beneficial to the college and the students," says Glynn, who established the program 25 years ago.

ROUNDUP HONORS RETIREES

Approximately 450 full-time faculty and classified staff gathered for the annual end-of-year Roundup Barbecue held in the Central Campus Gymnasium on May 5.

Following the meal, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey opened the program by thanking Munro Gaultney for supervising the preparation and service of the luncheon.

In his opening comments, Eissey gave a status report on the Kravis Center.

As for the legislative outlook for next year, a five percent budget cut, or a reduction of $872,000 in operating costs for PBCC, is expected.

Eissey also said, "I am especially proud of all that the College has accomplished in the past year. Next week, I will be working in Tallahassee on behalf of our proposed increases in program offerings, salaries, and other needs."

He also announced that the South Center has been officially designated as a Campus by the State Board of Community Colleges.

Joe Schneider, Director of Human Resources, joined Eissey to formally recognize 62 employees with Length of Service Awards and to honor retirees.

Five-year Service Awards were given to John Bonelli, George Castilow, Diane Cameron, Joanne Connolly, David Duncan, Margaret Farrell, Allan Gerson, Frederick Lane, and William Moon.

Also recognized for five years of service were Daniel Morack, Jeffrey Palmer, Lois Perkins, Shirley Sullivan, Anatole Turecki, Juan Valencia, Donald Voils, Robert Waggoner, and Reginald Williams.

A total of 21 employees were given Ten Year Recognition Awards. Those honored included Rene Collins, Geraldine Corner, Gayle Delorme, Susie Eldittion, Irving Gerstein, Patricia Greene, Gloria Hill, Steven Howard, James Hutchins, John Kelly, Mary Lampinen, Ronald Long, Abdon Lore, Jeanne Milesend, Marie Reddy, and Barbara Sabonis-Chafe.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Amidst traditional pomp and circumstance, over 2,000 people attended the PBCC Winter Commencement held May 5 at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey welcomed the 500 degree candidates, College administrators, faculty, Board of Trustees Members, honored guests, family, and friends by acknowledging the commitment and dedication required to earn a college degree on the part of both the students and their families.

Eissey further commended the "dedicated faculty who have given of themselves to these students in an unselfish and untiring manner," and recognized the Board of Trustees for their efforts in "providing facilities and means for students to receive the best education possible."

U.S. Congressman Harry Johnston delivered the commencement address. He encouraged the graduates to take their time in making decisions that would "possibly impact their lives for years to come." He challenged the graduates to "enjoy life as it is....wait a while before you embark on marriage....or selecting a career if you have no definite plans, and take the time to experience the wonders of the universe."

Before presenting the graduates with their diplomas, Eissey congratulated the students for their achievements at PBCC and told them to remember that they were "an integral part of this College."

Proud fathers John Townsend, John Schmiederer and Larry Smith presented diplomas to their children. John Arthur Townsend, Michael Wayne Schmiederer, and Joy Kristen Smith beamed as they came face-to-face with their fathers in full academic regalia. Sonny Young's son, James Remer Young, also graduated this term.

Graduate scholarships were presented in 26 categories in recognition of outstanding student achievement. The following students were honored with awards:

The Student Scholar recipient was Beth Corriveau for Sports Sciences/Education.

Mary A. Walsh, Gary Williams, Linda Withrow and Remer Young were also honored with Ten Year Recognition Awards.

Fifteen-year employees Richard Bailey, Stanley Benn, Mary Cannon, Janet Charles, Robert Clapsaddle, Madlyn Hebert, Evelyn Merkle, Callie Owens, Mary Ann Reasner, Salle Thornton, Richard Yinger and Alice Zacherl were recognized.

Length of Service Awards for 20 years were presented to John Adams, Patrick Archer, Jean D'Angio, Joseph Macy, Julio Rive, Jeanette Sanders, and Kittie Wilson.

Jack Fayssoux, Seymour Pryweller, and John B. Rogers were each honored for their 25 years of service.

The 30-year award was presented to Sue Frazier.

Eissey asked Watson B. Duncan III, the employee with the longest length of service, and Carol Wright, the newest employee, to come forward for a photograph.

Those retiring this year include Richard Bailey, Robert Batson, Stanley Benn, H. Payge Dampier, Ann Dorosh, Robert Garvey, John Given, Irving Gross, Otis Harvey, Joan Jones, Betsy Meyers, Rhea Mooney, Mary Orsenigo, Marilyn Vazquez, and Alice Zacherl.

HEALTH FAIR

The Student Health Clinic will cosponsor the "Partners in Health" Fair on Wednesday, May 24 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Student Activities Center on Central Campus.

The following agencies are scheduled to participate: American Heart Association; Cancer Society; Kidney Association; Lighthouse for the Blind; Lung Association; Mental Health Association; and the PBCC Student Health Clinic.

The Health Fair is open to the general public. For more information, please call Mary Cannon, College Nurse, at 8066.

SPRUCING UP CENTRAL CAMPUS

Bruce Boden and the groundskeeping crew have been busy at work in recent weeks adding some extra special landscaping touches to the Central Campus.

Among the projects they have recently undertaken are the addition of a patio and garden area near the Administration and Data Processing Buildings. The crew also plans to install a table in the patio area for the enjoyment of staff and students.

In addition to the newly-designed garden area, the groundskeeping team has also installed planter boxes in several other areas.

NORTH CAMPUS LLRC

The Palm Beach Community College North Campus Library Learning Resource Center (LLRC) was dedicated in May of 1985 and since that time, has evolved into a dynamic and comprehensive educational facility.

Under the direction of Alice Zacherl, the LLRC boasts over 18,000 volumes, 240 periodical titles, and access to Southeastern Florida Library Information Network (SEFLIN) and Newsbank data systems. These informational indexes allow students to utilize resources from statewide data bases and tap informational sources not contained in the PBCC inventory.

Zacherl points out that serving the PBCC student population and the public is a cooperative effort on the part of the staff. "We are here to serve the students' needs in the best manner possible," she said.

Presently, efforts are underway to install a Law Library in the LLRC that will benefit PBCC's Paralegal students as well as others wishing to utilize these resources. Nearly 3,000 volumes have already been collected for this important undertaking. Additionally, the North Campus LLRC houses a complete collection of National Geographic magazines dating back to 1924.

The James Michener collection is also located in the LLRC and was personally dedicated by the author during a recent visit to the College. The collection includes Centennial, Hawaii, South Pacific, and Texas.

The LLRC is also home to a first edition of Heidi and an autographed volume of Russell Conwell's Acres of Diamonds. The center's rarest book is a copy of Contemplations Moral and Divine--In Two Parts, written by Sir Matthew Hall and printed in 1689.

The American Society for Quality Control of Greater Palm Beach County also maintains 75 titles in the LLRC which provide technical and specialized data utilized by local engineers and staff from Pratt & Whitney.

The North Campus Audio-Visual services are contained in the LLRC as well. These facilities include a complete television studio, cameras, and audio equipment. The Audio-Visual Department is presently producing instructional videos for the LLRC which will aid students in taking advantage of the services offered there.

Zacherl is enthusiastic about the future growth of the North Campus LLRC, and she is pleased by the openess of all who use it.

"This is not a collection that is closed or guarded, but it is one to be used and appreciated," she said.

FAST BREAK

Making a successful transition from high school to college is the focus of the Palm Beach Community College "Fast Break" program for minority high school students. Registration for the program is now underway.

"Fast Break," which begins on June 22, will be offered at the four PBCC campuses located in Lake Worth, Palm Beach Gardens, Boca Raton, and Belle Glade.

The 1989 "Fast Break" program is funded through PBCC Staff and Program Development Funds; donations by two major Palm Beach County employers, Southern Bell and Pratt and Whitney; and a Florida Academic Improvement Trust Fund grant.

Bill Burson, Southern Bell Regional Director, said, "Sometimes coming out of the starting gate first can give students the extra advantage that will guarantee the successful completion of their academic careers. We feel that "Fast Break" is an excellent opportunity for minority students with the potential for college. The program opens the door for a successful college experience."

Bill Howden, Pratt and Whitney Vice President of Community and Government Relations, sees "Fast Break" as an important partner of the "Cities In Schools," drop-out prevention program. Qualified high school seniors in the "Cities In Schools," program are encouraged to enroll in "Fast Break." In addition, they are eligible for several PBCC scholarships that are given through the "Fast Break" program.

Burson and Howden are enthusiastic about the linkage between "Cities In Schools" and "Fast Break." They encourage other businesses and industries to join them in supporting these important programs.

In endorsing the two programs, Howden said, "Unfortunately, it will take more than a high school education to qualify for high-tech jobs. Anytime we can increase the academic success of a student, it is in the best interests of Pratt and Whitney and the community as a whole."

Melvin Haynes, Jr., PBCC Vice President of Student Services, said, "Research has shown that the freshman year is the most difficult period of adjustment for all college students. In many cases, minority students have more adjustment problems than other students."

Debra McCray, Coordinator of PBCC's "Fast Break" program said, "Fast Break" is a positive approach to the problem of student adjustment. Minority students gain survival skills and are assigned a mentor to help them in facing the challenges of college life."

PACERS POST WINNING YEAR

Palm Beach Community College posted winning seasons in all seven sports represented by PBCC in Conference Play during 1988-89.

The Men's Tennis Team was the big winner this year scoring an unprecedented 23-0 season and earning their third consecutive Florida State Championship in Region Eight National Junior College Athletic Association play.

Led by Athlete Scholar and Men's Tennis Most Valuable Player (MVP) Michal Rubner, the Men's squad will compete for the National title May 21-28 in Tyler, Texas.

The Women's Tennis Team compiled a 19-6 season that resulted in Team Captain Kristen Wertenberger being awarded the MVP Award for her outstanding play.

Tennis Coach Jonathon Klorfein was also honored when he was voted Coach of the Year by the Florida Tennis Coaches Association. His efforts have yielded State Championships for the Men's Team since 1987.

The Baseball Team, coached by Randy Gailey, ended the season 39-17 and finished third in the Southern Conference. Randy Martin was voted the Pacers' Most Valuable Player.

Women's Softball Coach John Anderson was happy with the performance of his team which posted an overall record of 43-14. The Softball Team finished first in the Southern Conference, third in the State, and seventh in the National Tournament. Standout Lisa Meltzer won the Scholar Athlete Award and the team's MVP Award.

Head Coach Scott Pospichal led the Men's Basketball Team to a 21-10 season and third place in Southern Conference play. Chris Rose, who was second in the State in scoring with an impressive 23.8 points per game, was named the MVP.

Sally Smith coached the Women's Basketball team to a 22-7 record. The Lady Pacers tied for first place in the Southern Conference and Pamela Morrison received MVP honors for her winning season.

The Men's Golf Team had a winning season and they placed first in the 1989 Palm Coast Invitational. Coach Jim Simon was pleased with his squad's performance. David Poteet was voted MVP honors for his consistent play.

At the Florida Community College Men's Golf Championship held May 10, the Pacers finished sixth. Chet Urbanowski led the Pacers with a 300 and finished fifteenth individually.

RAGS SET FOR DUNCAN

The Palm Beach Community College Central Campus Humanities Division will present Joseph Stein's "Rags" on June 9-11 and June 15-18 at the Duncan Theatre.

Under the direction of Patricia Adams-Johnson, Senior Instructor of Music, and Speech and Drama Faculty Member Frank Leahy, this joint production of the PBCC Central Campus Music and Drama Departments is the highlight of the College's spring theater season.

"Rags" traces the lives of immigrants to America in the early 1900's and features a cast of over 25 students.

For show times and ticket information, call the Duncan Theatre Box Office at 8141.

SUMMER BAND CAMP

Registration for Palm Beach Community College's fifth annual Summer Band Camp and Jazz Ensemble is presently underway at PBCC Central Campus.

Students in grades seven through 12, who have a minimum of one year band instrument experience, are eligible to attend the event which is jointly sponsored by the PBCC Music Department and Division of Continuing Education.

Classes begin June 26 and conclude July 21. The cost for the four-week camp is $110. A $25 deposit and completed application are due by June 1.

Richard Mucci, Music Adjunct Faculty Member, is coordinating the event. Mucci has been involved in Palm Beach County Middle and High School music education for over 24 years.

For more information and registration materials, please call the Music Department at 8144 or Continuing Education at 8006.

SALARY INCREASES

According to the May 8 Legislative Report from Betty Castor, Commissioner of Education, it appears that both the House and the Senate are committed to addressing new growth.

Both the House and the Senate budgets have funded growth for community colleges and universities. It is estimated that salary increases will be approximately five percent.

Progress on this issue will be reported in later Monday Reports.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 16 May 22, 1989

PBCC HONORS LICHTBLAU

Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees Chairman Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau was recognized by the College for his outstanding contributions to PBCC, Wednesday, May 17 when the Central Campus Allied Health Building was named in his honor.

At a dedication ceremony held beside the Allied Health Building, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey praised Lichtblau for his efforts in support of PBCC.

Eissey said, "We are extremely proud of Dr. Lichtblau for his many years of dedicated service to Palm Beach Community College. His contributions to the College and the community have been countless, and he will forever hold a special place in our hearts."

Lichtblau was appointed to the Board of Trustees in 1975 and has served as Chairman from 1978 to 1989. He has been integral in PBCC's development as a comprehensive educational facility.

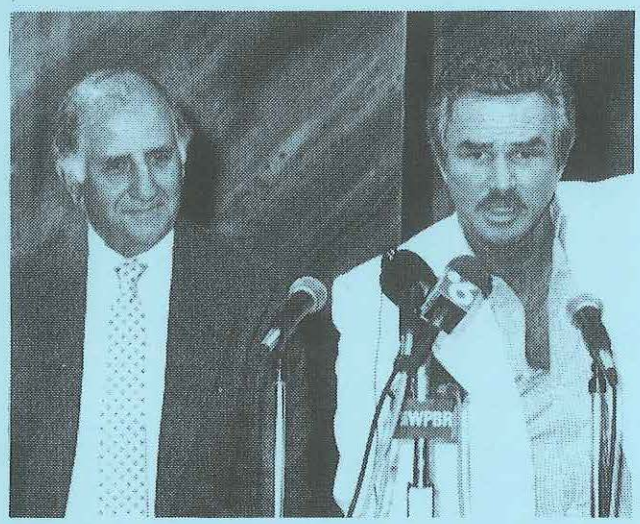
PBCC JUPITER THEATRE



Burt Reynolds announced the donation of the Jupiter Theatre to PBCC while Edward M. Eissey, PBCC President looks on.

Burt Reynolds has made Palm Beach Community College an offer it simply cannot refuse. The award-winning actor has donated his multi-million dollar Jupiter Theatre and surrounding property, which is just one block away from the Atlantic Ocean, as an outright gift to the College to establish a school for the performing arts.

In making the offer, Reynolds expressed his dedication to Palm Beach County and to the education of young people interested in the theatre field. "It has been my intent and desire for many years to establish a school for the performing arts in Palm Beach County, my home," he said.

Reynolds, an alumnus of Palm Beach Community College, continued by saying, "I have long felt the importance of PBCC and the impact that the College has on the lives of young people."

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey thanked Reynolds for the gift by saying, "Burt has never forgotten his beginnings or Palm Beach County. This offer is just one more example of his intense desire to share his success with the community."

SOUTH STUDENT HONORED

Palm Beach Community College honors student Marcie Munion has been presented with the Florida Blue Key Community College Leadership Award.

Awarded through the University of Florida, criteria for selection as a Florida Blue Key Award recipient is based on outstanding leadership and service at the community college level.

Munion, President of South Campus Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, plans to attend Florida Atlantic University where she will major in Education. She hopes to eventually pursue a career in teaching at the college level.

PBCC has also recognized Munion for her outstanding academic achievements and leadership abilities with several recent awards. Munion received the Florida Atlantic University Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship, the Outstanding Speech Student Award, the Student Leadership Award, the South Campus Student of the Semester Award, and Honorable Mention in the "Florida Leader" Magazine's College Student of the Year Contest.

THEATRE OF THE ABSURD

The PBCC Central Campus Humanities Division will present "Firebugs," June 29-30, July 1-2, and July 6-9 at the Duncan Theatre.

"Theatre of the Absurd" best describes "Firebugs" according to PBCC play director Frank Leahy. For information, call 8141.

PRESIDENT'S SCHOLARS

Approximately 350 friends, family, high school counselors, and PBCC administrators attended the President's Scholars presentations held on Monday, May 15 in the Central Campus Student Activities Lounge.

A total of 99 scholarships were awarded to students from 13 area high schools. Recipients were chosen as representatives of the top 10 percent of their classes, achieving a grade point average of 3.0 or better.

Following opening remarks from Marvita Davis, Director of Financial Aid, and an invocation by Melvin Haynes, Jr., Vice President of Student Affairs, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey introduced distinguished guests.

Frances R. "Dolly" Hand, Vice Chairman of the PBCC Board of Trustees, congratulated the students on their accomplishments. "We look forward to your achievements in the classrooms of the College, and we are confident that you will continue the good work which you have started so well in high school," she said.

Joseph A. Orr, Associate Superintendent of Instruction for the Palm Beach County School Board, also made congratulatory comments.

Representatives from Phi Theta Kappa and the Student Government Association spoke to the scholars and encouraged them to become involved in the clubs and activities offered at Palm Beach Community College.

Following the presentations, an informal ceremony was held to honor the scholars.

KRAVIS CENTER UPDATE

During the May 17 Palm Beach Community College Board Meeting, Trustees decided to no longer pursue an agreement for a "presence" at the Raymond F. Kravis Performing Arts Center (PAC) to be located in West Palm Beach.

Trustees agreed that the change of location from the PBCC site to West Palm Beach diminished the possibility of the PAC providing a comprehensive, self-contained educational facility for PBCC students.

The original plans for the PAC on the Central Campus of Palm Beach Community College allowed for an educational partnership that was self-contained and utilized existing College resources in providing a comprehensive educational program. PBCC has classes in film, drama, dance, music, art, costume and set design; rehearsal space in the Watson B. Duncan Theatre; and on-site faculty and staff.

In terms of the College's needs, it made great sense to combine these resources with the use of the PAC stage for a complete performing arts program. The benefit to PBCC's educational programs and to potential commercial performances was another step in making the College a leading educational arts center in South Florida.

However, in view of the change of location, the PAC in West Palm Beach no longer allows the convenient sharing of these resources. In addition, the five-acre site is too small to allow space to construct other buildings that might be utilized for educational needs, whereas the original 17-acre site would have accommodated expansion.

Still another issue at the PAC West Palm Beach location is the fact that PBCC is guaranteed only 36 nights per year for educational use. This is inadequate since the PBCC educational program requires on-site support facilities such as classrooms, choral rooms, band rooms, practice rooms, art studios, dance studios, and recital halls, which will not be present at the PAC West Palm Beach site.

Time is also of the essence at PBCC. The College is already turning away students due to lack of space and availability of classrooms. PBCC's need for an educational performing arts facility is immediate. Delays in construction of a comprehensive facility greatly impact the needs of PBCC students.

The latest discussions with the Board of the PAC for a PBCC "presence" on the West Palm Beach site have been very vague. Since PBCC must operate according to the rules of the Florida State Board of Education and the Board of Community Colleges, PBCC needs additional control of the PAC to ensure that state fiscal responsibilities are met.

It has been a difficult decision for the Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees to discontinue talks on the PAC. In light of the change of location which has altered the original goals of the facility and greatly reduced the educational benefits provided to PBCC, the decision was deemed necessary.

In the future, the PBCC Trustees will continue to investigate avenues to provide for the critical needs of students.

PBCC STUDENT MICHAEL BLUE

Palm Beach Community College Fashion Design student Michael Blue looks every bit the avant garde, Greenwich Village type that most would associate with the fashion trade in New York City. Blue is a congenial young man with a well-versed sales pitch that has led him from valet parker to fashion designer.

Blue, a former assistant to Fashion Director Jack Grandy at Saks Fifth Avenue in Palm Beach, has been learning his craft since his high school days when he began designing surfer shorts for the locals who inhabit any beach that provides a good wave.

He credits Palm Beach Community College Fashion Design and Merchandising Instructor Johanna Prinz for teaching him the basics and concepts of fashion and sewing that will, in his words, lead to "a professional career of significant importance and production."

For the past year, Blue has been apprenticing with specialty couturieres "Guy & George" in Boca Raton, where he has honed his skills in pattern making, fabric cutting, and alterations. "Guy & George" is a custom, made-to-order shop that specializes in one-of-a-kind designer originals.

Prinz, herself a respected designer and pattern maker with a Bachelor's in Fine Arts from Washington University in St. Louis, believes Blue to be one of the most promising students to attend classes at Palm Beach Community College in years. "He is a promising young designer, and I hope to see him apprenticing with well-known designers in New York in the near future."

Blue is primarily interested in the design of women's clothing because he feels that there is a greater opportunity for creativity in this line. "The doors are all open," he says. "I'm interested in making everything from jewelry to swimsuits."

When asked with whom he would like to be compared, this promising young Palm Beach Community College student simply said, "I want people to compare me to no one...I want to be an original...I'm the next Michael Blue."

MAY BOARD MEETING

Edward M. Eissey presented Frances R. "Dolly" Hand with a framed resolution prior to the May Board Meeting.

Trustees Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau and Frances R. "Dolly" Hand were honored with a special reception prior to the May 17 Board Meeting. In recognition of their many years of service to PBCC, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey presented them with framed resolutions.

Following the reception, the Board heard a report from Susan Thompson, Central Campus Delta Epsilon Chi (DECA) advisor. She reported that PBCC DECA students had recently participated in national competition in Orlando. Tammy Lynn Barett placed Third in Sales Manager and Kris Savrignac placed in the top 10 of the Human Relations category.

Results of the Chef Apprenticeship Competition were also presented to the Board. Monroe Gaultney, Director of the PBCC Chef Apprenticeship Program, introduced PBCC student Barry Gair who recently was chosen to represent the United States in Culinary Competition held in Germany.

In this international competition, the U.S. Team received a gold medal. In addition, Gair received several awards for individual competition. He was also chosen to be the team captain of the U.S. Team for International Competition in Canada in April. The U.S. Team was awarded two gold medals and seven silver medals.

In an area chapter challenge held May 8, the PBCC Chef Apprenticeship team competed against the Miami South Tech Team in Miami. Individual PBCC team members placed first, second, third and fifth in this hot food competition. PBCC also won the team competition over the Miami team.

The Board agenda included a discussion of the status of the College's involvement with the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts, the location of which was recently changed to West Palm Beach from the PBCC Central Campus. The Board voted 5-0 for an amendment to the existing legislative bill which established requirements for the $10 million in State PECO funds originally approved for the PBCC location of the Kravis Performing Arts Center.

The proposed amendment says "if a new agreement for a fine arts center at a site to be determined and owned by PBCC has not been executed by December 31, 1989, the unexpended balance of the funds is hereby appropriated for fixed capital projects at PBCC, approved by the legislature but not fully funded."

Trustees also voted unanimously to not pursue a "presence" at the Kravis Performing Arts Center in West Palm Beach. This was a difficult decision for the Board, but it was deemed necessary to focus efforts of pursuing funds for an educational performing arts facility and classrooms.

In other business, Dr. Helen Franke, who was recently appointed as Director of the PBCC Glades Center, was introduced. The retirement of Otis Harvey, Dean of Continuing Education, was also announced.

A presentation of the proposed PBCC Budget for 1989-1990 was given by Barry Rogers, PBCC Controller. The Board approved the proposal.

The next Board Meeting is scheduled for 6 p.m., June 21 on Central Campus.

PBCC Instructor Monroe Gaultney is shown with Barry Gair who won several awards in Chef Apprenticeship Competition.

Eissey continued by saying, "The College is very appreciative of Burt's dedication to Palm Beach Community College. As a result of his efforts, the quest to provide excellent performing arts facilities for the College's educational programs will become a reality."

Presently, the Jupiter facility is a dinner theatre. Reynolds stressed that with relatively minor renovations, the theatre could become a comprehensive center for the performing arts. A 150-seat children's theatre for the arts could be constructed. Additionally, classrooms could be built for film, dance, set and costume design, drama, music, and other theatre-related programs.

The apprenticeship program established by Reynolds to foster the development of young actors and others interested in the trade would remain an integral part of the facility.

Eissey stressed the tremendous opportunity this donation has for both students and community residents alike. "This is a magnificent gesture on Burt's part," he said. "With the generous donation of the Jupiter Theatre, PBCC takes another step toward becoming the Cultural Arts Center of South Florida."

He also said, "We are moving quickly on this offer. In order for us to proceed, we are immediately submitting a proposal to the State of Florida for the acceptance of the land and the Jupiter Theatre."

"Palm Beach Community College would have ownership of the land and the building, and the College would be able to utilize the facility at all times," Eissey concluded.

Reynolds stressed that the College would own the Theatre and the land surrounding it, which is valued at $4.5 million.

"It would be wonderful if we could make the transition of ownership before the winter," Reynolds said. "We hope that a lot of our staff who are at the theatre now will stay."

"One of the reasons that this whole transaction appeals to me is that I desperately want to retain, and so does Dr. Eissey, the apprenticeship program...it's what I've gotten the most joy out of in the 10 years that I've been there," Reynolds said.

There will be no Monday Report on May 29 due to the Memorial Day Holiday.

PBCC SOUTH CAMPUS

The Florida State Board of Community Colleges officially designated Palm Beach Community College's Boca Raton Center as a Campus on May 4, 1989.

The College has petitioned the Board in the past for this distinction, which is based on a 12-fold criteria process that includes both student enrollment and sufficient acreage for growth. As a campus, the South location will now be eligible for increased state funds and educational grants.

Since 1972, PBCC has been offering classes in South County with the hope of developing a comprehensive academic facility. Provost Dan Terhune anticipates the continued growth of the South Campus and looks forward to further growth both in enrollment and construction. "We have big plans for the future of this Campus. The State Board has now given us the authority to continue our progression to develop as a comprehensive community college campus."

A new classroom building will be opened in July at the South Campus with plans for an academic laboratory to immediately follow. A Student Activities Center, which will house a cafeteria and an office complex, are also on the drawing boards as more funds become available.

The projected enrollment for the South Campus for the fall term of '89 is over 3,000 students. With an ever-increasing student population, Terhune recognizes the need for more academic offerings and the space necessary to house them; yet, he is not willing to sacrifice quality for quantity.

Terhune said, "We want to grow, but we don't want to forget why we are here. We have an outstanding faculty and a great student body. We have a responsibility for efficiency and quality...something we do not plan to relinquish."

Lichtblau, an orthopedic surgeon, has practiced medicine since 1953. He is a Board Member of the Palm Beach County Medical Society and has been Medical Director of Children's Medical Services in Florida for over 30 years.

The past President of the Florida Orthopedic Society and Chief of Staff for St. Mary's Hospital, he holds membership in the Florida Medical Association, the American Medical Association, and the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery, and was Chief of Orthopedic Surgery at Good Samaritan Hospital.

In September of 1988, Lichtblau was awarded the Harold S. Strasser, M.D., Good Samaritan Award by the Florida Medical Association.

PERSONALS

Former PBCC student Burt Reynolds gifted Watson B. Duncan III, Distinguished Chair of Arts and Letters, with a bust of William Shakespeare, while recently visiting PBCC's Central Campus.

A daughter, Allison Marie, 7 pounds, 8 ounces, was born on May 1 to K.C. and Sofia Klopp at St. Mary's Hospital. Congratulations to the new parents.

CENTURY GARDEN

The newly-constructed garden between the Administration Building and Data Processing will be named the Century Garden.

Plans are underway to include a bronze tablet donated by the Alumni Association for Palm Beach Community College's Golden Anniversary, 1983 which noted the College's half-century of service under three presidents: John I. Leonard, Harold C. Manor, and Edward M. Eissey.

A 25-year plaque will also be included. It is hoped that a perpetual memorial be established, with space for additional tablets marking the College's 75 and 100 years.

The Monday Report Deadline is Tues., 3 p.m.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 17 June 5, 1989

LOCAL AUTHORS HONORED

Palm Beach Community College honored 20 local, published authors on May 25 during the Authors' Luncheon held at Admiral's Cove Clubhouse in Jupiter.

The luncheon was the closing event of Literary Forum '89 which is presented annually by the College to recognize outstanding area authors.

Patrick D. Smith, who wrote A Land Remembered, was the principal speaker. Ten of the authors present were part of the first Authors' Luncheon in 1986. They included Sydney Clarey, Sue Dauphin, Edith Delatush, Nick Nickson, Judge James Knott, Barbara Gibson, Barry Russal, Vincent Miranda, Sarah Clemens, and James Warnke.

The six authors in attendance for the first time included Bob Weller, who authored Sunken Treasures of Florida Reefs; Pat Booth, Palm Beach and The Sisters; Joella Cain, How to Figure Out a Woman; Chevy Alden, Black Falcon; Adelaide Altman, Professor Pish Posh and the Robots; and Dr. Nicole Duplaix.

BOARD REAFFIRMS POSITION

A Special Board of Trustees Meeting was held Tuesday, May 30 to reconsider their prior decision to not pursue a "presence" at the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts (PAC).

During the May 24 Board Workshop, Trustees decided to invite Kravis Board representatives for face-to-face negotiations during a Special PBCC Board of Trustees Meeting. They felt it was important to try one more time to reach an agreement that would benefit PBCC educational programs.

To more clearly determine the Kravis Board's position, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey sent a letter to the Kravis Board requesting that their representative be prepared to answer specific questions.

During the Special Board Meeting, Kravis Center Board Chairman Alex Dreyfoos was asked the question, (1) Would the Kravis Board be willing to build on the PBCC site as originally planned? He said they would not consider going back to the PBCC location. He also said that the Kravis Board felt they had made the right decision for the community in moving the PAC to West Palm Belach.

Dreyfoos said that the decision to move to the new location was based on two main issues. First, their studies indicated higher utilization of performing arts centers located in vibrant urban locations. Second, they felt that fund raising would be more successful in the urban setting of West Palm Beach. He said there were other reasons but these two were of primary concern.

In response to the Kravis Board's firm stand on staying in West Palm Beach, PBCC Board Chairman Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau indicated his disappointment. Eissey also expressed frustration at PBCC's exclusion from the negotiations which took place between the Kravis Board and the City of West Palm Beach.

In the remaining discussion during the Special Board Meeting, Trustees asked Dreyfoos the following questions to clarify the possibilities open to PBCC at the West Palm Beach location of the PAC:

In addition, PBCC alumnus Roxanne Pulitzer discussed filming the Prize Pulitzer.

Ann Tyler, who is a local artist, displayed her work. Paintings by artist Graham Engles that were inspired by the book, A Land Remembered, were also displayed.

This year's Literary Forum centered on the environment with seminars, book talks, and slide shows reflecting this theme. Events were held on the North and Central Campuses.

ALICE ZACHERL RECOGNIZED

Alice Zacherl, LLRC Director at North Campus, was honored by Ottis Smith, PBCC North Campus Provost, at the Third Annual Literary Forum on May 25.

According to a declaration presented by Smith, Zacherl has made outstanding contributions to the development of the North Campus. She has worked untiringly to develop the program of the Library Learning Center, making it an invaluable resource for both our College and community.

In gratitude, PBCC has declared that the College's Annual Literary Forum be officially known as the "Alice Zacherl Literary Forum." The forum is to become an ongoing College and community tradition.

In addition, a section of the North Campus Library Learning Center will be set aside for an "Alice Zacherl Collection" which will contain the works of local area writers and others whom Zacherl has worked to promote.

(2) If the Kravis Board will not return to the PBCC site, will the Kravis Board provide the support facilities which are mandatory? The required support facilities are, but not limited to, classrooms which will be available and under the control of PBCC including a film studio, a choral room, an instrumental music room (band), a dance studio, a scenic and costume design area, and a drama classroom.

(3) Would the Kravis Board permit PBCC's Board of Trustees to own the PAC and the land? Would the Kravis Board be willing to allow the Board of Trustees to control the construction costs and expenditures in order to protect the public funds?

(4) Would the Kravis Board be willing to abide by Chapter 235 and 6A-2 State Board of Education Rules in its complete form?

(5) Would the Kravis Board allow the use of the PAC during the daytime as well as the original 36 nights in the agreement, without charge?

(6) Would all maintenance and operation costs of the PAC be borne by the Kravis Board?

(7) Would the Kravis Board agree that no cost shall be incurred by PBCC in this endeavor, including but not limited to attorneys fees, change orders, soil tests, engineering and architectural fees or any related fees?

(8) Would the Kravis Board be willing to bring the cost down to around the $30 million original planned expenditure?

(9) Would the Kravis Board agree that if an agreement cannot be reached, they will go forward, hand and hand, with PBCC to the Legislative Delegation to allow PBCC to utilize the State funds for needed educational facilities?

In response to these items, Dreyfoos said, "We are prepared to live with prior agreements with the exception of location."

Dreyfoos also said, "We would be very disappointed to see the county lose the money, but we don't wish to use the money for anything other than for the PAC."

Trustee John C. Sansbury again voiced his desire for a compromise concerning the use of the State money.

Trustee Bernard Kimmel said that he wanted the PAC to succeed but he felt his questions concerning PBCC's "presence" at the PAC had not been answered.

Sansbury made a motion for the Trustees to reconsider their prior action to not pursue a "presence" at the PAC. The motion died from lack of a second. Procedurally, this ended all Board consideration of an agreement.

PBCC NURSE HONORED

Mary Cannon, PBCC College Nurse, was recently awarded a certificate of appreciation by the Licensed Practical Nurses Association (LPNA) of Florida.

Cannon currently serves as President of the LPNA for Palm Beach County (Division 1), representing approximately 1,500 nurses.

She also serves as Director of all Area 1 Licensed Practical Nurses. Indian River, Martin, Palm Beach, Charlotte, Okeechobee, Glades, Lee, Hendry, Collier, Monroe, Dade and Broward Counties are included in the Area 1 Region. As Director, Cannon represents all LPN's to the state association.

In addition to her regional duties, Cannon serves as Chairperson of Psych-Mental Health Committee, which studies the impaired nurse, and as Chairperson of the Education Committee, which is responsible for planning continuing education courses, meetings, and conventions for Florida's LPN's.

Cannon has been with PBCC for 15 years. As College Nurse, she is primarily responsible for all student health services.

ENROLLMENT SOARS

Palm Beach Community College students registered for spring term '89 in record numbers. Collegewide, 7,839 credit and non-credit students registered for classes compared to 6,789 for spring term '88. This represents an increase in student headcount of 15.47 percent over last year's figures.

In addition, students registered for 26,614.2 semester hours, an increase of 14.21 percent over spring term '88.

Each of PBCC's four campuses registered significant increases. PBCC Central was up 14.99 percent. PBCC North gained 17.53 percent. PBCC South had an increase of 7.87 percent, and enrollment at PBCC Glades was up 8.45 percent.

TUTOR TRAINING OFFERED

Palm Beach Community College Central Campus is offering Tutor Training Programs for persons interested in working with adult non-readers.

The 10 1/2 hour, three-night course is offered through Continuing Education and allows for community residents to train in tutoring skills for the beginning adult reader.

There is a $5 fee for the course which meets monthly. For more information, please call David Prather at 8011.

NORTH HOSTS SEMINAR

Palm Beach Community College North will host a seminar by internationally-recognized management consultant Dr. W. Edwards Deming on Monday, June 12 at the North Campus Library Learning Resource Center.

The seminar, entitled "The New Economics of Industry and Government," will be presented live via satellite from the Radisson Hotel South in Minneapolis, and will begin at 10:45 a.m. and conclude at 4:00 p.m.

Deming has been a leading statistician for over 40 years and is the author of nearly 200 papers and several books, including Out of the Crisis. He helped to develop a new management method which focuses on quality and the generation of new products that command the market place.

Deming's progressive philosophy incorporates the use of statistics, cause and effect, international force, and psychology. The result is an atmosphere of cooperation between employees and management to accomplish increased productivity and a winning corporate system.

The cost is $35, and includes lunch. Due to limited seating, reservations are suggested as registration at the door is not guaranteed. For more information, call North Campus, 622-2440.

GET THE MOST FOR YOURSELF

Palm Beach Community College South Campus, in conjunction with "Success Through Effective Communication," will present a seminar for working women entitled "Get the Most from Yourself" on Thursday, June 22 at the Boca Raton Board of Realtors Conference Center, 3200 North Military Trail, Boca Raton.

The event is scheduled from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., and tickets are $25. Blocks of 10 or more seats receive a 10 percent discount.

This unique combination of music, drama, and guest speakers will explore issues which affect working women. Discussion topics will include "Self Marketing for Women," "Attitudes that Create Success," and "Acting Our Way to Good Thinking." For more information, call the South Campus at 367-2216.

PBCC STUDENT SELECTED

PBCC student Laura Walko has been selected as one of 28 area students to receive a free student membership in the American Institute of Graphic Arts (AIGA), South Florida Chapter.

According to PBCC Instructor Ludovica Weaver, students were chosen from schools in Palm Beach, Broward, and Dade Counties.

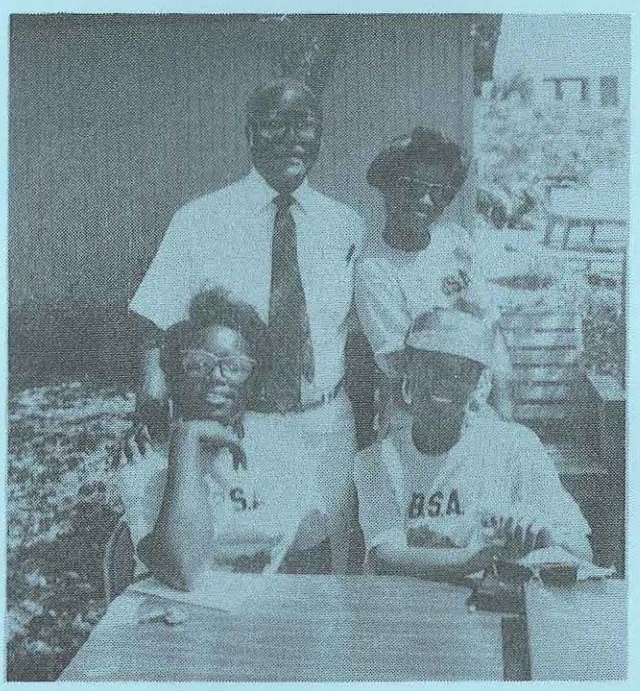
SOUTH HOSTS GRAD DAY '89



Spencer Pompey, Chairman of the South Campus Minority Advisory Committee, shares a smile with members of the South Campus Black Student Union at Grad Day '89.

PBCC South sponsored "Grad Day '89," in conjunction with the South Campus Minority Advisory Committee, on Monday, June 5 at the College's Boca Raton Campus.

Designed to acquaint potential students with PBCC's academic programs, clubs, and extra-curricular activities, "Grad Day '89" attracted students from Boca Raton, Spanish River, Atlantic, and Pope John Paul High Schools.

Students were served lunch while PBCC faculty and staff members answered questions on registration, financial aid and the College in general.

Deemed a success by South Campus Provost Dan Terhune, the event was also devised to honor recent PBCC graduates.

"We have a genuinely friendly faculty and student population at the South Campus," Terhune said. "We're here for the students . . .to provide them with a solid education. . . and with events such as Grad Day, we hope to attract more students to the College."

ORSENIGO FAREWELL

A reception for Mary Orsenigo, Director of the PBCC Glades Center, was held on Thursday, June 1 at the Elks Club in Belle Glade. Approximately 150 people were present to honor Orsenigo for her accomplishments on behalf of the College. Elected officials and community leaders, as well as PBCC Trustees, administrators, faculty and staff were on hand to congratulate Orsenigo on her retirement.

A PBCC employee for 16 years, Orsenigo served as Glades Registrar before being appointed as Director of the Glades Center in 1986. She was also an active member of the Steering Committee which worked to establish the Glades Campus in 1971.

In presenting Orsengio with a resolution, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey said, "Mary Orsengio has been a vital force for improvement in the Glades. We will greatly feel the loss of this prized administrator."

PBCC Trustee Frances R. "Dolly" Hand presented Orsengio with a going away gift. Hand also spoke of Orsenigo's effective leadership as Glades Director.

Mary Orsenigo is shown accepting a resolution which was presented in her honor by PBCC President Edward M. Eissey.

GLADES GENERAL HOSPITAL DONATION

Nancy O'Neal and Brenda Tyson, representatives of the nursing staff at Glades General Hospital presented a $2,227.88 scholarship donation to the PBCC Glades Nursing program on Wednesday, June 7.

O'Neal and Tyson, former PBCC Nursing students, said Glades General Hospital held a special fundraising effort for Nursing scholarships to benefit students who attend the Glades Campus.

The hospital held a "Jailathon." The activity involves community leaders who are temporarily "arrested."

Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department and the Belle Glade Police Department brought the "suspects" to the hospital and put them in a "cell" and a hospital administrator set "bail."

The participants were granted the use of telephones to raise "bail" and were later released. Approximately 100 participants were "arrested" during the event. The "Jailathon" was held May 1 through 7, which is designated as Nursing Week.

The fundraiser and scholarship donation is planned as a yearly event by the Nursing Staff of Glades General Hospital.

During the June 21 Board Meeting, Trustees approved an across-the board salary increase of seven percent for Non-Bargaining Unit Employees.

Full-time, 12-month personnel paid from the College's Operating Budget will receive a seven percent general increase plus increments for those employees recommended who are not at the maximum of their salary grades. The increase will go into effect on July 1 and will appear on the first paycheck of the fiscal year on July 20, 1989.

Personnel funded from grants or other special funding will receive increases only if there are sufficient funds available in the specific grant.

Personnel who work less than a 12-month schedule will receive a general increase, plus increments when applicable, on the first paycheck after the beginning of the new academic year.

Pay rates in the Adjunct Faculty Salary Schedule will be increased seven percent effective August 16, 1989.

The salary increase offer of seven percent across-the-board for Collective Bargaining Unit Members depends upon approval and acceptance by the United Faculty as part of a total contract.

Individual salary letters are expected to be issued to full-time, 12-month personnel near the time of the July 20, 1989 paycheck.

In discussing the offer with the Board, PBCC President Edward M. Eissey said that he was in complete agreement with the Faculty's request for a higher salary increase which was commensurate with their needs. He said, "I only wish that the State had given us the level of funding to allow a higher salary increase."

For the 1989-90 fiscal year, Palm Beach Community College received a five percent increase in State funds earmarked for salaries.

The seven percent salary increase for PBCC employees will require that all 600-level and 700-level budget accounts remain at the same level as last year.

A similar decision was made last year when the College provided instructional faculty with a 10 percent increase, while State funding for salaries increased only four percent.

In other business, the Board approved an agreement with Barnett Bank which will allow the College to accept credit card payments for tuition and fees. The selection of Barnett was made on the basis of the lowest bid.

Palm Beach Community College joins 22 other Florida Community Colleges who currently accept card credit payments. Past experience of these institutions indicates that the advantages of accepting credit cards outweigh the disadvantages.

The College will begin to establish a program for using the credit cards to pay fees. The exact date for implementation is not certain at this time.

The Board also discussed new board rules on AIDS and on Religious Observances. The rules follow State guidelines.

In addition, Trustees approved a Resolution to accept and request the State Board of Community Colleges to designate the Burt Reynolds Jupiter Theatre as a Special Purpose Center. Upon receiving this designation, Palm Beach Community College can proceed with planning for the renovation of the facility.

The acceptance of the Jupiter Theatre is still dependent upon receiving funds from the State for a performing arts center. Palm Beach Community College cannot support the renovation of the Theatre without this additional funding.

Helen Franke, the newly-appointed Director of the Glades Center, was introduced. She will replace Mary Orsenigo who is retiring.

Election of a new Board Chairperson and Vice Chairperson was delayed to allow the selection to take place after the expected appointment of two new Trustees by the Governor.

There will be no Board Meeting in July. The next Board Meeting is scheduled for 6 p.m. August 16, 1989 on Central Campus.

FAST BREAK PROGRAM UNDERWAY

Palm Beach Community College officially kicked off this year's "Fast Break" Program for minority students, Tuesday, June 20 at Central Campus.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey addressed the 110 "Fast Break" students and College administrators by offering his congratulations to those students who had enrolled in the program.

"I am delighted you're here with us at PBCC," Eissey said. "You all have the potential to be extremely successful...depending on the effort you put forth."

The "Fast Break" Program is designed to make the transition from high school to college easier on those students in need of a little extra attention. Geared primarily for minority students, the "Fast Break" Program affords students the opportunity for more personalized instruction with College faculty in such introductory subjects as reading, composition, and mathematics.

The 1989 Palm Beach Community College "Fast Break" Program is funded through Palm Beach Community College Staff and Development Funds; donations by two major Palm Beach County employers, Southern Bell and Pratt and Whitney; and a Florida Academic Improvement Trust Fund grant.

Representatives from Southern Bell and Pratt and Whitney were on hand to welcome students and encourage their successful completion of the program.

Bill Burson, Southern Bell Regional Director, said, "Education is very important; if you get it now, it'll sure make things easier later."

Bill Howden, Pratt and Whitney Vice President of Community and Government Relations, encouraged students to consider careers in engineering and other highly-technical vocations. "We are starving for minority engineers," he said. "This is the kind of educational program we want to continue to support."

Debra McCray, the Coordinator of PBCC's "Fast Break" Program, stresses that the program provides a positive approach to the problem of student adjustment from high school to the demands of college. Minority students gain survival skills and are assigned a mentor to help them face the challenges of college life.

McCray said that "Fast Break" is aimed toward increasing minority enrollment at PBCC, but the program does not require that the applicant attend the College in the fall.

"Fast Break", offered at all four campuses, continues through August 3. For more information, call 8054.

ELECTRONIC EMPHASIS CENTER

Palm Beach Community College has been designated by the Florida Department of Education as a Center for Electronic Emphasis. This distinction was awarded to PBCC because of its effective industry and education partnership which has contributed to Florida's economic growth and development.

PBCC's inclusion in this program makes it one of 37 select vocational schools and community colleges which provide high technology training in areas which include Engineering, Electronics Technology, Computer Integrated Manufacturing, Automated Manufacturing, Drafting-Design Technology including CAD, and Office Systems Technology.

Currently, PBCC's curriculum in Electronics is rated as one of the top 10 vocational programs in the nation. The College provides state-of-the-art training in the field of electronics, and plans are underway to further expand programs and add more equipment through grant funds given to PBCC in recognition of the Electronic Emphasis Center status.

The program which benefits community economic development has already returned 123% on Florida's initial investment through gross wages of program graduates. Studies conducted on a statewide level show that graduates of the College's Electronics program, and those electronics programs of other state institutions, earn an average entry-level salary of $20,000.

PBCC presently maintains educational partnerships with Motorola, Pratt and Whitney, Northern Telecom, IBM, Florida Power and Light, and other area electronics firms. These cooperative efforts provide solid job training for students pursuing careers in the electronics and robotics industry.

Corporations interested in entering into an educational partnership with the College or students wishing to enroll in the program may contact Glen Marsteller at Central Campus, 8132.

SALARY PROPOSAL MADE TO UNION

During the June 21 session of negotiations between the United Faculty and PBCC Administration, a proposal was made concerning salary for the new contract.

According to the proposal, a seven percent increase is offered across-the-board to all Collective Bargaining Unit Members.

The salary proposal must be approved and ratified by the United Faculty as part of the contract. The next collective bargaining session is scheduled for July 5.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 21 July 3, 1989

GLADES DIRECTOR NAMED

Helen B. Franke has been named Director of Palm Beach Community College's Glades Center.

A past Provost for Palm Beach Atlantic College and Assistant Superintendent for Instruction with the School Board of Palm Beach County, Franke has taken over the administrative duties of the Glades Center Directorship. Mary Orsenigo, who formerly held the position, recently retired.

Franke, whose son and daughter are both graduates of PBCC, received her Ed.D. from the University of Florida in Gainesville and holds her Florida Educator's Certification in Administration/Supervision, Math, Science, English, Speech, School Psychologist, Guidance, and Social Work.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey spoke highly of Franke and her appointment to the Glades Center. "Dr. Franke is a welcome addition to PBCC, and we look forward to a long lasting and educationally beneficial relationship," he said.

Franke began her initial duties at the Glades Center on June 19.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey received a grant of $88,000 for the Lannan Museum. Shown L to R: Representative Ray Liberti, Eissey and Senator Don Childers.

PBCC LANNAN MUSEUM

The Lannan Museum took center stage at a June 27 press conference held at PBCC's Central Campus. State Senator Don Childers and Representative Ray Liberti, representing the local Legislative Delegation, presented PBCC President Edward M. Eissey with an $88,000 state matching grant. This is a challenge grant for cultural purposes which requires a three-to-one match.

In accepting the grant from Childers and Liberti, Eissey said, "Your efforts to bring the $88,000 grant to the College are greatly appreciated. We may now continue our trek to improve the cultural activities and the cultural awareness in Palm Beach County through PBCC."

The grant sent PBCC over the top in its efforts to raise an operating endowment for the Lannan Museum. This agreement between the College and the Lannan Foundation required $500,000 to be in place before the College would be granted ownership.

PBCC IN 1933

Palm Beach Community College, then Palm Beach Junior College, first opened its doors in 1933, and H. Frank Newton was there. Newton was one of the original seven enrollees at PBJC when the College was housed at the Manual Training Building on the Palm Beach High School Campus on Gardenia Street in West Palm Beach. Newton remembers that everyone knew each other in school and classes were very informal.

"What really stands out in my mind is that tuition was free and there was only one store in town that sold all the books needed for class," Newton recalls. "We were a close-knit bunch, and we all got together and talked about school at the local soda shop."

Newton had to tie the doors shut on his 1926 Chevy in order to drive to class and "get around" as he puts it. "Times were tough back then. It was a post-depression era, and everyone did what they could to make ends meet," Newton remembers.

While studying at PBJC, Newton worked several jobs that included playing the saxaphone and clarinet in a local dance band. Financial obligations forced him to leave college. He then began working for First Atlantic Bank where he was employed for 36 years before retiring in 1975. Newton also served his country during World War II.

In the fall of 1933, PBJC began serving a small student population. Instructors volunteered their time for the first year, and Howell L. Watkins, principal of Palm Beach High, served as Dean.

Palm Beach Junior College went through many changes in the years that followed. Dr. John I. Leonard became the College's first president in 1948. At this time, the College moved to Morrison Field, now Palm Beach International Airport. During the Korean Conflict of 1951, Morrison Field was reactivated. The College then relocated to the Lake Park City Hall.

In 1956, PBJC began offering classes at the Lake Worth Campus. Approximately 475 students were in attendance at that time. Dr. Harold C. Manor became the second president of PBJC and served in that capacity for 21 years.

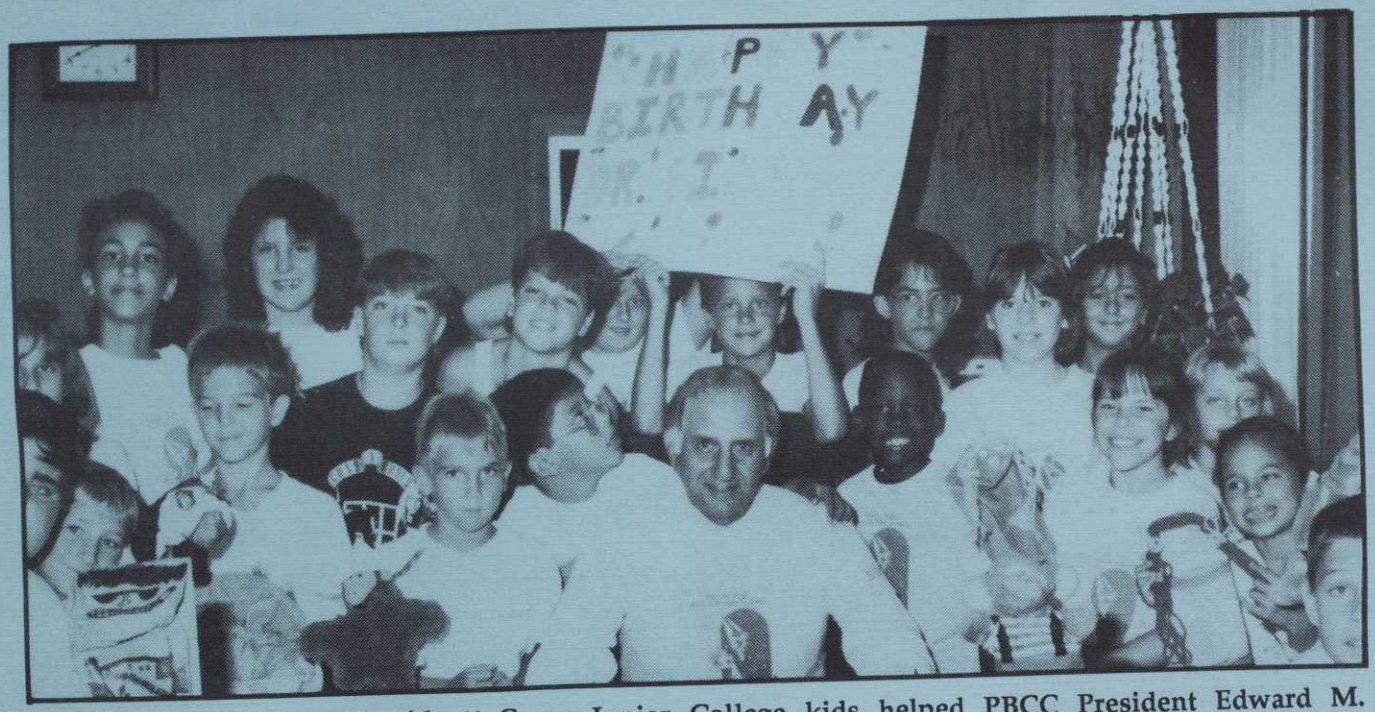
In 1978, Edward M. Eissey took over the responsibilities of PBJC's Presidency. Eissey, a 1948 graduate of the College, has steadily guided the College to become a multi-campus institution. PBCC has four campuses which serve approximately 42,000 students.

Recently, the name of PBJC was changed to Palm Beach Community College to better exemplify the vast program resources offered by the College.

Today, PBCC offers over 125 degree programs and is host to a myriad of Continuing Education courses that offer the community a well-rounded academic and social resource center.

Newton remembers PBJC fondly and is supportive of its expansion. "The College's growth is fantastic," Newton said. "It's hard to believe how much it has grown."

Otis Harvey, Dean of Continuing Education, received an appreciation award from the Regional Coordinating Council. PBCC President Edward M. Eissey is also shown.



Happy Birthday to the President! Camp Junior College kids helped PBCC President Edward M. Eissey celebrate his birthday last week.

MONDAY REPORT:

CODY REPORT RESULTS

When budget managers submitted their requests for personnel this year, they had requests which exceeded two million dollars. If such requests had been approved, the College could not have granted the seven percent general increase which was recently announced.

As a result, a representative from Cody and Associates was asked to review such budget requests and only recommend those with strong justification.

Dr. Eissey recently announced that only those new positions recommended in their category "one" will be approved. Those positions include part-time Adjunct Faculty Evaluators plus:

2 Word Processors, North Campus; 1 Department Technician, North Campus; 1 Counselor, South Campus; 1 Secretary I, South Campus; 1 Office Clerk I (CJ), Central Campus; 1 Office Clerk I, P/T (VP/AA), Central Campus.

The following reclassifications are also recommended:

North Campus: Library Assistant I to II (LLRC) (A16 to A17); Office Clerk I to II (SA) (A17 to A19); Bursar Cashier to Accounting Clerk III (A23 to A24); Center Registrar to Campus Registrar (C32 to C34).

South Campus: Office Clerk II to Records Specialist I (A19 to A22); Center Registrar to Campus Registrar) (C32 to C34)

Glades Campus: Library Assistant II to Library Technician (A17 to A28); Accounting Clerk I to Bursar Cashier (A20 to A23)

Central Campus: Office Clerk I to II (DP) (B17 to B19); Secretary III to Secretary to VP of Adm. & BA (A28 to A30); Library Assistant I to II (A16 to A17); Warehouseman I to II (B18 to B19); Human Resources Coordinator to Manager, Employment (C41 to C43); Human Resources Coordinator to Manager, Benefit's & Records (C41 to C43); Accounting Clerk II to III (A22 to A24)

Bookstore: Custodian to Shipping and Receiving Clerk (B16 to B18); Cashier II to Supply Buyer I (A18 to A19); Shipping & Receiving Clerk to Shipping & Receiving Coord. (B18 to B20); Office Clerk I to Accounting Clerk I (A17 to A20)

UNION AGREEMENT REACHED

During the sixth session of negotiations between the bargaining teams of the United Faculty and the PBCC Administration held July 5, tentative agreement was reached on all remaining issues. Both sides worked hard on several compromises which allowed a contract proposal to be completed. The proposal is now being submitted to the United Faculty for ratification.

The new contract proposal includes a seven percent increase across the board for all full-time bargaining unit members. Contingent on ratification, the increase will be effective beginning the first day of the faculty member's 1989-90 contract.

Lengthy discussion and exchanges of several counter proposals brought additional points of agreement. Although there will not be individual reserved parking, the tentative agreement includes plans for parking areas to be reserved for College employees in each parking lot on the North Campus.

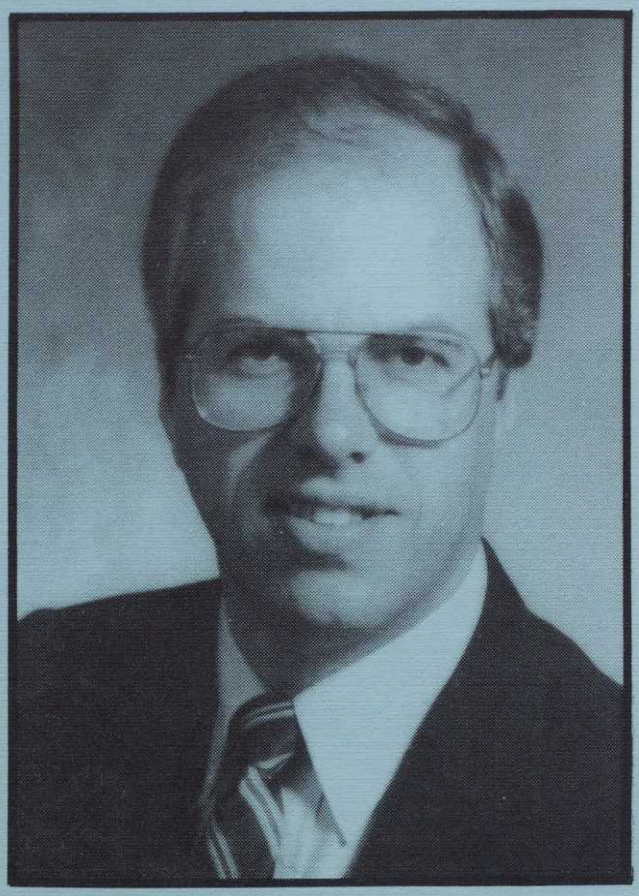
Regarding approval of paid personal leave on the last duty day following a vacation or holiday, including spring recess, the current agreement requires the employee to explain the reason on the "Request for Leave" form. Both teams agreed that the expectation is that faculty will not normally take leave on these days. The leave request may be denied by the administration unless there is a particularly strong reason given by the employee.

In the tentative agreement concerning time accounting, it was recognized that it is the permissible function of the teaching faculty to schedule office hours and one-half hour lunch periods. It was further recognized that faculty schedules may be modified by the administrator.

During prior negotiations in June, tentative agreement was reached on a one-year contract period, revision of the arbitrator selection list, equalization of time in the steps of the grievance process, the inclusion of a statement on AIDS, designation of a smoking area on each campus, and revised language regarding union communications during duty hours.

Following completion of the proposed contract, both teams agreed to review possibilities for the future establishment of a different contract year for bargaining unit members.

NEW DIRECTOR NAMED



David D. Prather

David D. Prather has been named Director of Continuing Studies/Learning Unlimited at Palm Beach Community College's Central Campus effective July 1. Prather, former Continuing Education Coordinator for PBCC's business programs at Central Campus, replaces Otis Harvey, who has retired.

Prather received his Ed.D. and Master's Degree from Indiana University at Bloomington. He earned his Bachelor's Degree from Miami University of Ohio.

Prior to joining Palm Beach Community College, Prather served as Director of Non Credit Programs and Assistant Professor in Continuing Education at Florida Atlantic University. He holds membership in the Education Foundation of Palm Beach County, the Palm Beach County Literacy Coalition, and Phi Delta Kappa.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey commented, "David Prather brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the Directorship of Continuing Studies/Learning Unlimited at Palm Beach Community College. We look forward to new and innovative programs under his leadership."

The Monday Report deadline is Tues., 3 p.m.

GREISER HEADS DHCAC

Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center Manager Rita Greiser is confident of yet another successful year of musicals, plays, and concerts by top name entertainers as the Center's fall season approaches.

Greiser took over management of the DHCAC last November and has since scheduled such notable performers as Mel Tillis, Nicolette Larson, and Gary Morris at PBCC's Belle Glade facility. She also introduced a season of innovative children's theatre as well as productions of "Camelot" and "Pygmalion."

A professional opera singer herself, Greiser has performed on Broadway in the revival of "Desert Song" and toured with the national Company of "Jesus Christ Superstar."

Greiser earned her Master's Degree in Music from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and her Bachelor of Science Degree from Ohio State University. While at UT Knoxville, Greiser was the producer and director of the Appalachian Opera Company which educated local residents and students to the difference between "opry" and "opera."

Recently renovated, the DHCAC seats over 450 people and now boasts better viewing due to the inclined flooring which has been installed.

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

Palm Beach Community College fared very well during the 1989 State Legislative Session. The final count shows that PBCC retained all legislative gains except the one-half mill referendum authorization which was repealed in the recent Special Session.

"Our local legislative delegation spent a tremendous amount of time and energy to ensure that PBCC would receive adequate funding and retain the $8.7 million earmarked for a performing arts center," said Patricia Myers who serves as lobbyist for the College.

"We are very proud of the $22,239,161 Program Fund allocation for 1989-1990," she continued. "In addition, the College received $912,886 in Categorical Funding and $4,530,027 in Public Education Capital Outlay (PECO) funds."

The Categorical Funding included $50,000 for the linkage of the Florida/Canada Institute and $112,356 for Lifelong Learning programs.

The South Campus will utilize the PECO funds for an Academic Lab Building ($1,609,833), a Student Services Building ($732,000), and an Office and Services Facility ($523,639). PECO funds will also go to the renovation and remodeling of the Central Campus Gym ($520,186), Dental Health facility ($132,499) and Cafeteria ($1,011,870).

Among the ongoing PBCC programs funded again for the coming year through proposals was the Institute of Government. Sunshine State Skills Programs and PBCC's Technology Transfer Center were also funded.

Funding was allocated for student recruitment and retention of minority students and nursing students. In addition, a loan program for nursing students was established which rewards the graduate by forgiving up to $4,000 in student education loans in return for working in Florida's nursing profession for four years.

The legislature authorized PBCC to set up a full-time child care center. The College is also now authorized to charge up-to-one additional dollar per credit hour to use for capital improvements and up-to-15 cents of this dollar may be used to fund the College's child care center.

In regard to the $8.7 million, the legislature needs to clarify how the money can be spent. One of the options for some of the money would be the renovation of the Burt Reynolds Jupiter Theatre.

This week, it is expected that the State Board of Education will designate the Theatre as a Special Purpose Center for PBCC.

Preliminary plans are to establish a Media Technology Program at this facility. Film, television and radio training will be among the programs to be offered at the Theatre.

It is certain that the Institute for Theatre Training will be maintained in its current operation as an Equity Training Program. PBCC students, along with other students who have completed two years of college, are eligible to audition for the Apprenticeship Program.

For more detailed information about the legislative session or specific bills, contact Patricia Myers at 439-8074.

In addition, pay grade changes were recommended for the Admissions Coordinator (C33 to C34), Buyer (A26 to C30) and Bookstore Manager (C40 to C44). It is estimated that the total additional cost of implementing these changes will be about $200,000 for the 1989-90 fiscal year.

SUMMER BAND CAMP

Palm Beach Community College will present the final concert of Summer Band Camp on Friday, July 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Duncan Theatre.

The awards concert, which features students from grades seven through 12, is free and open to the public. There will be three band performances, including a jazz performance.

The participating band directors will include Wayne Miller, Palm Beach Gardens High School; Randy Sonntag, Jupiter Middle School; Doug Harris, Spanish River High School; and Peter Skowronek, Spanish River High School.

For more information, call Richard Mucci, 8218.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Please be informed that based on the prevailing evidence of the detrimental effects of inhaling tobacco smoke on the health of smokers and non-smokers alike, the Administration has designated all indoor areas of the Central Campus as non-smoking areas, with the exception of the south end of the cafeteria.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 23 July 24, 1989

FLORIDA-CANADA INSTITUTE

Palm Beach Community College's effort to advance Canadian studies has resulted in a cooperative effort between the University of Central Florida and PBCC.

Funded by a $50,000 state grant, the Florida-Canada Institute is designed to promote language training; faculty, student and cultural exchange; cooperative research; area studies; curriculum enrichment for public schools; and public-private sector project development.

The Institute was founded in 1987 and represents agreements between the State University System and the Florida Division of Community Colleges with counterpart organizations of higher education in host countries. The Institutes are co-administered by a university and community college who have demonstrated leadership, expertise, and interest in being co-directors for the project.

The Office of International Education in the Florida Department of Education oversees the development of each Institute in cooperation with the Board of Regents, Division of Community Colleges, Department of Commerce and Department of State. The Institutes are a key element in developing the critical expertise and resources in our educational system necessary for Florida to be internationally competent and competitive.

John Townsend, PBCC Coordinator of Continuing Education and Co-Director of the Florida-Canada Institute, is enthusiastic about the growth of the project and the value it offers to PBCC students, faculty, administration and the public.

The Institute has provided grant money for faculty members who have gone on to study the Canadian culture as well as bring American traditions to the Canadian people. PBCC Speech Instructor Sunny Meyer has received funding to study in Canada. Additionally, guest lecturers have spoken at PBCC on a variety of subjects.

"PBCC is responsible for informing not only the college population but all of South Florida about Canada. With the continued growth of the Florida-Canada Institute, we will be expanding our responsibilities," Townsend said.

FROM POLAND TO PBCC

. . ."People say but you are only a garbage man . . . but I say . . . yes . . . but I am free." . . . Wojciech A. Szynaka, Polish Defector, PBCC Student.

It's a long way from Bialystok, Poland to Palm Beach Community College, Lake Worth, Florida. Actually, it's 5,390 miles. . .give or take a few kilometers. But Wojciech Szynaka (Voytek Shinaka) never worried about how many frequent flyer miles he was racking-up or how long it would take to reach his final destination.

The quest for freedom and political asylum led Szynaka to defect from his native country, Poland, and begin an odyssey that could easily be a screenplay for a TV movie of the week.

The story begins on August 23, 1985, but months of preparation and careful planning led to this final moment. The then 24-year old Szynaka had been trying to leave Poland after being arrested for his protests against communism and socialistic policies. A student at Warsaw University, Szynaka wanted to pursue a law career, but was told that his politics would not afford him the career he wanted. "Having no future, I had to leave," he said. "I did not like the government and how it was running the country."

PBCC Student Wojciech A. Szynaka

In Szynaka's home town of Bialystok, which is northwest of Warsaw, his parents were professionals who raised their son to believe in the value of education. Szynaka's father was an engineer, and his mother was a university administrator who encouraged him to learn the English language at an early age. His grandfather was also an educator who told his grandson, "If you are rich, they can steal what you have. . .but if you have knowledge, no one can take that away."

Szynaka remembers his grandfather's words as he prepares for a career in computer programming at PBCC. "I believe in education and I believe in knowledge," Szynaka said. "I can be anything I want to be in America."

It was his pursuit of educational and personal freedom that drove Szynaka to escape a country that offered its citizens few luxuries, or even a steady supply of meat, and yet it is a country he deeply loved.

When he decided to defect, he left no stone unturned. Having repeatedly been denied a passport to Sweden from the Polish authorities, Szynaka applied for a passport to Yugoslavia. His father was originally scheduled to take a trip but had grown ill, so Szynaka seized upon the opportunity. After several weeks, he was granted a passport, and he secretly gathered visas to Sweden, Denmark, and Greece. He also discreetly purchased a one-way ticket from Zagreb, Yugoslavia to Copenhagen, Denmark.

When he arrived in Yugoslavia, he headed for Zagreb. "I was very nervous about crossing the borders from Poland," he recalls. "I had hidden my plane ticket and only hoped the border guards would pay little attention to me."

Yet, while Szynaka was slipping through customs into Sweden, his worries were not over. His girlfriend, Malgorzata, now his wife and mother of their three-year old daughter, was herself enroute to Ystad, Sweden, where they were to rendezvous.

Malgorzata had managed to acquire a passport and a Swedish Visa and was on a Polish ferry. The star-crossed lovers had prearranged to meet at the Port in Ystad on August 29. All that was missing was James Bond and the KGB.

Szynaka had family in Sweden and hoped to settle there; yet, after contacting Swedish immigration authorities, his dreams were dashed. Szynaka and Malgorzata were told that there was little chance of having their visas extended, and they would be forced to return to Poland.

Fearing further government reprisals, they left for Athens, Greece on September 5 where they sought political asylum in the United States.

Szynaka went to the Tolstoy Foundation in Athens, an organization founded in 1939 by author Leo Tolstoy's daughter to resettle refugees from the Iron Curtain and Soviet Block. The Foundation acts as an intermediary between the refugees and the host country and supplies financial support and counseling to immigrants.

In October of 1985, Szynaka and Malgorzata were married but they did not leave Athens for the United States until August of 1986. Like thousands of others seeking asylum, the Szynaka's first arrived in New York, and then moved to Detroit where many Iron Curtain refugees are initially placed.

Szynaka settled in as a student at Macomb Community College. It was the bitter cold winters of Michigan that led the couple to Lake Worth, where he is employed by the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority and carries a 16-hour course load per semester at PBCC.

While Szynaka works and attends school, his wife takes care of their daughter who was born in Detroit in November of 1986. "The most important thing to me is that my baby has everything she needs. We are now able to give her a childhood as beautiful as possible."

Szynaka misses his homeland and his family. "I would like them to come to live in this country, but they say they are too old to change." Yet he quickly states that he has a new home. "This is our country now," he said proudly, "And we will become American citizens."

Upon his graduation from PBCC, Szynaka plans to attend Florida Atlantic University. "We have a peaceful life now," he said. "We don't have to worry about food or what we say. . .the American people are lucky to have so much. I don't think they know how lucky they really are."

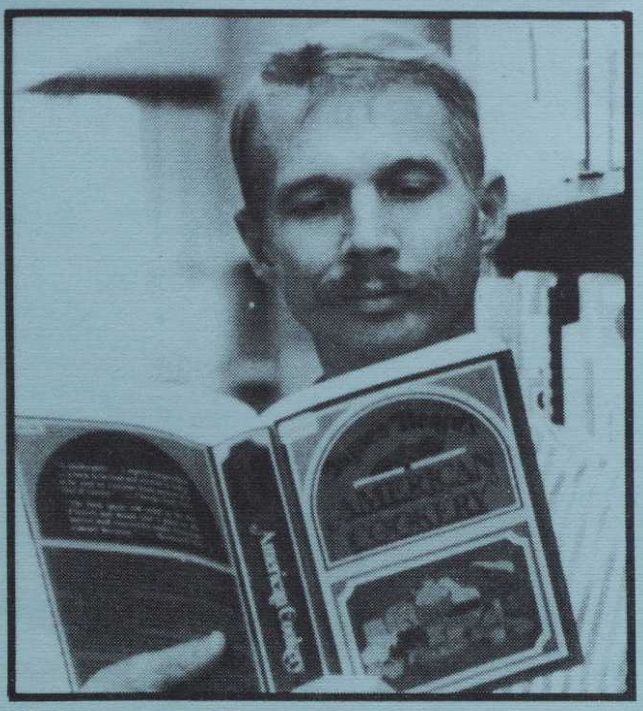
PBCC PRESIDENT RECOGNIZED

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey has been recognized as one of the top community college presidents nationwide as voted upon by his peers. Eissey was one of the few selected to receive top honors from the over 1,300 community college and technical/vocational school CEO'S nominated.

Eissey was presented with a Leadership Medallion in honor of his achievements by the Community College Leadership Program headquartered at the University of Texas in Austin.

In the past year, Eissey has been instrumental in the continued growth of PBCC through increased student enrollment and academic programs, the continued success of existing curriculum, and the College's recent acquisition of the Burt Reynolds Jupiter Theatre and Lannan Museum.

LOCAL CHEF DONATES BOOKS



Chef Kurt Willumsen

The PBCC North Campus LLRC was recently given a large number of books on food and cookery. This fascinating and useful collection is a gift from local chef Kurt Willumsen, formerly of The Colony Hotel, Palm Beach.

Included in the collection are classics by noted culinary writers such as James Beard; Jacques Pepin; Elizabeth David; Mimi Sheraton; and Mapie, Countess of Toulouse-Lautrec. Also contained in this gift are bound volumes of "Gourmet" (1971-present); "Food and Wine" (1978-present); a complete set of Time-Life "Foods of the World" series, and an extensive collection of menus from around the world.

Virtually every aspect of the culinary craft is covered by the Willumsen gift. Some of the books were used by Willumsen when he was a student at The Culinary Institute at Hyde Park, New York.

SUMMER COMMENCEMENT

Dr. Claude H. Rhea, President of Palm Beach Atlantic College, will be the featured speaker at PBCC's Summer Commencement scheduled for August 3 at 8 p.m. in the Central Campus Gymnasium.

Rhea will address about 481 PBCC degree candidates and their families as well as College administrators, faculty and friends.

A President's Reception honoring the graduates will be held on August 3 at ll a.m. at the SAC Lounge on Central Campus.

ORNAMENTAL HORTICULTURE

After nearly five years in the planning, PBCC's Ornamental Horticulture Technology program is now being offered at the PBCC Central, North and South Campuses.

Introduction to Horticulture, Ornamental Plant Identification, and Golf Course/Turf Management are among the 15 specialized courses being offered.

Occupational areas of study include Nursery and Garden Center Grower/Operator, Sales, Golf Course Operations, Landscape Design, Installation and Maintenance, Interiorscape and Sod Production.

The Ornamental Horticulture Technology Program is designed for students interested in a career in the horticulture industry. The student may choose to pursue an Associate in Science Degree by completing general education requirements in addition to the horticulture courses.

Representatives from the plant nursery, growers, landscape, golf course and pest contol industries have assisted the College in the implementation of this new program.

PBCC has targeted a specific growth area in terms of career opportunities and has made available those courses which will allow students to pursue substantial careers in a relatively limitless industry.

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 24 July 31, 1989

THE GOLDEN AGE OF GOODWIN

Scene one: A baby girl is born to vaudevillan parents on December 5, 1912 in Hornell, New York. Named Nancy Felman, she would later marry and become Nancy Goodwin.

Director's note: Character is spunky, intelligent, articulate and full of energy. Makes friends easily. Is very outgoing and generous.

Scene two: After attending nursing school in New York in the early '30's, she enrolls at Northwestern University in Illinois. She wins a scriptwriting contest sponsored by NBC Radio, and eventually begins writing for WRC Radio, later to be known as ABC Radio and Television.

Scene three: World War II breaks out and character joins the Red Cross. When the war ends, she returns to the work force as a freelance scriptwriter, and in 1948, is hired by ABC-TV in Chicago.

Director's note: Who should be cast in the role? Hepburn, Davis, Crawford? No actress could do Nancy Goodwin justice. Character must play herself...and she does.

A pioneer in the early days of television, when the cathode ray tube was no more than just a little box with pictures, and had little, if any chance of succeeding, Goodwin took the medium by storm.

Realizing that TV was no bridge game novelty, Goodwin became ABC's first scriptwriter in Chicago. She wrote comedies, mysteries and quiz shows. She originated the mystery series, "Stand By For Crime," that featured Mike Wallace.

In 1949, she was transferred to Hollywood and wrote the first live TV western, "The Marshall of Gunsight Pass," which starred Art Linkletter and some of the Marx Brothers. But her credits do not end in a one-horse town where the sheriff always gets the girl. Goodwin was the writer for "Tin Pan Alley TV," "Toast of the Town," and the "Skip Farrell Show."

She also wrote for radio at stations from New York and Washington, D.C. to San Juan, Puerto Rico and Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. She was the senior copy writer for the advertising firm of McCann and Erickson in New York where she wrote many of Betty Furness' Westinghouse commercials.

PBCC OFFERS ON SITE CLASSES

In a continuing effort to advance the Vocational Education programs at Palm Beach Community College, classes have been added for Northern Telecom Technicians in the areas of hydraulics and pneumatics.

Thirty-five Northern Telecom Facility Maintenance Technicians have recently participated in two college credit classes which focused on the principles and applications of hydraulics and pneumatics in an electronics manufacturing facility.

Experiments for these courses require the use of specialized laboratory equipment which is available in the newly-renovated PBCC/Motorola Center for Innovation and Technology Transfer at PBCC Central.

In order to reduce travel time and provide more lab hours for students, PBCC has moved the lab equipment to Northern Telecom's facility in Riviera Beach. This effort has resulted in a significant decrease in non-productive time for employees taking courses and an increased availability of the lab for conducting experiments.

Goodwin had told writer Kathy Williams of the Palm Beach Post Times in January of 1983 that she was proudest of one show in particular, "Stand By For Crime." "It was the first show that opened from Chicago to New York with 37 stations in between. Our opposition was Milton Berle and Arthur Godfrey," she said.

In 1952, Goodwin covered the Democratic and Republican conventions for the ABC-TV network. Her desire to cover all subjects led her not only to the political forum but to the sports arena as well. She wrote for "Sports Review" which starred Red Grange.

While Goodwin continued to work steadily in her chosen field, she refused to accept the passing years as a barrier to her continued successes. Joining the staff of PBCC, Goodwin established the Senior Players at the College in 1980 and served as program director. This non-profit traveling entertainment group is made up of students, 55-85 years young, who are interested in performing for various audiences on a volunteer basis. Goodwin believed that no one should waste away in retirement when they could be leading active and productive lives.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey said, "Nancy was an extraordinary talent and an even more extraordinary human being. Her work with the Senior Players was a credit to the College and a gift to the community. We are all saddened by her loss. She will be greatly missed."

Final scene: With her passing at age 76 on July 23, Goodwin leaves a sterling career and a legacy of excellence.

Director's note: A memorial service is planned for August 10, 4 p.m. in CE 121 at Central Campus.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 25 August 7, 1989

PBCC ACADEMIC SUPERIORITY

Palm Beach Community College's ongoing effort to promote outstanding classroom instruction and motivated student interaction with both the College's faculty and administration has yielded a high-caliber educational experience for students in 125 degree programs.

While these curriculums exist in a myriad of program offerings, PBCC's Child Development Course taught by Barbara Sabonis-Chafee recently produced two extraordinary student projects which directly impacted the South Florida environment.

This regularly-scheduled course in the College's Social Science Department allows students to examine various aspects of child development and how future educators and parents can effectively interact with youngsters.

Two students produced projects that not only incorporated the precepts of basic child care development education, but also subject matter that was timely in its presentation of environmental issues that potentially affect both mankind and wildlife.

Pat Wujceak of Wellington, who is a freshman at PBCC, entered into a study with her 16-year old son that focused on the artificial reef project. After finding out that funding for the reef project was in jeopardy, Wujceak and her son, Paul Holt, began a letter-writing campaign that eventually led to a petition which was signed by hundreds of people who were in favor of funding the reef project.

The program was subsequently funded and credit has been given to Wujceak and Holt for demonstrating the value of the reef project to South Florida residents.

A second project, completed by Mary Janell Simonds of Lake Worth, developed a preschool curriculum for children about "My Friend Planet Earth." This course design explained the value of Earth's natural resources to children through both songs and hands-on projects like playground clean-ups and in class environmental games.

These projects are but a small sampling of the dedicated efforts made by PBCC students to make significant contributions to their communities.

TAX DEFERRED INVESTMENTS

On Monday, August 21, a "Benefits Fair" will be held in Conference Room C from 10:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Representatives from companies authorized to market 403(b) tax deferrals will be available to explain the advantages of their programs using pre-tax monies for long term investments.

In an effort to provide College personnel with basic information about 403(b) tax deferrals, a film on 403(b) Retirement Plans and Investments will be shown on Wednesday, August 9 at 12:30 p.m. in Conference Room C on the Central Campus if there is sufficient interest by College personnel. Please call Shirley Pember at 8018 if you are interested in attending such a session.

In its second year, this annual scholarship is sponsored by the Data Processing Management Association and funded through various activities sponsored by the West Palm Beach group.

SECOND BUILDING AT SOUTH

After enduring nearly two decades in trailers, Palm Beach Community College South plans to open its first building, and construction of a second building is underway.

The first permanent structure, which is scheduled to open this month at the Boca Raton campus, includes 16 classrooms and 14 faculty offices.

The second structure, the Academic Laboratory Building, will feature biology, physics and chemistry labs as well as art and photography studios. The new building will also house a foreign language lab, electronics, word processing and secretarial labs plus a TV and video lab. Construction is expected to be completed by June of 1990.

SPRING/SUMMER GRADUATION

With a trumpet fanfare and cheering crowd as backdrop, Palm Beach Community College held its Spring/Summer '89 Graduation on August 3 at the Central Campus Gymnasium.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey commended the 504 degree candidates for their hard work and commitment to education. "The students gathered here this evening have proven themselves worthy of the great honors about to be bestowed upon them," Eissey said.

Dr. Claude Rhea, Palm Beach Atlantic College President, delivered the commencement address to the 440 Associate in Arts candidates and 64 Associate in Science Degree recipients.

In challenging the graduates to be all they could be and strive to help others Rhea said, "You live in a privileged time...we're moving into the 21st century and we have cause to reflect. It's your opportunity to fashion the new American dream."

Proud parents Howard Utman and Carol Miceli presented diplomas to their children. Wendy Sue Utman and Lauryanne Marie Miceli were joined in this distinguished honor roll by Lydia Clayton who accepted her diploma from her sister, Sophia Klopp.

FAST BREAK HONORS STUDENTS

Approximately 250 friends, relatives and College employees attended the graduation of 91 Fast Break participants. The event marked the third year of the Fast Break program which was developed to assist minority high school graduates with the transition to college.

This year, the program was supported in part by corporate sponsors Southern Bell and Pratt & Whitney. Previously, the program operated on a more limited enrollment scale through a Florida Academic Improvement Trust Fund Grant.

Following welcoming remarks by PBCC President Edward M. Eissey, recognition of guests by Vice President of Student Affairs Melvin Haynes, and the invocation by Rose Marie Reiners, congratulatory comments were made on behalf of Southern Bell and Pratt & Whitney by William B. Howden, Vice President, Community and Government Relations of Pratt & Whitney.

The audience members were then treated to a skit written and performed by Fast Break graduates Barbara Garcia and Natalie Richardson. The presentation featured the benefits of Fast Break versus the usual summer at the beach.

COMPUTER LAB AT SOUTH

Palm Beach Community College South Campus has introduced a degree program in Computer Information Systems Analysis in addition to a variety of new computer courses. The specialized computer classes will be held in the recently-constructed classroom building.

South Campus students now have access to a state-of-the-art computer laboratory where computer programming languages and a series of applications program courses will be offered. Several one-credit hour courses for students unfamiliar with computers will also be offered through the Palm Beach Community College PC Institute.

In addition, the lab enables students to pursue a Computer Information Systems Analysis Associate in Science Degree at the South Campus.

In an effort to kick-off the use of the laboratory, the Introduction to Computers course will be offered at 10 different time periods during the day and evening beginning fall term. Classes will be offered in PC Starter, Disk Operating Systems (DOS), Lotus, Wordperfect, and dBase III. Computer Programming courses will be offered in Fortran, Cobol, C Language, and Assembly Language for the PC.

Joe Bukowski, Division Chairman at the South Campus, said that the most outstanding feature of the computer laboratory and the PC Institute is the faculty. "Our faculty are all very competent in the computer area and are excellent teachers and tremendous communicators. They are dedicated to putting the students at ease with computers," he said.

Registration for fall term is underway, and classes will begin on August 23.

For more information about the expanded computer course offerings at Palm Beach Community College South, please call 367-2213.

BUCKAROO BARD AT DUNCAN

Waddie Mitchell, a cowboy poet, will bring down the final curtain in the Duncan Theatre's summer series saluting the Spirit of the West with performances on August 18 and 19.

Buckaroo Bard was raised in the cattle country of Nevada where he made his living roping calves, riding horses, and writing poetry. His simple storytelling brings back the days of the old West.

Performance time is 8 p.m., and tickets are $8 and $12. For more information, please call the Duncan Theatre Box Office at 439-8141.

William L. McCray, Director of Articulation and University Access Service at Florida A & M University, introduced the guest speaker and made comments to the Fast Break graduates about the difference between a person's reputation and their actual character.

The President of the Florida Endowment Fund for Higher Education Israel Tribble, Jr. served as the featured speaker at the event. He opened his comments by again thanking the corporate co-sponsors and stating "I feel that in the future, the private corporate sector and the public sector must pool their resources. Human, financial, intellectual, and technological resources must be combined to make things happen."

Tribble related the remainder of his speech to a popular hit song titled, "I Knew You Were Waiting for Me." He talked about the uncertainties of the future and that education is their edge against uncertainty. "We need you to succeed. We need you to come out and solve the problems that are mounting," he said.

After the guest speaker presentation, each campus presented the Fast Break participants with certificates. The Central Campus Fast Break students included Stacey Albury, Niel Apostolupoulos, Carl Bunch, Lisa Burton, Claudia Cole, Rhonda Coney, Gustavo Darino, Yolanda Dickens, Monica Frazier, Shondra Frazier, Jocelyn Gaines, Barbara Garcia, Ernesto Garcia, Adrea Hagopian and Pedro Hernandez.

Other Central Campus students graduating were Ingrid Hunter, Donald Hylton, Yolanda Johnson, Anita Joseph, Victor Keaton, Tania Lago, Anna Leon, Sara Martin, Melvin Mateo, Michelle Peterson, Natalie Richardson, Sergio Rojas, Rose Rosario, Gerald Russell, Scarlet Sanchez, Annette Smith and Michelle Spain.

Michelle Stevens, Demetrios Thomas, Javier Valencia, Mauricio Veloz, Mark White, Angela Wilkins, Mary Williams, Aston Willis, Bonita Wong, Alisa Wright, and Herman Zapata were also graduates from Central Campus.

North Campus Fast Breakers included Lakisha Alexander, Patricia Alvarez, John Burch, Bridgette Bush, Henry J. Cook, Michelle Davis, Kimberly Ferguson, Pamela Glass, Stacey Graham, Cordelle Hayes, Kimberly Jackson, Lara Kelly, Adrian Lowery, and Kenroy McFarlane.

Also honored were Sherell Minor, Jerome Moses, Theresa Muzzio, Tonya Oliver, Roderick Oneal, Rodger Pickering, Eyeck Saeeung, Michele Scott, Dionne Smith, Evangela Thomas, Tara Whipple, Laphelia Whiting, Sonya Williams and Timothy Winn.

Fast Break South Campus graduates were Omar Bowra, James Bradley, Kelsey Bruton, Carolyn Evans, Paul Fulton, Carmen Lopez, Tracie Malone, Kenneth Matthews, and Ana Pereira.

The Glades Campus Fast Breakers included Antashia Brown, Tracey Butler, Sanquetta Cowan, Catherine Granville, Elsa Knight, Rossette Leveille, Raed Mustara, Rose Reiners, Tova Robinson and Sonja Stewart.

All mentors, faculty advisors, and administrators involved with Fast Break were recognized by Debra McCray for their participation. The Scholarship Awards were presented to (North) Jerome Moses II, (South) Carmen Lopez, (Glades) Lorna Wescarth, (Central) Bonita Wong.

At the closing of the ceremony, Debra McCray thanked everyone and said goodbye as she has taken another position in Tallahassee. PBCC President Edward M. Eissey had earlier described the occasion as bittersweet referring to the success of Fast Break and the sadness at losing McCray.

Marvita Davis, PBCC Director of Financial Aid, presents a Fast Break Scholarship Award to North Campus student Jerome Moses II during the Fast Break graduation.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

MUSIC FOR KIDS

Palm Beach Community College, Central Campus Divisions of Humanities and Continuing Studies, will offer the Preparatory School of Music Program September 23 through December 16 for children four-to-17 years of age. Classes are scheduled for Saturdays during the program's 12-week session.

Orientation for students and their parents will be held on Saturday, September 9 at 10 a.m. in the Central Campus Humanities Building.

With courses offered in strings, piano, guitar, electronic keyboard and basic theory, this curriculum affords children the opportunity to begin their musical training at an early age.

A special pre-school program for four-to-six year olds will also be offered with the purpose of developing rhythm, movement, and drama skills in the younger students.

The Preparatory School of Music is designed to augment music instruction offered by the public schools. Under the direction of Hugh Albee, the Preparatory School of Music begins its fourth year by bringing together a distinguished group of music educators.

Albee is enthusiastic about the Preparatory School of Music and feels that students greatly benefit from additional music study.

"This program ensures a wide range of music instruction. The students have the opportunity to learn several music disciplines. This year, we will be using new equipment that will only further enhance the already outstanding program," Albee said.

For further information and registration materials, please contact the Palm Beach Community College Music Department at 439-8142 or Continuing Studies at 439-8006.

GOLF TOURNAMENT AT SOUTH

Palm Beach Community College South will host its fourth annual golf tournament on Thursday, September 28 at Boca Raton's Stonebridge Golf & Country Club.

The four man scramble will begin at 12:30 p.m. The tournament will benefit the student scholarship fund at South Campus.

PBCC: AN AFFORDABLE OPTION

PBCC is a very affordable educational option for residents of Palm Beach County. In-state tuition is only $24.50 per credit hour or about $600 per year for the full-time student.

According to a nationwide survey conducted by the College Board, a nonprofit educational association in New York, students will pay an average of five-to-nine percent more for college tuition and fees in 1989-90 than in previous years. The increases will be determined by the type of institution in which the student enrolls.

"Despite annual increases in college charges, students and parents should realize that a college education continues to be within reach of virtually every qualified student," said College Board President, Donald M. Stewart. "Planning is the key to paying for college today," he said.

With financial aid providing the boost over the top for many families, almost half of all college students receive some form of public or private assistance today, and student aid in the United States has reached an all-time high of $26 billion.

Data from the College Board's latest Annual Survey of Colleges shows that students at four-year public colleges will pay an average of $1,694 for tuition and fees in 1989-90. This figure is up seven percent from last year. Those attending two-year public colleges will pay an average of $842 for tuition and fees. This cost has increased by five percent over the 1988-89 figures.

Those students living at home can expect to pay about $1,800 to $2,250 for books, supplies, transportation, and personal expenses.

The average student who lives in college housing can expect to pay $3,039 to $3,898 for room and board plus tuition and fees. Books, supplies, transportation and personal expenses will add about $1,700 to $1,900 to expenses.

This year's survey is based upon information received from a majority of the nation's two-year and four-year institutions, both private and public.

The College Board will publish detailed expense estimates for more than 3,100 colleges in the 1989-90 edition of The College Cost Book.

STUDENTS SAY CHARGE IT!

Palm Beach Community College now accepts MASTERCARD and VISA credit cards for the payment of tuition fees at all campuses. Only six weeks ago, the College began accepting credit cards for payment of fees for the first time in PBCC's 56-year history.

PBCC District Registrar Scott MacLachlan said that the students have been very receptive to the new option. "The acceptance of credit cards offers a tremendous advantage to the student and to the College. Charging tuition fees and items from the bookstore will assist in defraying the immediate expenses of higher education," he said.

Since many students are unaware of the new option, faculty members are asked to inform their classes of the credit card choice.

PBCC LANGUAGE LAB

Palm Beach Community College's Multimedia Lab is housed on the first floor of the Central Campus Library adjacent to the Audio-Visual Department. Designed to offer students individualized instruction in Spanish, Italian, and French, the lab uses state-of-the-art audio-visual resources as well as personal computers equipped with software which is compatible with presently-used student texts.

Monies for the lab came from categorical funding appropriated by the State legislature. The lab, in the Central Campus Library, was originally a storage area which was renovated to house the 25 individual learning stations.

Central Campus Communications Program Manager Herb Perez is pleased with the new facility and encourages all students to utilize the equipment, whether they are taking a foreign language or not.

"This opportunity offers students an interesting challenge to broaden their foreign language skills. We are enthusiastic about how this facility will benefit the PBCC students," he said.

The Multimedia Lab on Central Campus will be open Monday through Thursday, 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday, 7 a.m. to 4 p.m.; and beginning Saturday, September 23, 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

For more information, please call 8137.

TRUSTEES BEGIN NEW YEAR

During the first Board Meeting of the academic year held Wednesday, August 23, Palm Beach Community College Trustees approved a budget resolution and a termination agreement ending the College's involvement with the construction of the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts (PAC).

In other business, the Board approved Educational Specifications for a Fine Arts Theater on the North Campus of Palm Beach Community College. The Auditorium/Theater Specifications include a light/sound stage, a media and teleproduction center, and facilities for the Institute for Theatre Training. This action is in anticipation of the College receiving the $8.7 million in PECO funds earmarked for a PBCC fine arts theater.

The agenda also included the approval of a lease agreement between the College and the Palm Beach Community College Foundation for the operation of the Lannan Museum. In addition, the Board approved an agreement to provide library services to Florida Atlantic University students on the Palm Beach Community College North Campus.

A budget resolution was approved to fund the operation of the Lannan Museum. The College is to be reimbursed by the PBCC Foundation through future grant, state and Lannan Endowment interest funds.

Several new administrative and managerial staff were introduced. Two of the new employees, Craig Gero, Baseball Coach and Specialist for Student Affairs on Central Campus, and Virginia Johnson, Women's Tennis Coach and Yearbook Coordinator, are PBCC alumni.

Those new appointees who were introduced included Gladys Dunkle, Director of LLRC on the North Campus, Dr. David Prather, Director of Continuing Studies/Learning Unlimited on Central Campus, Dr. Robert McLeod, Program Manager for the CPI on South Campus, and Herb Perez, Program Manager for Communications on Central Campus.

The next meeting of the Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees is scheduled for Wednesday, September 20 at 6 p.m. on Central Campus.

PBCC OFFERS PASSPORT TO EDUCATION

On Thursday, August 31, Palm Beach Community College, in conjunction with Students for International Understanding (SIU), hosted a reception for foreign students in the Central Campus Student Activities Center Lounge.

PBCC's Foreign Student Advisor Danita Kurtz greeted students, administrators and faculty while SIU members passed out College literature and information about the community.

Designed to acquaint PBCC's foreign students with the College's policies and programs, the reception afforded interested students the opportunity to meet both faculty and administrative staff members. Patricia Dyer, Vice President of Academic Affairs, encouraged the students to get the most from their education while at PBCC.

Luciano Uenoyama, an advertising design student from Brazil, was enthusiastic about the program and Palm Beach Community College.

"I came to this College for a better standard of living," said Luciano. "I have learned a great deal about this country since coming to PBCC, and SIU has helped me greatly."

Students from countries all over the world were present at the reception which is an annual event. Some of the countries represented were Brazil, Italy, Sweden, Canada, Lebanon, Malaysia and Colombia.

According to Kurtz, the purpose of the SIU Club is to promote an understanding among the diverse cultures attending PBCC by scheduling various educational, academic and recreational events throughout the academic year.

PEREZ NAMED TO NEW POST

F. Herb Perez

F. Herb Perez has been named Communications Program Manager at PBCC Central Campus. Perez assumes his new position after 21 years of service to PBCC. He joined the College in 1968 as an instructor in the foreign language department where he taught Spanish and French. Prior to assuming his new post, he served as Communications Program Leader at Central Campus.

Perez received his bachelor's degree from the University of Miami in Coral Gables in 1962 and was awarded a master's degree in 1968, also from the University of Miami.

Professionally, Perez is a member of Pi Delta Phi, the French honorary society.

When not consumed with the responsibilities of his new post, Perez will be busy with another undertaking. He has recently been selected as the new restaurant writer for the Palm Beach Post, where he will have the enviable task of dining at many area restaurants. Perez, a gourmet cook, was previously the restaurant writer for the Palm Beach Review.

SOUTH CPI PROGRAM MANAGER

Norman McLeod has been appointed Program Manager for the Center for Personalized Instruction at PBCC South. McLeod brings several years of experience to this newly-created post, having served as the former Coordinator of the College Skills Lab at Central Florida Community College (CFCC) in Ocala where he supervised the Academic Tutorial Program. In addition, he taught College Prep Math, English and Reading courses at CFCC from 1983-89.

He was awarded a bachelor's degree from the University of Florida and earned his master's and education specialist degrees from Nova University. In 1985, he received his Ph.D. from the University of Florida.

McLeod holds membership in the Florida Association of Community Colleges (FACC) and served as 1989 Chapter President; Florida Developmental Education Association (FDEA); and Florida Community College Reading Council (FCCRC).

ENROLLMENT CLIMBS

Fall term enrollment as of the fourth day of classes at Palm Beach Community College showed an increase of 10.26 percent over this same period last year.

PBCC South registered the largest gain, up 15.35 percent. PBCC Glades increased 15.03 percent, and PBCC North followed with a gain of 11.12 percent. PBCC Central Campus had an increase of 4.23 percent.

SILK PAINTING WORKSHOP

The art of silk painting has long been considered a delicate procedure that requires extreme patience and skill. Finished products are often described as "wearable art" and have become not only stylish clothing but also conversation pieces.

This extraordinary craft will be taught by well-known silk painter Shirley Waxman during a two-day workshop on October 3 and 4 at Palm Beach Community College's Central Campus.

The seminar will be held from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in SC 105 and requires a $60 supply fee.

The class will begin with an overview of the different types of silk that are appropriate for use and how each reacts to dyes. Additionally, instruction will be given on how to stretch fabric "on grain" and how to set the dyes to make the silk painting permanent and washable through the use of steam.

It is suggested that old clothes be worn during the workshop to avoid soiling. For more information, contact Celeste Beck at 8090.

LATIN AMERICAN MUSIC

Stephen Robinson, guitarist, will entertain with Spanish/Mexican music for one performance only at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center in Belle Glade. World-renowned guitarist Andres Segovia said of Robinson: "He is one of the most brilliant guitarists of our time."

The performance will be held at 8 p.m. Tickets are $8. For information, call 996-7529.

CARTOONS ON DISPLAY

Don Wright and Pat Crowley, political cartoonists for the Palm Beach Post, will display their work and talk about their cartoons and craft at the PBCC Central Campus LLRC, second floor gallery, on Wednesday, September 27 at 11 a.m.

The general public is invited, and admission is free.

GOLF TOURNEY AT SOUTH

Palm Beach Community College South will host its fourth annual golf tournament on Thursday, September 28 at Boca Raton's Stonebridge Golf and Country Club. The four-man scramble format will begin with a shotgun start at 12:30 p.m.

Designed to benefit the student scholarship fund, tournament entry fees are $400 per team, or $100 per person. The hole sponsor fee is $100. Entries must be received by September 21.

At the conclusion of the tournament, a cocktail buffet will be held at 5:30 p.m. Door prizes will be given at this time, and the top four finishing teams will be recognized and presented with their awards.

For more information, please contact Jim Tanner at South Campus, 367-2216.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

The President's Reception, an annual event honoring the PBCC District Board of Trustees and new full-time faculty members, will be held on Friday, September 29 from 5-7 p.m. in the President's Dining Room at Central Campus.

Invitations have been extended to all full-time faculty members, administrators, and other invited guests. Please return your acceptance cards to Lis Erling's office, mail station #18, as soon as possible. For more information, please call 8086.

PERSONALS

Dr. Robert Geraldi of South Campus recently returned from Guatemala where he conducted research. Work on the Nobel Prize winning author Miguel Angel Asturias took him to the Archivo General de Centroamérica and the Biblioteca César Brañes of the Universidad de San Carlos in Guatemala City. Research on the Popol Vuh of the Mayans and the Spanish legends of that country included oral interviews in the Sacatepéquez region and work in the headquarters of the Centro de Investijaciones Regionales de Mesoamérica.

At the WXEL Fundraising Telethon held on August 26 at the public broadcasting station in Boynton Beach, several PBCC staff members gave up their Saturday afternoon to help answer phones. Special thanks go to Nancy Buhl, Nita Johnson, Elizabeth Robinson, Chris Rogers and Ruth Triplett for their help in this worthwhile effort. Their support of WXEL and FACC is greatly appreciated.

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 31 September 25, 1989

GREEN'S MIDAS TOUCH

Palm Beach Community College alumnus Ken Green has become as notable on the putting green as off. A flamboyant personality and an innate athletic ability have led Green to the forefront of the Professional Golfer's Association (PGA) Tour where he earned nearly $800,000 in 1988 and has already taken home over $300,000 this year. Green is now number 31 on the PGA prize money list.

Green started playing golf at the age of 12 when his family moved to Honduras where his father was the principal at the American School. The PGA's official biography on Green quotes him as saying, "The only choices we had in Honduras were to play soccer or golf. I didn't want to kick the ball, so I just went to golf."

In the late seventies, Green came to PBCC on a full athletic scholarship and majored in business. After leaving PBCC, he continued his education at the University of Florida.

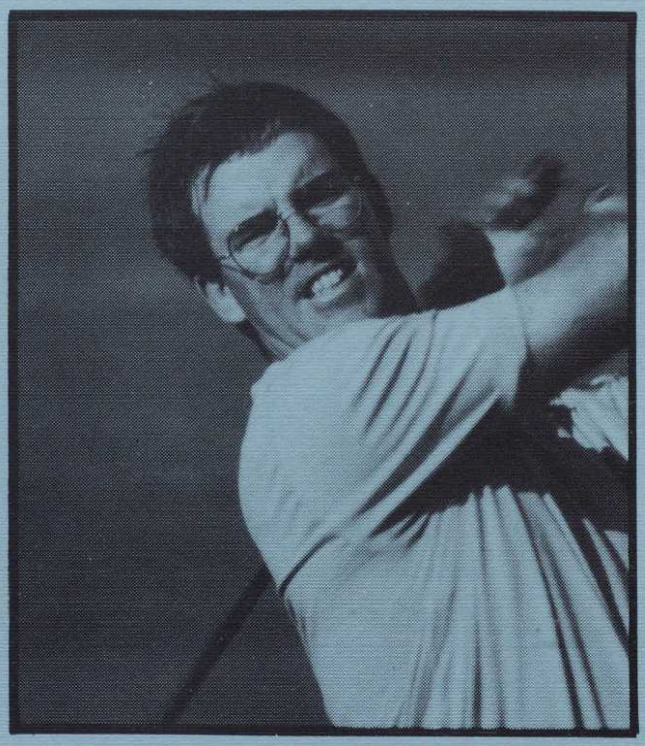
Green remembers the College fondly and was quick to point out the value of education. "Today, more than ever, I realize the importance of a good college education. Not everyone is going to be as lucky as I was as a professional athlete. A college education is something that no injury can ever take away from you."

Green turned professional in 1979. Since that time, he has steadily watched his career soar and has recorded tournament wins at the Canadian Open, Greater Milwaukee Open, the International, the Buick Open, and the Greater Greensboro Open.

Green presently resides at the Bear Lakes Country Club in West Palm Beach with wife Ellen, daughter Brooke, and sons Brad and Hunter. Green also has a son, Ken Jr., from a previous marriage, who resides in Connecticut.

Green hopes to be playing golf until his late thirties and looks forward to teaching his children the game, should they want to learn.

Presently, Green endorses Northern Telecom and plans another full year on the PGA Tour. He has already competed in 25 tournaments this year and is the '89 Greater Greensboro Open Champion. Green was scheduled to represent the United States in Ryder Cup competition September 22-24.



Ken Green takes a practice swing on the Bear Lakes Course in West Palm Beach.

PREPAID COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

The 1989 enrollment period for the Prepaid College Program began on September 18. This is the second year of the program which allows parents and other relatives to prepay a child's tuition at one of Florida's nine state universities or 28 community colleges at predetermined rates, lower than those at the time of future enrollment. Dormitory plans are also available.

The program offers a variety of payment plans to meet the needs of all incomes. Last year, more than 58,500 Prepaid College contracts were purchased. The current enrollment will run through January 12, 1990. To participate at this year's prices, enrollment must be completed during this time.

To obtain additional information about the Prepaid College Program, including brochures and applications, contact any Barnett Bank office or call Melvin Haynes, Jr. at Central Campus, 8050.

Physical Plant would like to inform the staff and faculty that the Energy Management System now in operation cools at 73 degrees, plus or minus two degrees, and heats at 68 degrees, plus or minus two degrees. We realize that these temperatures may be comfortable to some and not to others. The air conditioning mechanics will try to maintain these temperatures as closely as possible for the entire college. If your area is above or below the range, they will correct the problem as quickly as possible and contact department chairpersons to advise how long it will take. Thank you for your understanding. ...Claude Edwards

Central Campus Intramurals begin on October 10 and will be offered one night per week. Golf is scheduled first, followed by bowling. If you would like more information, please call Jennifer Strenges at 8070 or Esther Harden at 8227.

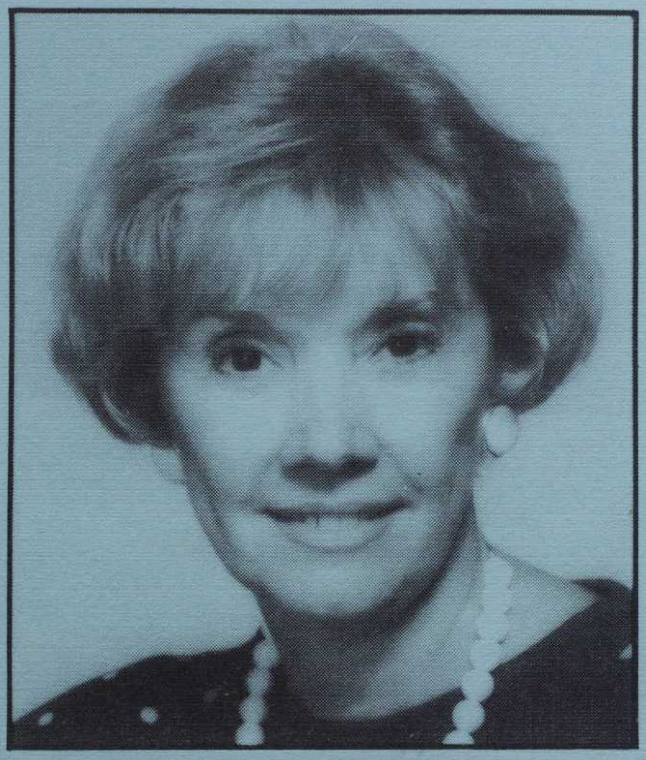
MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 32 October 2, 1989

DUNKLE HEADS NORTH LLRC



Gladys L. Dunkle

Gladys L. Dunkle has been appointed Director of the North Campus LLRC. Dunkle replaces Alice Zacherl who retired in June.

Dunkle brings several years of library experience to her new post at PBCC North. Before joining the College, she was employed by the Palm Beach County Library System where she was the Palm Beach Gardens Branch Manager. Prior to that, she served as Head of Reference Services for the County Library.

Dunkle received an associate in arts degree from the University of Florida and was awarded a bachelor's degree from the University of Tulsa. She earned a Master's Degree in Library Science from the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

The new Director holds membership in several professional organizations including Beta Phi Mu, library science honorary society; Sigma Tau Delta, English honor society; American Library Association; Florida Library Association; and the Palm Beach County Library Association.

QUALITY FIRST

To herald the beginning of PBCC's "Quality First" Program, a roundtable discussion was held on the North Campus last Monday. The event provided details of the new and innovative training program which focuses on quality improvement. Monday was also the first day of training for teams from six area organizations.

"Quality First" was established as a cooperative effort of the Palm Beach County Community Quality Council and Palm Beach Community College. Richard Miller, President of Gee and Jensen and Chairman of the Quality Council, served as moderator for the roundtable discussion.

In his introductory remarks, Miller complemented PBCC for its ability to respond to the needs of the community by organizing the training. He said, "This is an opportunity for businesses and other community groups to obtain quality improvement training at a reasonable cost." Cont'd on P 2

Ottis Smith, Provost of the PBCC's North Campus, and Richard Miller, President of Gee and Jensen, provided leadership for the innovative "Quality First" program.

SEPTEMBER BOARD MEETING

During the September 20 Board Meeting, Palm Beach Community College Trustees approved a new study tour to Spain for July of 1990. The 28-day tour is longer than previous study tours to Latin America and offers first-hand opportunities for students to interact with the Spaniards.

The study tour will include visits to a variety of cities including Madrid, Avila, Toledo, Segovia Sevilla, Granada, Valencia, and Barcelona. In addition, students will attend lectures at several Spanish universities.

The tour, which provides six credit hours, will be taught by Alyse Schoenfeldt, Assistant Professor at PBCC's North Campus. Prior to departure, students will study the Spanish culture.

The Board also approved a contract for photography for the 1990 PBCC Yearbook. After more than 15 years, the Yearbook is being recreated to provide a history of Palm Beach Community College's accomplishments and tradition.

Ottis Smith, Provost of the North Campus, gave an overview of the new "Quality First" program which is beginning at PBCC North. It is an innovative program which provides quality improvement training to small and medium-size businesses as well as individuals and community organizations. Plans are to establish "Quality First" as an ongoing project.

Trustees also approved preliminary plans for the Student Services/Office Building on the South Campus of Palm Beach Community College. The three-story building will house student services on the first floor, counseling and guidance on the second floor, and administration on the third floor.

It was announced that the next Board Meeting will be held at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, October 11 in Conference Room C on PBCC's Central Campus. This is the second Wednesday of the month instead of the regular date of the third Wednesday.

In addition, the date of the February Board Meeting will be changed to either the second or fourth Wednesday instead of the third Wednesday in February.

DISNEY WORLD DISCOUNT

PBCC members, families and friends can enjoy special Disney World discounts October 28-November 5. During this period, tickets are reduced to $21 and provide one day's admission to both Epcot and the Magic Kingdom. For more information, contact SGA Advisor Norma Walter at 8151.

PHILIPPE DREVET CONCERT

The Palm Beach Community College Division of Humanities will present world-renowned romantic pianist Philippe Drevet in concert on Sunday, October 8 at 3 p.m. The event will be held in the Duncan Theatre on Central Campus.

The concert is free to the public and will include selections from Faure, Messiaen, and Chopin.

For further information, please contact the PBCC Humanities Division at 439-8142.

ACTIVITIES DAY AT SOUTH

Palm Beach Community College's South Campus has scheduled a Student Activities Day on Friday, October 27 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The event is scheduled, rain or shine, through the College's Student Government Association and will include a picnic lunch and various informational booths.

The free event is designed to welcome new and returning students to the College. For further information, please contact Harris McGirt at 367-2206.

Other community leaders participating in the Round Table Discussion were Ted Moffett, Vice President of the Florida Power and Light Eastern Division; Dale Smith, Executive Director of the Economic Council of Palm Beach County; and Bob Carroll, Vice President of Communications for Pratt & Whitney.

In addition, Gloria Stewart, Director of Client Services for the Palm Beach County Development Board; Paul Twitty, Chief Executive Officer for Schwab, Twitty, and Hanser; and Wesley Oswald, Chief Executive Officer of Jupiter Medical Center, were present to endorse the program.

Jeanne Morgan, Assistant Vice President of Quality and Customer Service for the National Council for Compensation Insurance; Jerry Foland, President of Baron Signs; Cheryl Warner, Executive Vice President of Florida Nut & Bolt; and Edward M. Eissey, President of PBCC, completed the group involved in the discussion.

For more information concerning the "Quality First" program, please contact Ottis Smith, Palm Beach Community College North Campus Provost, at 622-2440, extension 251. Details of upcoming "Quality First" events will be featured in future Monday Reports.

The Monday Report deadline is Tues., 3 p.m.

THE ART OF LIVING

On August 10, 1980, Palm Beach Community College art student Edgar Allen Burnett went swimming at Lake Worth's John Prince Park. The day was sunny and warm. Burnett had just arrived from Kewanee, Illinois, having come South to visit his sister.

On August 11, 1980, Palm Beach Community College student Edgar Allen Burnett did not wake up from his previous night's sleep. In fact, he would not wake up for several days...and when he finally did, he was a quadriplegic.

A diving accident bound Burnett's 6'3" frame to a wheel chair for the rest of his natural life. From here, the story could degenerate into a soap opera afficionado's dream. Burnett was told he would never walk or have use of his arms and hands. As the list grew, Burnett's depression deepened.

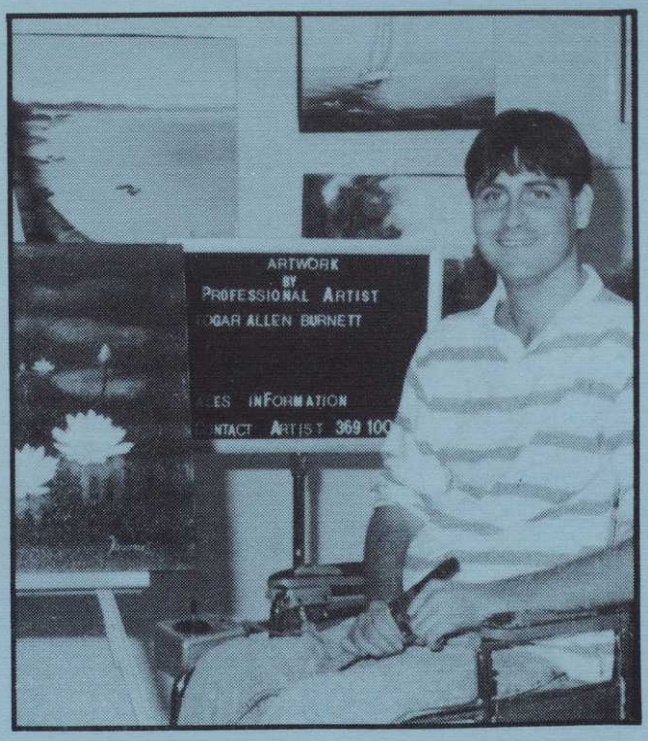
In a matter of minutes, Burnett's life had nearly been taken from him. Burnett bluntly states that death would have been much easier and initially more desirable then the loss of what most people take for granted...like getting out of bed in the morning, taking a shower and getting dressed.

Burnett's routine is far more complicated and forces him to begin preparing for his trip to PBCC nearly three hours in advance. While Burnett is able to take his own clothes off, he needs help to get them on. In a sense, he is a prisoner of his own body.

While many people would have given up and tried ending their lives, Burnett contemplated the thought and then realized that life was too valuable to sacrifice. It was Burnett's mother who gave him the motivation to go on when she pushed him to pursue the promising art career he had begun as a youth.

Burnett has marginal mobility in both hands and arms. By using both hands, Burnett is able to paint as though he had the use of his hands in a nonrestrictive fashion. Recently, Burnett has begun presenting one man art shows. This rededication to art enabled Burnett to win the newly-created Carr Memorial Fund for Art Scholarships presented by PBCC to students with promise in the art field. Burnett is the first recipient of the art scholarship, a fund which was established in January of 1989 by the parents of Chris Carr, a former PBCC art student who is deceased.

"A lot of good has come along with the bad," says Burnett. "There had to be a reason why I'm here. Maybe it was so others could realize that life doesn't have to stop and you don't have to give up doing things you like best just because you're not exactly whole anymore."



PBCC art student Edgar Allen Burnett

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Last spring, the PBCC Division of Continuing Education changed its name to Division of Continuing Studies/Learning Unlimited.

The name change was initiated due to several factors. According to Patricia Dyer, Vice President of Academic Affairs, the Continuing Studies Department has always been a vital part of the PBCC program.

The department provides professional instruction for health care workers and small business operators. Continuing Studies also reaches into other segments of the community. It offers learning activities for children through highly-successful programs such as Summer Camp, Band Camp and the Preparatory School of Music. Finally, the lives of area senior citizens have been immeasurably enriched through the Institute of New Dimensions.

During the past year, the department has ventured into new and innovative learning media with teleconferences which bring nationally-known experts to the community via satellite.

By offering more than just a continuing education to residents of the community," Dyer said, "it seemed to me that we were providing Learning Unlimited through all four of our Palm Beach County campuses."

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 33 October 9, 1989

NEW TRUSTEES APPOINTED

Gov. Bob Martinez has announced the appointment of two area businessmen to serve as members of the Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees.

Homer J. Hand of Belle Glade will fill the seat previously held by his wife, Frances R. "Dolly" Hand. Mrs. Hand has been a member of the PBCC Trustees for the past 16 years.

Thomas E. Morris of North Palm Beach, a retired U.S. Navy Rear Admiral, will replace Trustee Philip O. Lichtblau.

The appointments must be confirmed by the State Cabinet before they become effective. Both appointees will serve until May 31, 1993.

Upon confirmation, Hand and Morris will join current PBCC Board Members Bettye J. King, Bernard Kimmel, and John C. Sansbury.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION

The President's Reception, an annual event held each fall to honor full-time Palm Beach Community College faculty and administrators, was held on September 29 in the President's Dining Room at Central Campus.

The event, attended by nearly 200, provided PBCC President Edward M. Eissey with an opportunity to introduce new members of the College family and recognize retirees.

At the reception, Eissey encouraged all new Palm Beach Community College employees to stop by the Administration Building at any time to visit and share their concerns and ideas for the new academic year.

Food for the reception was prepared by students in the PBCC Chef Apprenticeship Class and the Baking Class under the direction of Program Instructor Munro Gaultney.

MONDAY REPORT:

PBCC CHEFS GRADUATE

Approximately 128 guests attended the Palm Beach Community College Chef Apprentice Graduation Dinner held in the Central Campus President's Dining Room on Tuesday, October 11. The event was sponsored by the Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Culinary Federation.

Among the attendees were purveyors who donated various food items, family members of graduates, College staff, and representatives who support and/or sponsor apprentices in the three-year program.

The $35 per plate ticket charge covered the menu food and beverage costs only. Graduating Chef Apprentices Scott Frieberg, Barry Gair, Daniel Kakas, Robert Kaye, Jeffery Sandler, Tony Sansalone and Rosiland White served as supervising chefs for the elegant meal. Current students in the Chef Apprenticeship program assisted with the dinner preparation, service and clean up.

BOARD GREETS NEW MEMBERS

New Board members Homer Hand and Admiral Thomas Morris were introduced during the October 11 Board Meeting. They will officially join the Board in November.

Outgoing Trustee Philip O. Lichtblau wished the new Trustees well. Dolly Hand, who is also leaving the Board, echoed his comments.

Lichtblau also said, "Serving as PBCC Trustee has been one of the finest experiences of my life. It has been a pleasure to be associated with so many wonderful people who are concerned with educating our young people."

The Board agenda included a report on utility base rate charges for the last 21 months. Consultant Paul Holland of Conservation Engineering presented a comparison of the actual fees charged by Lake Worth Utilities versus what Florida Power and Light (FP&L) would have charged for the same usage. The report addressed only the base rate and did not include information on other payment incentives.

The report highlighted the fact that PBCC could have saved approximately $250,000 over the past 21 months. In addition, options for reducing the future base rate charges were outlined for the Board.

Presently, PBCC is covered by the Lake Worth Utilities Service area because of a territorial agreement that Lake Worth has with FP&L. The College is negotiating with Lake Worth Utilities for a lower base rate fee that is more in line with FP&L.

If a new rate cannot be agreed upon, PBCC could petition the City of Lake Worth to allow the College to change service companies to FP&L. If the City of Lake Worth refuses, there may be some legal recourse that the Palm Beach Community College can pursue.

PBCC Trustee Bernard Kimmel asked that staff investigate the cost of hooking up with FP&L and report findings at the next Board meeting.

In addition, the College Attorney Jim Adams was instructed to check the legal remedies available to the College.

GEMINI OPENS OCTOBER 27

The Palm Beach Community College Division of Visual and Performing Arts will present "Gemini" at the Duncan Theatre, October 27-29 and November 3-5.

"Gemini" is a contemporary comedy-drama about the loves and relationships of a young man and his friends in a South Philadelphia neighborhood. The play features only seven cast members.

Due to a mature theme and language, the play is best suited for adult audiences.

The presentation will be offered Friday, October 27 and Saturday, October 28 at 8:14 p.m. There will be two performances on Sunday, October 29 beginning with a 2 p.m. matinee and concluding with an evening performance at 7:14 p.m.

"Gemini" continues on Friday, November 3 at 8:14 p.m. On Saturday, November 4, there will be two offerings: a 2 p.m. matinee, followed by an evening performance at 8:14 p.m. The final performance is scheduled for Sunday, November 5 at 2 p.m.

Ticket prices are $7.50 and $4. For information, call the Duncan Theatre Box Office at 8141.

TRUMAN SCHOLARSHIP

Palm Beach Community College sophomores who are interested in government service at the federal, state or local level are invited to apply for a 1990 Harry S. Truman Scholarship.

Established by Congress in 1975, the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation operates an ongoing educational scholarship program. It is designed to provide opportunities for outstanding students in the United States with potential leadership ability to prepare for government service careers.

PBCC can nominate three students for the 1990 competition. The scholarship award covers eligible expenses up to $7,000 per year for the junior year, the senior year, and two years of graduate study.

To be eligible, a student must be a full-time sophomore working toward or planning a baccalaureate degree, have a B average, stand in the upper-fourth of the class, and be a U.S. citizen or national planning a career in government.

Interested students should submit a letter of application, a statement of career plans, a list of past public-service activities or leadership positions, a current transcript, and a 600-word essay discussing a public policy issue of their choice by November 20. For information, call Frank McLaughlin, 8059.

HEALTH FAIR

Palm Beach Community College, together with the Palm Beach County Kidney Association, will cosponsor a Health Fair October 23-26. The event, scheduled at each of PBCC's four campus locations, is free and open to the public for those over 17 years of age.

The times and locations of the Health Fair are as follows:

PBCC North Campus, Monday, October 23, 9 a.m.- 1 p.m. at the Student Entrance covered walkway.

PBCC Central Campus, Tuesday, October 24, 9 a.m.-2 p.m. in the SAC Lounge.

PBCC Glades Campus, Wednesday, October 25, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

PBCC South Campus, Thursday, October 26, 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

The Health Fair will include screenings for kidney testing, blood pressure, weight and health counseling and colorectal screening. Information will be available on various health matters including AIDS, lung and health disease, sickle cell anemia, nutrition and mental health.

For more information, please call Mary Cannon at 8066.

JACKSONVILLE SYMPHONY

The Jacksonville Symphony Orchestra will present an evening of favorite pop tunes and light classics on October 24 at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center in Belle Glade. The concert begins at 8 p.m., and ticket prices are $14.

For more information about the performance and future events at the DHCAC, please call 996-7529.

GRANT AID

The Glynn-Stone Grant and the Bill Mosow Grant gave over $10,000 to returning students to help finance educational programs for the academic year 1989-90.

Former Dean Paul Glynn, reporting on the grant funds, gave credit to PBCC faculty members and committees who assisted in the program's success.

For more information, please contact Glynn through the Development Office, 8072.

QUALITY SESSION AT NORTH

Palm Beach Community College North will sponsor a Quality Session on Wednesday, October 18 from 10 a.m. to noon in the Library Learning Resource Center, Rm. 101. The session will immediately follow a Northern Palm Beaches Chamber of Commerce Coffee Meeting, and the general public is invited to attend.

Dr. Myron Tribus, who is scheduled to speak at the Chamber Coffee, will be present at the Quality Session. Tribus is a consulting engineer who specializes in quality management. He is also one of the founders of the American Quality and Productivity Institute which is devoted to teaching and promoting the fundamentals of quality management. Tribus is asking those who attend to bring one question on quality.

For more information, please call the North Campus at 622-2440, extension 251.

The menu included a variety of seafood hors d'oeuvres; duck consomme; filet of sole ala veronique; red plum sorbet; basil and macadamia nut pesto stuffed chicken breast; pasta duet; buttered Belgian carrots; grilled eggplant, mozzarella, tomato and mache with herbed vinaigrette; double chocolate mint pate with creme anglais; coffee and petit fours.

As chef apprentices, each student must complete working experience hours in a local dining establishment. The graduating apprentices were sponsored and supervised by executive chefs from Stonebridge Country Club, Brazilian Court Hotel, Delray Beach Club, Breakers Hotel, Wilsons Restaurant, and PGA Sheraton Resort.

SLAM DUNK TIME

Palm Beach Community College opens its home basketball season on November 11 at 7:30 p.m. when the Pacers meet Palm Beach Atlantic College in the Central Campus gym. The first official game of the 1989/90 season is played away when the team travels to Patrick Air Force Base on November 5.

The Lady Pacers plan to open their season in tournament play at the Central Campus gym on November 9-11. They are set to match skills with teams from Miami Dade North, Broward, Santa Fe, South Florida and the Bahamas. Game times are 4 p.m., 6 p.m., and 8 p.m.

Scott Pospichal is head coach for the men's team, assisted by Kent Payne, Don Tincher and Fred Keller. Sally Smith returns to lead the Lady Pacers. She is joined by Don Greene and Jennifer Strenges.

For more information, please call the Athletic Department at 8067.

In other business, Patricia Dyer, Vice President of Academic Affairs, discussed the recent grants that the College had received. Of particular interest are the two grants received from the Tourist Development Council (TDC). This year, for the first time, both the Watson B. Duncan Theatre and the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center received advertising funds from the TDC.

Dyer also reviewed PBCC's enhancement funding report. It included the College's spending plan for enhancement of College Preparatory Classes, the Community College System, Academic and Career Advising, Improvement of Instruction, and Awards for Excellence in Teaching and Advising.

The enhancement funds will expand the tutorial program by increasing the number of tutors and purchasing additional materials.

In the plan, PBCC will establish a Community History Center. This will allow a central place to gather oral and written information about the people who settled Palm Beach County.

Funds will also enhance library materials on all four campuses. Computer materials will be reviewed to increase computer-assisted offerings.

Staff development will be enhanced through a faculty workshop carousel which provides faculty professional development. The carousel will take the form of day-long workshops for faculty on all campuses.

Enhancement funds will allow PBCC to replace the PLATO equipment on all campuses with a stand-alone system. This will be utilized for student records, electronic mail, and other computer communications links.

Cultural enrichment will also be addressed through international and intercultural events and presentations. A videotape is also planned to depict the diversity of ethnicity and race.

In other business, Eissey announced that William L. Bell has been appointed as Theater Manager for the Duncan Theatre. Bell comes to PBCC from Florida Keys Community College.

The next Board meeting will be held at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, November 15. The location is the new classroom building at the South Campus in Boca Raton. A reception and tour of the building will be held at 5:30 prior to the meeting.

It was also announced that the February Board Meeting will be held in Belle Glade at 7:00 p.m. on February 14. A dinner will be held at the Elks Club at 5:30 p.m. and the production of "Romeo & Juliet" will be presented at 8 p.m. in the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center.

Sadie is best known as the editor of the 20-volume New Grove Dictionary of Music and Musicians, the most comprehensive English-language reference work in music.

I cannot tell you what a devastating blow it is to be told you have cancer! You face up to "putting your house in order" and to what really matters in life. You realize that the future is truly today. You want to show by word and deed how much those you love and who love you mean to you. Express these emotions, for after all, you only pass this way once. My family consists of a loving and caring husband, Marshall, a wierd but affectionate cat, Mitzi, and you, my colleagues. I have been so moved by your support through offers of blood, prayers, flowers, cards, remembrances and calls. You have given me courage during these bleak weeks. I am a candidate for the new colon cancer drug you read about in the Palm Beach Post. I hope to start treatment very soon. I'm playing in the big lottery, the lottery for life, and I'm going to hold a winning number!

HISPANIC LUNCHEON HELD

The PBCC Foundation sponsored a special luncheon on October 12 to focus on the educational needs of the Hispanic community. The event was an opportunity for improving cross cultural awareness and increasing communication between the Hispanic community and the College.

Lou Martinez, Executive Director of Hispanic Human Resources, assisted in organizing the luncheon and chaired the group discussion. The cross section of Hispanic leaders who attended included Fernando de Soto, Alfredo Farach, Vinio Floris, Nestor Garrido, Ricardo Gonzalez, Milton Lavernia, Bernard Motola, Alberto Palombo, Rafael Roca, and Jose Uzal.

The group offered suggestions for improving access to Hispanic students. Some of their ideas included placing an emphasis in PBCC courses on the contribution that the Hispanic community has made in the United States and celebrating these achievements during the College's events.

Lou Martinez, Executive Director of Hispanic Human Resources, and Pat Myers, Executive Director of the PBCC Foundation, organized the Hispanic Luncheon.

INSURANCE SURVEY RESULTS

Of the approximately 550 full-time personnel enrolled with the College Health Programs, 398 returned survey forms to the Human Resources Office. Of this group, 61 indicated they either had not used the coverage, or in several cases, were not enrolled.

The most significant points are summarized as follows:

1. A clear majority, 72.4 percent for HMO and 74.0 percent for the PPO/Indemnity Plan, rated the medical services in the good-to-excellent bracket.

2. The dental coverage under the HMO plan received the lowest overall rating with 53.9 percent rating in the good-to-excellent bracket. The dental coverage under the indemnity plan received a much more favorable rating with 83.7 percent of respondents placing it in the good-to-excellent categories.

3. The vision coverage, which is the same for all College personnel, received an intermediate rating of about 67 percent in the good-to-excellent bracket.

4. Over 85 percent (85.8) indicated the College should renew the HMO coverage with 32.6 percent indicating we definitely should renew and 53.2 percent indicating we should renew if premiums are competitive. The remaining 14.2 percent opted for seeking another company. The PPO/Indemnity Plan results were similar with 27.0 percent indicating we definitely should renew, 59.5 percent expressing a desire to renew if premiums are competitive, and 13.5 percent opting for seeking another company.

A more detailed report summary is on file in the Human Resources Offices which will be sent to our libraries upon request. ...J.M. Schneider

MONDAY REPORT

PBCC students examine the xeriscape site at the Central Campus.

Palm Beach Community College's Central Campus has been designated as a xeriscape demonstration site by the South Florida Water Management District. Xeriscape is a form of landscaping designed to conserve water by grouping plants with similar water needs together. Therefore, during water conservation periods, and even during normal conditions, only those plants which require water on a regular basis need attending.

PBCC Science Instructor Patricia Hilliard Johnson organized the project at PBCC in conjunction with the South Florida Water Management District by offering a one-credit course entitled, "Topics in Environmental Conservation." This course is comprised largely of students from Johnson's Environmental Conservation course.

The designated planting site of the project is between PBCC's Social Science Building and the south Science Building wing. Over 80 percent of the vegetation is native to Florida.

PBCC's Physical Plant and campus maintenance personnel were integral in the xeriscape project. Local nurseries donated plants to the effort.

NORTH HOSTS QUALITY EXPERT

The PBCC North Campus hosted a question-and-answer session on quality improvement on Wednesday, October 18. It featured Dr. Myron Tribus, internationally-known quality management consultant and co-founder of the American Quality and Productivity Institute.

According to Tribus, the quality movement began in post World War II Japan when a U.S. official was sent to assist with the reconstruction of communications. As a result, a school for management training was created.

Tribus also spoke of W. Edwards Deming, the father of the quality movement. Deming, who traveled to Japan in the late forties, implemented the now-famous 14 principles of quality management.

"It is important for our companies and organizations to learn quality improvement if we are to continue to compete in the world market," Tribus noted. He stressed the fact that quality improvement is continuous, adding that the focus is on creative performance and individual improvement in meeting the customer's needs.

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 37 November 6, 1989

NEW PBCC MASCOT PROPOSED

The PBCC College Relations and Marketing Office is currently working with the External Marketing Committee (EMC) to develop recommendations for improving PBCC's image in the community.

The committee recommended administering a survey to faculty, students and alumni regarding the College mascot. Posters announcing the survey will be placed around each campus beginning Monday, November 6. The survey will be included in the Monday, November 13 Beachcomber and Monday Report. In addition, faculty are asked to make the surveys available to students during classes. Before November 18, faculty members are to send the completed student surveys along with their Monday Report survey to mail station #25 for a final district tally. At Central, students and faculty may place their surveys in the College Suggestion Boxes.

The results of the mascot survey will be published in the December 4 Beachcomber and Monday Report. Surveys will be sent to all active PBCC alumni to gather their responses.

Depending upon the success of this survey, future surveys will be taken to gain opinions on the mascot design, the logo, and College seal.

The EMC is comprised of community leaders selected by President Eissey to assist in improving the College's public relations and marketing efforts. A majority of the volunteer EMC members are PBCC alumni.

The committee consists of Jim Sackett, News Anchorman for WPTV Channel 5; Gary Hines, Director of Marketing for the Palm Beach County Development Board; Carole E. Jenkins, Community/Government Relations Representative for Pratt & Whitney.

Additional members include Chuck Elderd, Palm Beach County Film Liaison Director; Jimmy Weatherspoon, Commissioner, City of Delray Beach; Larry Sartory, President of Colee & Sartory (Advertising and Public Relations); Frank Eberling, Owner of Palm Beach Film Group; Gayle Pallesen, free-lance reporter; and Bill Duerden, Regional Account Executive for WRMF Radio.

"...THEY DID THE MONSTER MASH..."

There were unconfirmed reports of ghosts and goblins running through the halls of PBCC on Halloween. We did, however, spot Sandi Richmond and her son, Tony. The "nunsensical" Central LLRC staff included (L-R) Marie Reddy, Brian Kelley and Judy Neumann.

PBCC SOUTH ACTIVITIES DAY

Palm Beach Community College's South Campus hosted a Student Activities Day on Friday, October 27 in conjunction with the Student Government Association and the Black Student Association (BSA).

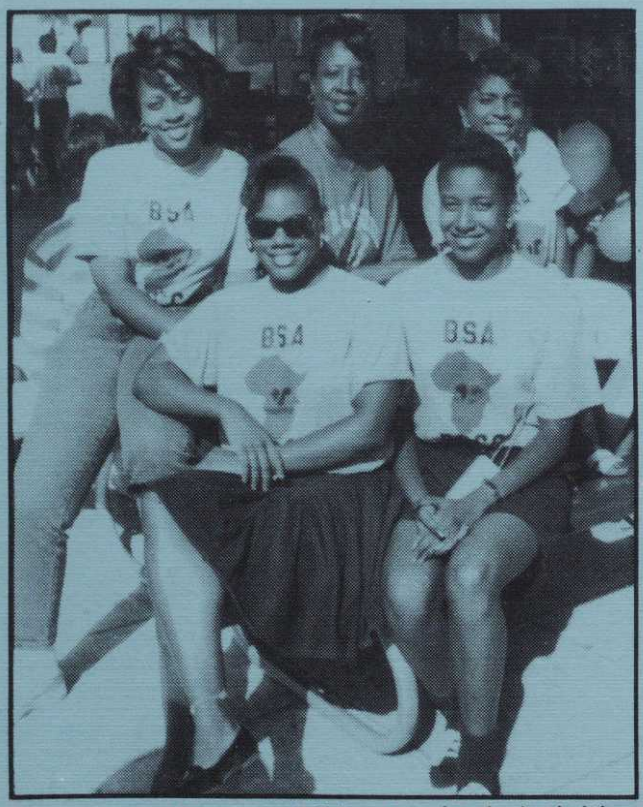
The event was designed to welcome back PBCC students and served as a mid-term break for the entire South Campus student population.

Lunch was served to those in attendance while students danced to the music provided by a local D.J., performed in a lip-synch contest, and played volleyball.

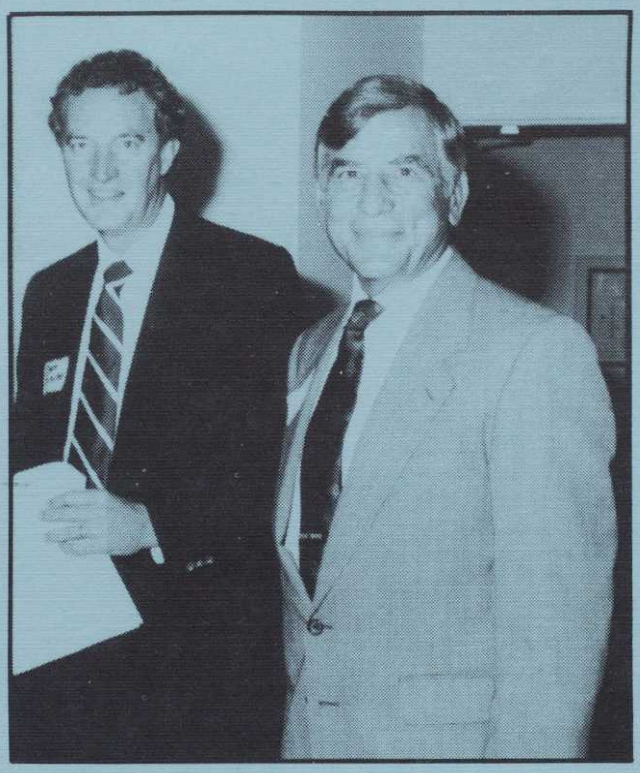
Harris McGirt, Director of Student Affairs at PBCC South, stressed that while the South Campus has grown, it has not lost touch with the students.

"We're here to provide the best education possible," McGirt said. "What makes the South Campus special is the friendly atmosphere between students and the faculty. Our new building is just another indication of our commitment to our students."

With the opening of the first permanent classroom building at the South Campus, students are now able to fully utilize the learning resources which are available. A second building is currently under construction and is scheduled to open in late spring of next year.



The South Campus BSA organized Activities Day '89 in conjunction with the Student Government Association.



South Campus Provost Dan Terhune shared plans for the growth of PBCC South with community leaders at a breakfast held on October 31 to officially open the South's first permanent building. Terhune is pictured with Morgan Zook, Vice Chairman of the Board, SunBank of Delray Beach. The breakfast was sponsored by the PBCC Foundation.

AN EVENING ON BROADWAY

Palm Beach Community College's Central Campus Music Department will present "An Evening on Broadway," November 17-19 at the Watson B. Duncan Theatre.

Performance times have been scheduled for November 17-18 at 8 p.m. and a Sunday matinee on November 19 at 2 p.m. Ticket prices are $10 on the main floor and $7 in the balcony.

This show-stopping musical salute includes production numbers from "Gypsy," "Funny Girl," and "Porgy and Bess."

Under the musical direction of Patricia Adams-Johnson and Sy Pryweller, "An Evening on Broadway," promises to showcase the outstanding student musical talent of PBCC.

This musical extravaganza will feature local radio celebrity Herbert Bayard Swope, Jr. as narrator.

For more information, call the Box Office, 8141.

FASHION COURSES AT CENTRAL

The Palm Beach Community College Division of Health/Education/Social Science will offer two five-week courses in fashion construction.

Machine Arts I--Machine Applique will be presented on Tuesday, November 7 from 2-4:45 p.m. and 6-8:45 p.m. in Science Room 105. Students will learn the art of creating pictures with layers of fabric and how to use applique in wearable art or home decor. The course fee is $24.50.

Creative Serging begins Wednesday, November 8 from 6-8 p.m. in Science Room 105 and will teach students how to expand serger knowledge and to use novelty fabrics to create unique wearables. The fee for this course is $24.50 plus a $5 materials fee.

For more information, please call 8090.

TWELFTH NIGHT

Palm Beach Community College's North Campus Theatre Group will present William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," the most popular, most delightful, and the most perfectly finished of all Shakespeare's romantic comedies.

"Twelfth Night" will be offered November 10-12 and November 17-19 at the Palm Beach Gardens Community Center on Burns Road. The Friday and Saturday performances are set for 8 p.m., with a Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m.

For more information, please call the North Campus, 622-2440 extension 241.

"Twelfth Night," will be presented by the PBCC North Campus Theatre Group and the Spotlite Players beginning November 10.

MEDIA RELATIONS WORKSHOP

PBCC's Institute of Government will offer a Media Relations Workshop on Friday, November 17 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Central Campus Continuing Studies Building, Room CE 123.

The workshop is designed to enable public sector managers to present a credible and professional image of themselves and their organizations to the media by understanding media issues, learning crisis management and interview techniques, and practicing various media situations on camera.

Richard Moore, President of Moore Enterprises, will serve as workshop presenter. Moore's experience includes work as news manager for radio and television, talk show host, assignment editor, and news field reporter.

The registration fee is $50 for Florida residents and $57 for non-residents. For information, please call Kim Ardila Morgan or Cheryl Stocker at 8185.

SPANISH FOR NATIVE SPEAKERS

Are you bilingual, but lacking some literacy skills in your "mother" tongue? Would you like to improve your chances in the international job market? Then come join us.

Palm Beach Community College North is now offering a new three credit course, Spanish for Native or Near Native Speakers, to assist the Hispanic community. The class is scheduled to meet in the Lewis Center on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m. beginning January 10 and continuing through May 2.

Spanish for Native or Near Native Speakers has been designed specifically for those Spanish-speaking persons who have been educated outside of a Hispanic nation, mainly the United States. The course is geared to provide the student with opportunities to raise self-esteem by attaining a meaningful proficiency in literacy of the Spanish language.

For more information, call Alyse Schoenfeldt at 622-2440, extension 503.

DYNAMIC DESIGNING DUO

PBCC fashion design students Adrien Medvei and David Eric Nikielski will attend the 1989 Air France/Glamour Magazine Designers Competition in New York on November 14.

The first leg of this international competition pits top fashion design students from across America against one another. Winners receive scholarships and have their designs displayed as part of the permanent costume collection at the Louvre Museum in Paris.

This year, students were asked to design an elegant daytime dress or ensemble that could be worn at a graduation ceremony or an inaugural of a museum. The designers are responsible for selecting the materials and colors in addition to actually sewing the garment.

PBCC fashion design instructor Johanna Prinz has encouraged her students to perfect their designs and has enlisted the aid of Delray Beach designers "George and Gee" to help Medvei and Nikielski be as competitive and professional as possible.

A highly-respected designer and pattern maker herself, Prinz is confident that her students will do well against a distinguished honorarium of collegiate designers. Cont'd on P 2

THREE TIMES A WINNER

Ray Liberti, who was honored with FACC's 1989 Legislative Service Award, is pictured with FACC President Jeanette Sanders.

Representative Ray Liberti of West Palm Beach was recently selected, for the third year in succession, to receive a 1989 Legislative Service Award from the Florida Association of Community Colleges (FACC). This marks his twelfth year as a State legislator.

The awards were presented during FACC's 40th Annual Convention Legislative Awards Luncheon on Thursday, November 2 at the Hyatt Regency in Miami.

The honor is given annually to legislators who distinguish themselves for outstanding contributions to the community college system.

Liberti said, "I am honored to have been chosen because of my educational commitment to the legislative process. Education is one of my primary concerns."

On September 1, Liberti joined PBCC's Central Campus Continuing Studies staff as Coordinator. This marks his twelfth year as a State legislator.

Due to the Thanksgiving Holidays, there will be no Monday Report on November 27.

"David has a certain style," Prinz noted. "He has definite ideas about what makes fashion sense. As for Adrien, her flare is her trademark. She has courage and conviction about her designs, and she's willing to take a chance."

Medvei left her hometown of Budapest, Hungary in August, 1984. Married a month later in Austria, she and her husband traveled to America for political freedom and educational opportunities. Her hazel eyes and open manner convey her free spirit and trendy fashion sense. "People always look at me like I've lost my mind. I've always had my own style of dressing," she said.

Medvei's entry in the contest aroused initial concern from the judges because she chose to design pants. Considered a fashion fau pax by some, Medvei held firm to her ideas. "I won't compromise my designs," she said firmly. "Maybe I'm a little outrageous, but I know what I like and I intend to design it all. I am a woman, a modern woman, an emancipated woman. And I am a designer. I know what women want to wear."

The term "designer original" was undoubtedly coined about Medvei. She is bold and her halting English only adds to her mystique. Her black attire is suitably fashionable, even for South Florida. "My favorite color is black. Actually, it's not a color, it's an impression. Some may think it means I have a black soul, but I don't. I just like black," she said.

Scheduled to graduate in the summer of 1990, Medvei plans to attend the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT) in New York. But Medvei has other plans to look forward to as well. She and her husband, Miklos, will become American citizens in April.

While Medvei's time has arrived, so has David Eric Nikielski's. The other half of PBCC's dynamic designing duo, Nikielski will compete against his classmate with a "classic and elegant dress" suitable for any occasion.

Nikielski plans to complete his degree in fashion design, and then, like Medvei, move on to FIT. He aspires to design ladies evening wear and men's sportswear, two interests that are generally not thought of as simpatico.

Praising Prinz for her professionalism and dedication, he said, "I've learned so much. She's taught me that you have to do the basics yourself before you can attempt at being a designer and have others work for you."

Nikielski, who plans to graduate next December, is ready for the fast pace of New York. He's even decided that Nikielski will be a bit too long on all those designer ensembles. "David Eric," he noted smiling. "One day, everyone will be wearing a 'David Eric.'"

THE KING'S DAUGHTER

PBCC Assistant Professor Sunny Meyer will present "The King's Daughter," a Reader's Theatre production about Quebec, Canada during the 1660's. Theatre students from the College's Central Campus will perform the vibrant roles from this exciting period in Canadian history.

The play will be presented in the Duncan Theatre's Recital Hall beginning December 4 at 7:30 p.m. Two performances are scheduled on December 6 at 9:30 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m.

In conjunction with the premiere presentation of "The Kings Daughter," there will be an exhibit of Quebecoise artifacts in the library's second floor gallery. If anyone has materials that may be used in the exhibit, please contact John Townsend or Sunny Meyer.

TEE-RRIFIC RETURNS

Golfers at the South and Glades Campuses swung into action in an effort to raise scholarship funds for PBCC students.

PBCC South held its Fourth Annual Golf Tournament on September 28 at the Stonebridge Golf and Country Club in Boca Raton. A total of $2,000 was raised, and a scholarship was awarded to David Frye, a PBCC student and member of the South Campus staff.

More than $5,000 was raised for scholarships as a result of the Third Annual PBCC Golf Tournament held November 4 at the Belle Glade Country Club. Members of Phi Theta Kappa and the Student Government Association where present to lend a helping hand as 67 golfers teed-off.

MONDAY REPORT

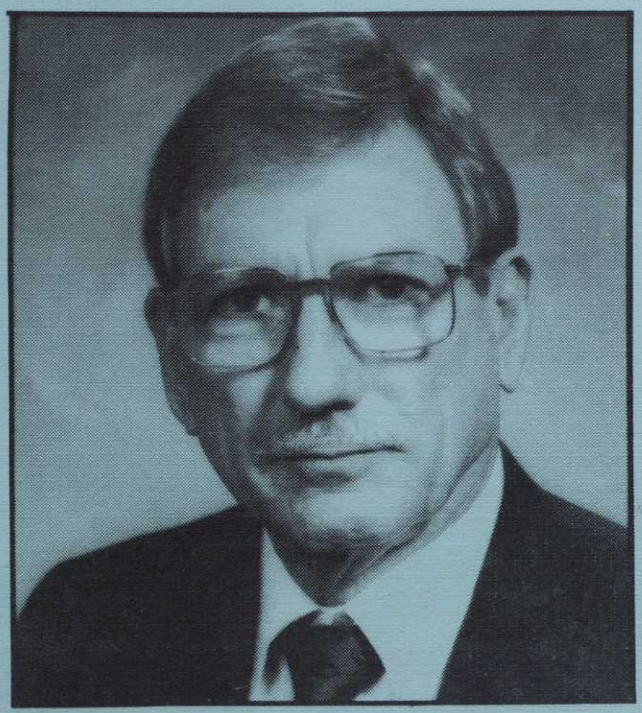
NEW PBCC TRUSTEES CONFIRMED



Homer J. Hand

The appointment of Homer J. Hand to serve as Trustee of Palm Beach Community College has been confirmed by the Florida State Cabinet.

Hand, a resident of Belle Glade and a native Floridian, will fill the seat previously held by his wife, Frances R. "Dolly" Hand.

Hand has been a staunch supporter of the College for over 30 years. He was instrumental in the creation of the PBCC Glades Campus as well as the Cultural Arts Center. Most recently, Hand provided needed financial support for the PBCC Museum of Art Endowment Fund.

A prominent area business and community leader, Hand has served as both Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Palm Beach County Planning and Zoning Board. He is also a member of the City of Belle Glade Planning and Zoning Commission.

Additionally, Hand has served on the Palm Beach County Enforcement Board as well as the City of Belle Glade Airport Advisory Committee.

The Florida State Cabinet has confirmed the appointment of Thomas E. Morris to serve as Trustee of Palm Beach Community College.

Morris, a retired U.S. Navy Rear Admiral, will replace Trustee Philip O. Lichtblau.

A distinguished Naval Officer, Morris held seven commands during his military career. A three-time recipient of the Legion of Merit Award, Morris was also honored with the Navy's Distinguished Public Service Award. He has served as an advisor to the U.S. Secretary of Defense and was a member of the Surface War Steering Committee.

Morris is the founding Director of the Naval War College Foundation and the former National Chairman of the U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Corporation. A resident of North Palm Beach, he is the owner of the Palm Beach County-based Marbry Corporation.

Thomas E. Morris

JUMPING WITH JAZZ

The PBCC Central Campus Division of Visual and Performing Arts Music Department will present a free jazz concert on Thursday, November 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the Duncan Theatre.

The concert will feature the PBCC "12 O'Clock Band" and the College's "Tuesday Nite Band." Both bands are directed by Senior Music Instructor Sy Pryweller.

A special performance will be given by the Palm Beach Gardens High School Jazz Band directed by Wayne Miller.

Musical selections will include both standards and original compositions.

For further information, call the Duncan Theatre Box Office at 8141.

SERIOUS FUN! AT DUNCAN

The Duncan Theatre opens its 1989-90 guest artist series on Saturday, November 25 and Sunday, November 26 at 8 p.m. with the innovative Serious Fun! from Lincoln Center.

Serious Fun! provides a fast and furious look at today's performance art with Guggenheim-award winner and dancer Charles Moulton, accordionist Guy Klucevsek, avant garde composer and musician Scott Johnson and monologuist Tom Cayler.

This is the Duncan Theatre's third guest artist season which is sponsored in part by the National Endowment for the Arts and the State of Florida, Department of State, Division of Cultural Affairs; the Florida Arts Council; and the Palm Beach County Tourist Development Council.

Tickets are $25, $20, and $15. Subscription discount prices are available for the entire season. For more information, call the Duncan Theatre Box Office at 8141.

SATURDAY MORNING SPECIALS

The Duncan Theatre opens its 1989-90 series of Saturday Morning Specials on December 9 with the Tampa Alliance of Dramatic Arts' presentation of "I Didn't Know That."

The production of "I Didn't Know That" is a light-hearted review based on selections from the Guiness Book of World Records. It is described as informative yet packed with humor, movement and music.

The Saturday Morning Specials series is professional theatre designed for "kids of all ages." Performance time is 11 a.m. and tickets are $5. For more information, call 8141.

BOARD REORGANIZES

During the November 15 Board Meeting, Homer J. Hand and Thomas E. Morris officially joined the Palm Beach Community College Board of Trustees.

The Board elected Bettye J. King as Chair and Homer J. Hand as Vice Chair during the annual reorganization. In addition, the Board chose the second Wednesday of the month at 5:30 p.m. as the regular meeting date.

Trustees heard a report on the budget reductions which have been proposed by Governor Martinez. While the issue has been tabled for two weeks as other revenue sources are considered, it appears that PBCC will be required to cut the current budget by almost $600,000. The 2.75 percent budget reduction for the total community college system will total about $13 million. If additional revenues cannot be found, the reductions will take effect in January.

State revenues which fund education have been less than the legislature anticipated. Revenue projects are based on Florida's growth rate. Instead of the anticipated 10 percent, the growth rate has actually been about 7.5 percent.

Communication from the Governor's Office also indicates that the budget for the 1990-91 fiscal year will be at the same level as this year. In addition, no across-the-board salary increases are anticipated.

In other business, the Board approved the appointment of Abby R. Begel as PBCC Director of Development. Begel previously served as fundraiser for Planned Parenthood.

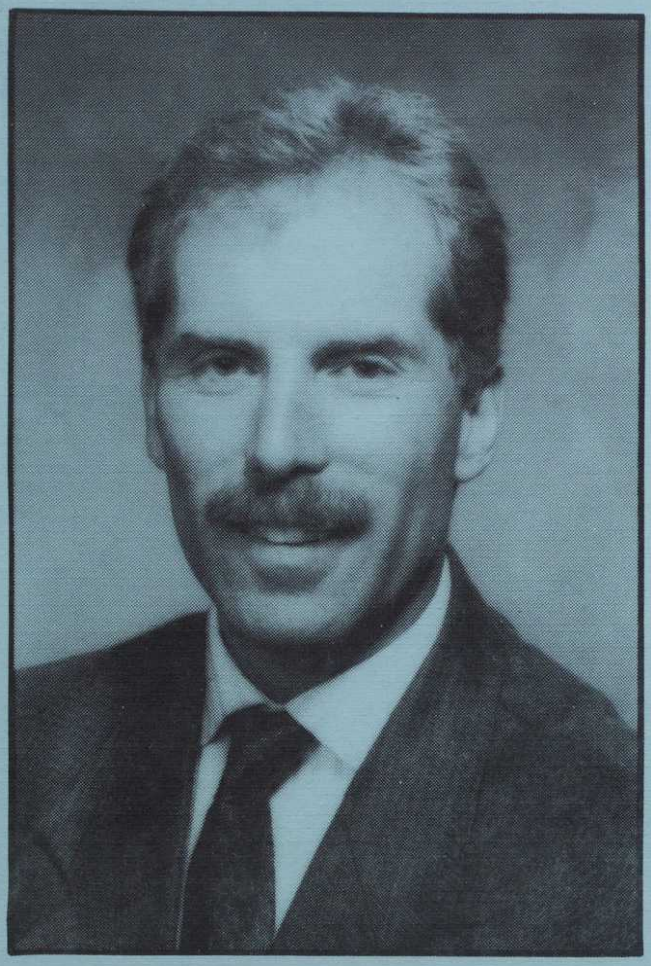
In appearances before the Board, the South Campus Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) shared their recent successes at the annual PTK state convention. Richard Shores won the top speech award for the second year in a row. Alan Chin-Lee won one of the five state art awards.

Beverly Raznoff, South Campus PTK advisor, complimented the efforts of the chapter members by saying, "I have had the pleasure of working with the very best students at South Campus."

Several South Campus faculty members also appeared before the Board to give Sabbatical Leave Reports. Wayne DeBee and Noel Smith completed several graduate courses during their sabbaticals. Linda Summers used the time to complete a study of fine art photography using infrared film.

The December Board Meeting is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 13. The location is Conference Room C on Central Campus.

THEATRE DIRECTOR NAMED



W. Lee Bell

W. Lee Bell has been named as the new Director of Palm Beach Community College's Duncan Theatre. Bell has spent the last three years as Theatre Director for the Florida Keys Community College.

Receiving his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Media Arts from the University of South Carolina, Bell went on to complete his Master of Business Administration at The Citadel in Charleston, South Carolina.

Reuben Hale, Division Chair of the Visual and Performing Arts, is confident that Bell will be able to propel the Duncan Theatre into the 90's in a successful and profitable manner.

"PBCC's Duncan Theatre has a reputation for innovation and excellence within the community. I am certain that Lee Bell will carry on this tradition with both skill and professionalism," Hale said.

Bell is busy planning the winter theatre offerings at the Duncan Theatre and intends to place a stronger emphasis on the educational activities available to both the students and community.

PBCC CURATOR APPOINTED

PBCC's first steps toward reorganizing the former Lannan Museum began October 23 when Christopher "Kip" Eagen joined the College's staff as Director/Curator of the newly-named Palm Beach Community College Museum of Art.

Eagen was the Director/Curator of the Tangeman Gallery at the University of Cincinnati for the past nine years. Educated at the Kansas City Art Institute, Eagen holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Sculpture and Environmental Design.

Reuben Hale, Division Chair of Visual and Performing Arts, is happy with the College's choice in hiring Eagen. "The addition of Kip Eagen to the PBCC Museum staff is a strong step forward in our efforts to make the PBCC Museum of Art a preeminent gallery in South Florida."

Presently at work cataloging the multi-million dollar collection of craft and kinetic art work donated to the College by the Lannan Foundation, Eagen hopes to open the gallery to the public sometime within the near future.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 40 December 4, 1989

FL PANTHER OUTRUNS PACER

Over the past two weeks, the PBCC student body, current employees and alumni were surveyed and recommended the Florida Panther as the new College mascot.

The surveys consisted of five questions which offered the options of keeping the Pacer, changing to the Florida Panther, or suggesting a new mascot. Although the majority indicated a preference for the Florida Panther, students suggested everything from flamingos, sharks, and manatees to possums, pelicans, and the "super winners."

The survey was recommended and submitted by the PBCC External Marketing Committee in conjunction with the PBCC College Relations and Marketing Office. The committee is comprised of community leaders selected by President Edward M. Eissey to assist in improving the College's public relations and marketing efforts. A majority of the volunteer EMC members are PBCC alumni.

The survey results and final recommendations will be discussed at the December External Marketing Committee meeting.

INSURANCE ANNOUNCEMENT

Several personnel have asked why there is a small monthly premium charge for those personnel with the single plan HMO. The answer is that the Board Rule and the Collective Bargaining Agreement both indicate that the College pays up to $7/month for dental and vision coverage.

For the first time, the total monthly cost for the prepaid dental and vision exceeds $7/month. Therefore, there will be a monthly deduction of $1.23 which is equally divided between two paychecks since deductions are made semi-monthly. ...Joseph M. Schneider

All faculty, staff, administrators and students are strongly encouraged to have their photos taken for the 1989-90 yearbook, "The Galleon." You can arrange for your photo session during the week of December 4-8 by calling Don Tincher at 8227 or 8195. In addition, orders for the yearbook are still being accepted.

SEN. GORDON TO VISIT PBCC

Senator Jack Gordon, the originator of the "Gordon Rule," will visit the Central Campus on Monday, December 11.

The program featuring Senator Gordon is scheduled to begin at 11:30 a.m. in Science Room 133. Faculty, staff, administrators and students are invited to attend the session which will include remarks and discussion on "Quality in Higher Education." Special emphasis will be given to the Gordon Rule.

Seating capacity in Science Room 133 is limited, so those who are interested are encouraged to arrive early. Gordon will also hold a 1:30 p.m. press conference in Conference Room C at Central Campus.

For more information, please call Dan O'Connell in the Social Science Department, 8090.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

'Tis the season for fun and good cheer
The Holiday Festival is finally here
So hold on to your hats, and don't pack a lunch
Let's celebrate, laugh, enjoy and munch
No time to waste, plenty to do
We're having a party...just for you!

The Palm Beach Community College Holiday Festival will be held in the College's Central Campus Gymnasium on Tuesday, December 19 from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.

A buffet luncheon, prepared by Munro Gaultney, will be served. In addition, there will be live entertainment, inspirational readings and door prizes to round out the festivities.

Scheduled performances will be presented by Watson B. Duncan III, Patricia Adams-Johnson and Robert Jones, Barry Russal, Rita and Ira Shore, and the College Pacesetters.

Door prizes have been donated by the Ark Restaurant, Benihana of Tokyo Restaurant, Cushman Fruit Company, John G's Restaurant, the Raindancer Restaurant, and the Watson B. Duncan Theatre.

All full-time faculty, staff and administrators are encouraged to return their invitations to Dr. Erling's office, mail station #18, by December 12.

SENIOR GROUP THEATRE

The PBCC Senior Group Theatre has announced their January production of "The Curious Savage" will be held in the Duncan Theatre, January 18-21. The group is planning a special gala opening night on Thursday, January 18 in honor of the group's founder, Nancy Goodwin.

Goodwin passed away this summer, and the actors and supporters of the program wanted to pay tribute through the fundraising gala. Jules Kaye, the newly-appointed Director of the Senior Group Theatre, said, "We hope to raise funds for a memorial scholarship in her name and possibly for an endowment."

The members of the Senior Group Theatre are made up of students 55-85 years young, who are interested in performing for various audiences on a volunteer basis. They have traveled to area nursing homes, senior centers, retirement communities, senior social and civic organizations, recreation centers, public libraries, schools, condos and special events.

Each January, the group presents an annual production at the Duncan Theatre. The production of "The Curious Savage," which is written by John Patrick, is known as a fanciful comedy. Shows will be presented January 18 through 20 at 8 p.m., and matinees will be given on January 20 and 21 at 2 p.m.

The opening gala performance tickets will be offered at a special price for fundraising purposes. Other performances will be $7 for reserved seats and $5 per person in group sales of 20.

For more information about the Senior Group Theatre, call Continuing Studies/Learning Unlimited at 439-8007.

THE NUTCRACKER AT DHCAC

"The Nutcracker," to be performed by the Southern Ballet Theatre, will mark this year's holiday offering at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center at the Glades Campus.

The classic will be presented on Friday, December 8 at 8 p.m. Ticket prices are $12.

For more information about the performance and other upcoming presentations at the DHCAC, please call the theatre box office at 996-7529.

COMMENCEMENT SET

Fall term commencement is scheduled for Tuesday, December 19, 8 p.m. at the FAU Gymnasium in Boca Raton.

There are approximately 525 candidates for graduation.

MAYO SMITH GOLF TOURNEY

The annual Mayo Smith Golf Tournament, which benefits the PBCC scholarship fund, was held November 20 at Atlantis Country Club.

This year's event featured a little "show biz glitz" as "Buffalo Bob" Smith of the Howdy Doody Show teamed up with fellow golfers.

First flight winners included Tom Beall, Robert Laird, Chuck Lavelle and Jeff Stover. Second place winners were Richard Eckey, Eric Larsen, Mike Lefebre and John Sanford. Bobby Collins, Peter Cuomo, Larry Hatcher and Don Myers took home third place honors.

In the second flight, first place went to Jim Kane, Kyle Kolls, Bill Perrin and Dennis Witkowski. Second place winners were Chuck McCallum, Harry McCallum, Leon Sikes and "Buffalo Bob" Smith. Third place winners were John Glenn, Tom Miller, Mike Packawoodni and Doug Sinclair.

First place winners in the third flight were Mark Davis, Matt Davis, Max Davis and Kris Savignac. Second place went to Dick Johnson, Don Johnson, Don Neville, Randy Shultis and Reed Shultis. Greg Bischof, Randy Caldren, Jack Caracuzzo and Ken Schrimsher placed third.

O CHRISTMAS TREE

Christmas tree, O Christmas tree
Thy leaves are so unchanging
O Christmas tree, O Christmas tree
You fill our hearts with gaiety
On Christmas day you stand so tall
Affording joy to one and all.

As a tribute to the spirit of the holiday season, the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center at the Glades Campus will present the Living Christmas Tree concert on Saturday, December 16 at 8 p.m. This free presentation requires no tickets or reservations.

The Living Christmas Tree concert will include a Christmas carol sing-a-long, solo and ensemble performances, and a special presentation by the Mass Choir which is comprised of singers from various Glades-area churches.

The frame of the Living Christmas Tree encompasses the entire Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center stage and is being built by community residents. The tree's ornaments are represented by the various singers who will be participating in the event.

This will be the inaugural presentation of the Living Christmas Tree, and it is hoped that it will become an annual event for residents of the Glades area.

THE SOUNDS OF MUSIC

The Palm Beach Community College Central Campus Division of Visual and Performing Arts Music Department will present two concerts in December.

A free ensemble concert will be offered on December 7 at 8 p.m. in the Duncan Theatre. The concert will feature a variety of musical groups including the Brass Ensemble, directed by Sy Pryweller; the Saxophone Ensemble, directed by Paul Magersuppe; the Percussion Ensemble, directed by Mark Shubert; the newly-formed Synthesizer Ensemble, directed by Robert Jones; and the Jazz Combo, directed by Alex Darqui.

The Pacesetters and the "Over 40's Jazz Ensemble" will perform in concert on December 11 at 8 p.m. in the Duncan Theatre. Admission is $5.

The "Over 40's Jazz Ensemble" will be directed by Sy Pryweller; Patricia Adams-Johnson will direct the Pacesetters.

For more information, please call 8141.

PTK SWEEPS AWARDS

PBCC students and faculty advisors from Phi Theta Kappa chapters at North, South and Central Campuses joined over 500 PTK members at the recent Florida State Convention held in Key West.

Delta Omicron, the Central Campus chapter, and Alpha Delta Iota, representing the South Campus, were recognized for serving as state officers for communications and awards chapters.

The North Campus Chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma was selected as the Most Improved Chapter, and Alpha Delta Iota received recognition for Outstanding Community Service Project as well as Best Honor Study Topic Utilization. Delta Omicron was also selected as one of the Top Five Chapters in the State.

Individual awards were received by the following PBCC students: Richard Shores, South, First Place Speech; Christopher Diodoardo, South, Honorable Mention Speech; Richard Verfaillie, North, First Place Poetry; Gary Chin-Lee, South, Individual Award of Excellence. Don Houle, North, and Alan Chin-Lee, South, were among the Art Award winners.

In addition, Allen Hamlin, Central Campus PTK advisor, reported on "The State of the State."

To complete the existing backlog of projects in the Print Shop, all requests for layout, design, and typesetting received after today will be processed after January 8, 1990. Camera-ready copy will be printed as usual.

DECA GOLF CLASSIC

Students from PBCC's Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) held their Third Annual Golf Classic on November 11 at Indian Creek Golf Club.

The tournament consisted of 20 teams and featured several events. Individual prizes were awarded and trophies were presented to the first, second, and third place teams.

Proceeds from the annual Golf Classic go toward scholarships and allow club members to participate in state and national competitions. Susan Thompson serves as club advisor.

PERSONALS

Our warm and sincere thanks to the College family for the kind thoughts, expressions of sympathy, cards and flowers that were extended to us. Mother is at last at peace after a long, declining fight. It has been difficult to go about everyday business while watching a strong, independent parent become a helpless, childlike shell. It has been doubly hard to loose both sets of parents over the past 18 months, but your support and friendship have sustained us.

...Jeanette and Jack Sanders

Sy Pryweller, Central Campus Assistant Music Professor, and the "Over 40's Jazz Band" will be featured on a segment of the Channel 25 news on December 5 between 5:30 and 6:00 p.m.

Bob Book, who retired from the College in 1986, is recovering from a stroke. If you would like to pass on good wishes, Bob's address is 601 East Rollins Street, Orlando, FL 32803.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

FOUR ARTS WINNERS

Palm Beach Community College Senior Art Instructors Pat Archer and Jim Houser took top honors in the 51st Annual National Exhibition of Contemporary American Paintings held at the Society of the Four Arts in Palm Beach.

The Society of the Four Arts show is the only national painting competition in the Southeastern United States and is considered by many critics to be one of the most prestigious judged-art exhibitions in the country.

Houser's acrylic painting, "High Tide," won the $5,000 A. Atwater Kent, Jr. Memorial Prize, while the acrylic/collage," Graffito One," done by Archer, garnered the $5,000 Bank of Boston-Florida Award.

Richard Koshalek, Director of the Museum of Contemporary Art in Los Angeles and one of the country's foremost experts on contemporary art, selected their works after reviewing more than 900 entries.

Palm Beach Community College North Instructor Alessandra Gieffers and Central Campus Instructor Billie J. Hightower also have works in the exhibition. Gieffer's pastel/gouache, "Harvest of Love," was a part of the exhibit, while Hightower was represented with his oil, "When Dedaleus Dreams."

The exhibit is open to the public and runs through December 31.

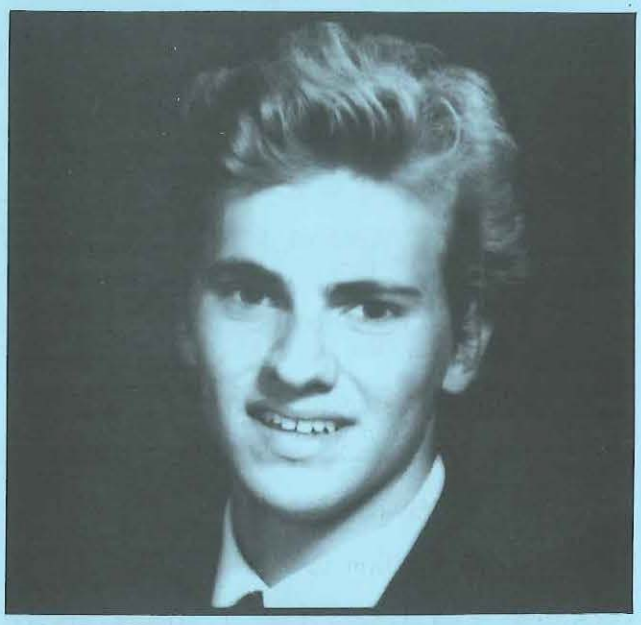
MUSIC STUDENT HONORED



PBCC music student John Michalak

Palm Beach Community College music student John Michalak has been selected as the only participant from Florida in the International Association of Jazz Educators 1989 Community College All-Star Band. Michalak competed with students nationwide for a spot in this prestigious performing group.

Michalak will play lead alto saxophone when the band performs at the New Orleans Jazz Convention in January.

Playing saxophone since the age of nine, Michalak also plays the piano, flute, clarinet and composes original music.

He is a member of the College's 12 O' Clock Jazz Ensemble, the Tuesday Nite Jazz Ensemble, the Jazz Combo, and the Saxophone Ensemble. Michalak also plays with a local rhythm and blues group, the Sapphire Kings, on the weekends.

All personnel with significant premium deductions (more than $4/month) are reminded that it is necessary to complete a salary reduction agreement if you intend to shelter your premiums for the 1990 year. Forms must be completed and returned to Human Resources no later than Friday, December 15.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

SENATOR GORDON VISITS

Florida State Senator Jack Gordon visited the Palm Beach Community College Central Campus on Monday, December 11. Gordon had been invited to the College as a guest speaker in Dan O'Connell's political science class.

Gordon discussed the academic ruling adopted in 1982 that mandated college students complete a minimum of 6,000 written words in four courses of study during their first year. Since its inception the Gordon Rule has been adopted in various forms throughout the Florida community college and university systems.

Gordon was adamant that it is the responsibility of the educational institution to do everything possible to provide students with a quality education. It is Gordon's opinion that, "if you want to learn how to think, you must learn how to write."

Following the lecture, Gordon attended a luncheon in his honor and met with members of the local press for a question-and-answer session.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

PBCC student Carl Smith (R) accepts $500 scholarship from Mary Ann Westwood, President of the Data Processing Management Association.

Palm Beach Community College Computer Science student Carl Smith has been awarded a $500 scholarship by the Greater Palm Beach County Chapter of the Data Processing Management Association.

Smith, a Viet Nam veteran, accepted the award at a dinner held in his honor at J.P.'s Restaurant in West Palm Beach on Tuesday, December 12.

The scholarship is awarded bi-annually to an outstanding student in the computer science program who maintains a minimum 3.0 grade point average. The student must also intend to pursue advanced studies in computer science at the university level.

This marks the fourth scholarship funded by the Data Processing Management Association to a Palm Beach Community College student.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume XI, Number 43 January 8, 1990

FALL COMMENCEMENT

Palm Beach Community College held its Fall Commencement Exercises on Tuesday, December 19 at the Florida Atlantic University Gymnasium.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey commended the 525 degree candidates for their hard work and dedication to education. Eissey then addressed the families and friends of the graduates by saying, "Your show of support for these young people is tremendous and is indicative of the love you have for them."

The College recognized students for academic achievement and community service in five categories which included the Student Scholar Award which was given to Robert Hochman of Delray Beach for maintaining the highest grade point average.

Delray Beach resident M. Marlene Michael won the Sallie Taylor Memorial Scholarship.

The FAU Community College Scholar Awards were given to Kimberly Knapik, Kimberly Leonard, and Tracey Nichols of Lake Worth.

Sean Turrell of Boynton Beach won the University of South Florida Demi scholarship, while the Data Processing Management Association of Palm Beach County presented a scholarship to Carl Smith of West Palm Beach.

HOLIDAY FESTIVAL HIGHLIGHTS

PBCC student Renee Satama poses with her award-winning tallow sculpture "Leviathon" which was displayed on one of the Holiday Festival buffet tables.

Prior to the Holiday Festival luncheon, Certified Executive Chef Ken Wade of Harpoon Louie's, Food Editor Jan Norris of the Palm Beach Post, and Chef Aiden Murphy of Woodbridge Country Club, judged the prepared food and displays before presenting awards to several students of the Chef Apprenticeship program.

The seafood, salad, cold meat/cheese buffet was served to approximately 480 College employees before the holiday program. Drawings for prizes were held and a variety of entertainment was presented to mark the holiday season.

Barry Russal of the North Campus spoke on the significance of Chanukah and a musical tribute featuring Hasidic songs was performed by Rita and Ira Shore. Patricia Adams-Johnson and Bob Jones of the Visual and Performing Arts Department on Central performed "O Holy Night" followed by a holiday medley from the Pacesetters.

The program was concluded with a special rap by the V.E.P.E.'s (see photos page 2) and a message from the president.

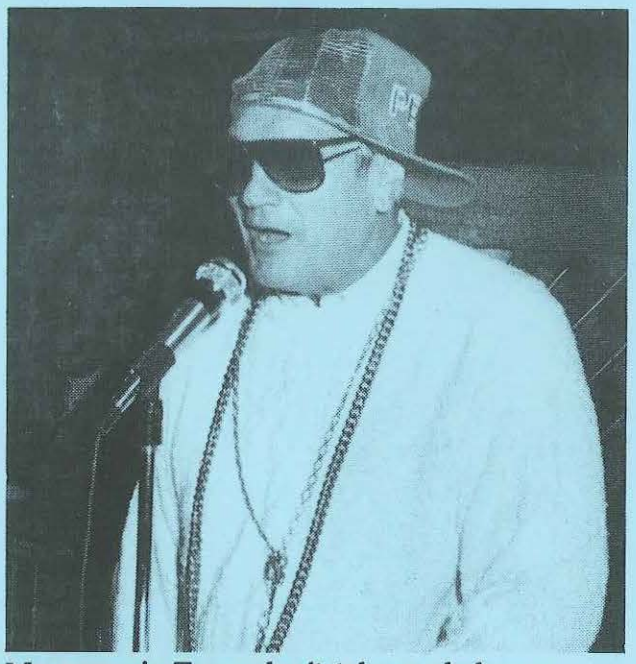
Volunteers are needed for the Palm Beach Community College booth at the South Florida Fair. The fair opens Wednesday, January 24 and continues through Sunday, February 4. An orientation session will be held prior to the opening. To reserve your time to volunteer, contact Danita Kurtz at extension 8233.

IN CASE YOU MISSED THE V.E.P.E.'S AT THE HOLIDAY FESTIVAL

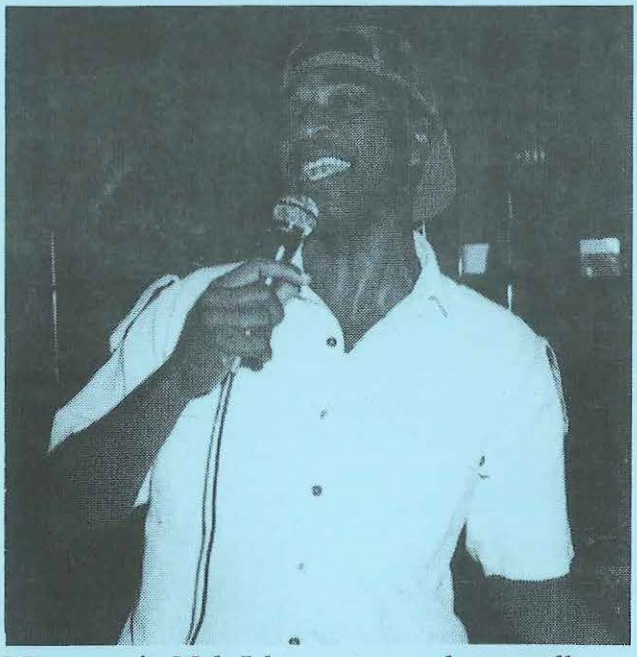
Lovers of rap, you're in for a treat
Stay quiet a minute, hold on to your seat
The PBCC Rap Team is ready to roll
Tony, Liz, Mel and Pat, they're all full of soul!

My name is Lis, info's my biz,
I plan big things, I'm such a whiz,
I'm much better looking than Tony or Ed,
They think they're the boss, but I'm the real head.

My name is Pat, Academics is where it's at,
Reading, writing, math and more,
I do it all, it's no big chore,
I know my numbers, I know them all,
I'm a triple threat lady, I'm on the ball.



My name is Tony, don't take no baloney,
I control the dough, as well you know,
I'm Tony the Tiger, don't get in my way,
Just remember to love me each and every payday.



My name is Mel, I know my students well,
On Sunday I preach, on Monday I teach,
I love the kids, they listen to me,
They all want to come to PBCC!

PBCC, it's where we want to be
We rock, we roll, we know which way to go
Ain't no mountain high enough, ain't no valley low
At PBCC, we're all in the know!

DRAMA FEST

The PBCC Central Campus Theatre Department will host the National Thespian District Tournament on February 2-3 at the Duncan Theatre.

Over 500 high school students from Palm Beach, Martin, and St. Lucie counties will participate in the two-day event.

In addition to the high school participants, the PBCC College Players will perform two one-act plays. Tournament hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on February 2. For information, call 8141.

SOUTH PLANS APPROVED

During the December 13 Board Meeting, Trustees approved Phase II plans for a South Campus Student Services/Office Building. The four-story, 39,300 square foot building is estimated to cost $3.6 million.

The lower floors of the building will house counseling services as well as food service and dining areas. Administrative offices will be located on the upper floors. The facility is designed to wrap around a courtyard.

In other business, the Board's standing committees were reorganized. The Administrative Affairs Committee includes Bettye King, Homer Hand, and Thomas E. Morris, while the Academic Affairs Committee consists of Dr. Bernard Kimmel, Bettye King, and John C. Sansbury.

The Student Affairs Committee includes Sansbury, Dr. Kimmel and Hand, while Hand and Morris make up the Physical Plant Committee.

SOUTH AWARENESS PROGRAM

The PBCC South Citizens Minority Advisory Committee recently held its first Educational Awareness Program at five Delray Beach area churches. The event, chaired by C. Spencer Pompey, informed community residents about the educational opportunities at South Campus.

Committee members, together with members of the Black Student Association (BSA), gave a presentation and distributed information packets at each church.

Students who participated included Joyce Akins Barr, Kelsey Bruton, Carolyn Evans, Daphne Hanna, Debra Kirkland, Robert Newton, Terrence Pascascio, and Trinetta Pettiford. PBCC employees who assisted were Leonard Bruton, Carmen Murray, and Gracelyn Stuart.

PERSONALS

After the nearly catastrophic automobile accident in which our daughter Stacey was critically injured, expressions of support coming in various forms from the College community sustained us in ways impossible to describe, but necessary to recognize. At first, we did not know if Stacey would survive the five broken vertebrae she suffered; fortunately, she not only survived without paralysis but is, after spinal fusion surgery over Christmas, recovering to the point that she is returning to college for second semester. The continued and sincere interest of so many individuals at PBCC has been more comfort to us than they can ever know. We want to thank all who have, through thought, word, and act, supported Stacey through this difficult time. ...Frank and Lisa Littler

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 44 January 15, 1990

$100,000 DONATION

The Palm Beach Community College Foundation has announced that an anonymous donor has contributed $100,000 to the Edward M. and Faye Eissey Endowment Fund.

Established in honor of PBCC's President and his wife, this endowment is one of several funds designed to ensure academic excellence and guarantee student scholarships.

Eissey said he was surprised and proud of the contribution and would seek state matching funds to increase the endowment. He also stated that the interest from this endowment will further serve to enhance Palm Beach Community College programs and resource development.

During the interim, it is hoped that this contribution will encourage additional donations and state grants which will also serve to benefit academic pursuits and student financial needs at Palm Beach Community College.

Persons who wish to make donations to the PBCC Endowment Fund should contact Pat Myers at the Foundation, 8072.

RALPH NADER AT FAU

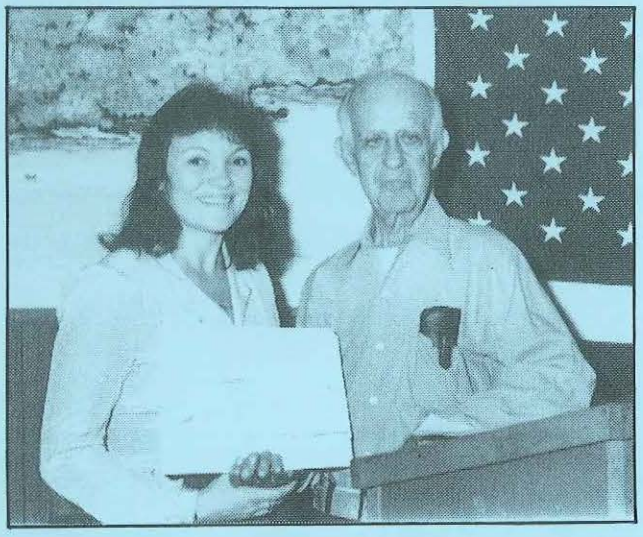
Consumer rights advocate Ralph Nader will speak at Florida Atlantic University on Wednesday, February 7 at 8 p.m. in the University Center Auditorium.

"Consumer Issues of the 1990s" will be the topic of Nader's address which is being sponsored by the FAU and PBCC South Campus chapters of Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Society.

Tickets, which are available at the University Center Box Office and all Ticketmaster locations, are $10.50 and $15.50 for the general public, and $5.50 for FAU and PBCC students with valid identification. Patron tickets, which include prime seating for the lecture and a champagne reception for Nader immediately following the lecture, are available through the FAU Foundation for $50 each.

For more information, please call the University Center Box Office at (407) 367-3758. Those who are interested in patron tickets should call (407) 367-3010.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED



Scholarship recipient Marie Donovan is pictured with Michael Malnin of the South Florida Jewish Civil Service Employees.

The South Florida Jewish Civil Service Employees Scholarship Foundation presented PBCC nursing students Marie Donovan and Dawn Keenan with $250 awards in recognition of their outstanding academic achievement.

Donovan of Boynton Beach and Keenan of Lake Worth accepted their scholarships at a recent luncheon held in their honor. Both students plan to continue their education and pursue nursing careers.

THE CURIOUS SAVAGE

The PBCC Senior Group Theatre will present their production of "The Curious Savage" in the Duncan Theatre, January 18-21. The newly-appointed director of the group is Jules Kaye. He replaces Nancy Goodwin, the group's founder, who passed away last summer.

The Senior Group Theatre is composed of students 55-85 years young who perform at area nursing homes, senior centers and condos.

Each January, the group presents an annual production. This year's presentation, "The Curious Savage," which is written by John Patrick, is a fanciful comedy. Performances are set for January 18-20 at 8 p.m. with 2 p.m. matinees on January 20 and 21.

SUNSHINE STATE SKILLS GRANT

The State Board of Community Colleges has awarded a $100,000 Sunshine State Skills Grant to PBCC for a training partnership with Pratt & Whitney. The grant, which requires Pratt & Whitney to provide matching funds and "in-kind" services, became effective November 3, 1989 and will be active until December 15, 1990.

The program, which will provide Computerized Numerical Control Training for about 80 P&W employees, is the third PBCC/Pratt & Whitney training partnership.

The Sunshine State Skills Grant program has been successful, and a proposal to consider multi-year grants to guarantee ongoing programs has been made. For more information, call Jan Bussell at 8085.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 45 January 22, 1990

STATUS OF PECO FUNDS

During the January Board Meeting, Trustees were presented a status report on Public Education Capital Outlay (PECO) funds for the Burt Reynolds Performing Arts Center. According to PBCC President Edward M. Eissey, legislative approval of the $8.7 million in PECO funds is almost certain.

In meeting with Florida Representative Steve Press, Chairman of the Palm Beach County Legislative Delegation, Eissey obtained a verbal agreement to support PBCC in obtaining the $8.7 million. Press will encourage the other members of the delegation to also support this.

Eissey will be meeting with each delegation member beginning on January 16. He anticipates no problems in getting the $8.7 million approved.

At this point, there has been no determination of the cost of the Center as the State requires funding to be in place prior to bids for architectural plans.

Should there be any remaining funds, Eissey said that the Board will have the authority to designate where those funds will go. The bill that is being introduced into the legislature allows the PBCC Board of Trustees to make decisions regarding the excess funds. The only restriction is that the funds must be used for capital improvements.

In other business, the Board approved the change of the PBCC mascot from a Pacer to the Florida Panther. The recommendation, made by the College's External Marketing Committee, was presented by Chuck Elderd who is one of the nine members of the committee. Elderd said that the committee felt that it was important to adopt a mascot which provides recognition for PBCC. Research showed that no other colleges or universities have the Florida Panther as their mascot. However, some institutions have chosen a panther mascot.

PBCC students, faculty, staff and alumni were surveyed to obtain their opinions on the mascot. The results of the survey showed overwhelming support for the Florida Panther over the Pacer and a variety of other suggestions. This is the third mascot that has been chosen to represent PBCC. The first mascot was the Rebel, and the Pacer was chosen in the mid-sixties.

RECORD ENROLLMENT

Winter term enrollment at Palm Beach Community College reached record numbers as a total of 16,412 students (credit and non credit) registered for classes. These figures, released at the end of the drop-and-add period, represent an increase of 12.10 percent over the same period last year, when 14,640 students were in attendance.

Student semester hours (SSH) also showed an increase of 12.84 percent. This term, students registered for 115,515 semester hours compared to last year's total of 102,368.

By campus, PBCC South registered the largest percentage increase in headcount, 15.50 percent. PBCC Glades was up 12.28 percent, and PBCC Central had an increase of 7.10 percent. PBCC North followed closely, up 6.56 percent.

Attendance at Weekend College showed an increase of 33.96 percent, with 142 students registered.

He talks to the animals...*CRM's Bob Cole, not normally known as a wild-and-crazy guy, went on the prowl into the jungles of Royal Palm Beach for a one-on-one interview with Nicoma, a Florida Panther who supported PBCC's recent decision to adopt a new mascot. Avoiding a near cat-astrophe, Safari Guide Don Sargent photographed this hair-raising encounter. Proving to be his toughest assignment yet, Cole swore "no more copy-cat assignments for me...leave the call of the wild to Jack London."

Claudia Chiesi and Patti Anderson of PBCC North are scheduled to present "One Voice, One Vision: An Academic and Student Affairs Partnership for the 90's," on February 15 at the New Directions for Student Services Annual Conference at Piedmont Tech College in Greenwood, South Carolina.

The Monday Report Deadline is Tues., 3 p.m.

The new mascot of the Florida Panther will be official as of July 1 to allow time for PBCC's athletic teams and bookstores to make this change.

Trustees also approved an agreement with Jackson Community College for Quality First Training. Presently, there are 12 teams enrolled in the second phase of the program.

Palm Beach Community College administrators make up two of these teams. One team is composed of Ed Eissey, Tony Tate, Elisabeth Erling, Melvin Haynes, and Patricia Dyer. The second team includes Ottis Smith, Dan Terhune, Helen Franke, Scott MacLachlan, and Jan Bussell.

In phase one of the Quality First Program during the fall term, eight teams completed the training. PBCC's initial team was composed of Melvin Haynes, Betty Woolfe, Sheila Bertino, Joe Bukowski, and Barbara Scruggs.

Another agenda item was the approval of a budget resolution to support the PBCC Outreach Classes which are being held at Wellington High School. These are an extension of the PBCC Glades Campus.

The next Board Meeting will be held February 14, 7 p.m., at the Glades Campus in Belle Glade.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 46 January 29, 1990

DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

Abby R. Begel

Abby R. Begel has been appointed Palm Beach Community College Director of Development.

The newly-named Director brings many years of fundraising and public relations experience to her new position. Prior to joining Palm Beach Community College, Begel served as Director of Development and Public Relations for Planned Parenthood of West Palm Beach. Before relocating to Florida, she served in the same capacity with Family and Children's Service in Long Branch, New Jersey.

Begel received her Bachelor of Arts Degree from Upsala College in East Orange, New Jersey. She is a member of the National Society of Fundraising Executives (NSFRE), Executive Women of the Palm Beaches, and Psi Chi Honorary Psychology Fraternity.

Assessing her new responsibilities at Palm Beach Community College, Begel said, "I look forward to working with, and raising funds with, the many talented people at the College."

YOU'VE GOT THE LOOK

Palm Beach Community College's fashion design and merchandising students were treated to a first-hand glimpse of the fashion industry last week when internationally-recognized designer Carolyne Roehm held an impromptu lecture in the President's Dining Room on Central Campus. Program instructor Johanna Prinz coordinated the event in conjunction with Post Times Fashion Editor Pati Lowell.

Roehm discussed the trials and tribulations of making it in the fashion business and told students that they should never give up on their dreams. "It's all up to you. I won't tell you that its's easy, because it isn't. But it's a wonderful business, and I wouldn't change any decisions I've made in regard to my career as a designer."

Educated at Washington University in St. Louis, Roehm spent 10 years as Oscar de la Renta's assistant before venturing out on her own. "I design for women, all women," she said. "I'm not interested in starting a fashion revolution."

Designing women--They're sew fine! Seventh Avenue met Congress Avenue when Carolyne Roehm, (R) internationally-known New York fashion diva, met aspiring PBCC fashion design student Adrien Medvei. While addressing the College's fashion students, Roehm discussed many facets of the design industry.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 47 February 5, 1990

COMMUNITY COLLEGE WEEK

Gov. Bob Martinez has proclaimed February 4-10 as Community College Week to celebrate the quality and diversity of the educational programs and services of Florida's 28 community colleges.

Embracing the theme, "The Great 28--Where Florida Learns a Living," Martinez is confident that the community college system is on track for providing the public with the best possible education.

Florida's community college system had its beginning in 1933, when PBCC was established as a public two-year college. Today, more than two-thirds of the students entering Florida's higher education system choose a community college for their first two years of study.

Open access and convenient locations, combined with affordable tuition, have resulted in an increase of 250 percent in the number of students at PBCC over the past decade.

This is an example of one of the distinctive industry services available through PBCC. It is funded through the Sunshine State Skills program which utilizes State grants for training partnerships with new, expanding, or diversifying businesses.

LEGISLATIVE DAY AT PBCC

Legislative Appreciation Day at PBCC will be held on Tuesday, February 13. A tour, luncheon and a forum on upcoming educational issues have been planned to roll out the red carpet for those who have supported PBCC during the past year.

At 11:30 a.m. on Central Campus, legislators will be given a brief tour of the Technology Transfer Center, Dental Health Lab and Early Learning Center which were built and/or supported through State funding.

All College employees are invited to lunch with the legislators at the President's Dining Room at 12:15 p.m. A brief appreciation awards presentation will follow the meal. If you are interested in a gourmet lunch which features soup, salad, roast beef, vegetable and dessert for $6.75, please make out your check to the PBCC Foundation, and send your reservation to mail station #20 by noon on Tuesday, February 6.

All faculty, staff and students are also encouraged to submit questions on education to be addressed by the legislators at an afternoon forum, scheduled from 1:15-2:30 p.m. in the Duncan Theatre. Questions can also be sent to mail station #20 before Thursday, February 8.

Early reports of the State budgeting for community colleges indicate no additional funding for new programs/salaries, and possible cuts. This is your chance to ask the legislators about their plans and how the issues will translate to meet the needs and concerns of PBCC students and employees.

BLACK HISTORY AT GLADES

Students at PBCC Glades began the observance of Black History Month with a soul-food dinner sponsored by the Student Government Association on February 2.

In addition, students are scheduled to meet with local black professionals in conjunction with the Career Choices program at PBCC Glades, and instructors plan to introduce students to unsung black heroes of literature, science, and invention.

Pictures of black heroes and their works will be on display in the Assembly Room where a reception will be held to highlight the activities

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 48 February 12, 1990

LEGISLATIVE UPDATE

Palm Beach Community College has been placed in an increasingly difficult funding position due to the tremendous growth in population and the educational needs resulting from this expansion.

Currently, the College is faced with an enrollment increase of approximately 13 percent at a time when the State has adopted a policy of "no new taxes." The additional demands for facilities, faculty and staff, supplies and utilities are not covered in the base funding provided by the State.

In view of these facts, it is extremely important that voters inform the Governor, Cabinet, and State Legislature of their concerns regarding PBCC's priority needs. Increased State funding is essential if the College is to continue to maintain academic excellence while providing open access to educational opportunities.

The 1990 PBCC Budget Request to the Legislature includes:

*The $8.7 million left from the Fine Arts Theatre funding to pay for some of the $100 million in unmet facility needs on the five-year list which is mandated by the State to educate PBCC's currently-enrolled students.

*Salaries, utilities, supplies and equipment; renovation and repair of roofs, restrooms, and general collegewide safety items; renovation of the Central Campus Dental Health Labs; and new construction of Student Services and Office Services buildings at PBCC South.

If you have any questions about the PBCC Funding Request, call Pat Myers, 8072.

CIVIL RIGHTS IN THE 90's

The Palm Beach Community College Central Campus Student Government Association, in conjunction with the Black Student Union, will present a free lecture on February 20 featuring Dr. Carlton B. Bryant and Charlie L. Ellington in celebration of Black History Month.

The lecture, entitled "Civil Rights Movement in the 90's: What Is the Struggle?" will be held in the Duncan Theatre at 6 p.m.

For more information, call 8141.

THE PRICE IS RIGHT

So, maybe you want to buy a baby grand piano? How are you going to get it home? In a garbage truck, of course... Not just any old garbage truck, mind you, but a diesel engine camion a ordures (trash truck) will fill the bill.

PBCC employees...come on down! Unfortunately, you won't find TV host Bob Barker, but you can match wits with auctioneer Russell Beebe when the College holds its annual auction of used and surplus equipment on Wednesday, February 21 at 9:30 a.m.

These treasures, including color TV's, computers, typewriters and other general merchandise, can be yours if the price is right.

The auction, with a one-hour preview at 8:30 a.m., will be at Central Campus. It will begin at Central Receiving and move to the Physical Plant area.

For more information, call the Purchasing Office at 8030.

MONDAY REPORT

TRUSTEES MEET AT GLADES

During the February 14 Board of Trustees Meeting held at PBCC Glades, a presentation on achievements of the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center was given. Rita Grieser, Theatre Manager, said that she planned to maintain the existing successful programs of the past, expand the Theatre for Schools program, and establish the facility as the center of cultural activity in the Glades.

The Board agenda included a special presentation on "Quality First" by Richard Miller, President of Gee and Jensen. Miller, who serves as President of the Palm Beach County Community Quality Council, spoke on the importance of the training program to the community.

The Quality Council, a community-based non profit organization, was established to provide quality improvement training and resources to small and medium size businesses.

MEASLES ALERT

Attention Students, Faculty and Staff: A measles surveillance program has been in effect at PBCC since February 9. If you experience any of the following symptoms or you have had contact with anyone with these symptoms, please contact the PBCC Student Health Clinic. The symptoms include fever, red or watery eyes, cough, runny nose or rash. If any of these symptoms develop, please keep the ill person from contact with others outside the home until he/she receives appropriate medical attention.

Several cases of measles have been diagnosed in Palm Beach County. This disease is highly contagious and can be spread through the air. If you were born prior to 1957, you are most likely immune to measles. If you are exposed to measles, born in or after 1957 and have had only one measles shot, you are at risk.

Recommendations regarding the measles immunization have been changed to a two dose schedule. If you have been exposed to measles, you may need a second injection. Measles vaccine can be obtained from your private doctor. For more information, call Mary Cannon, College Nurse, at 8066.

LEGISLATIVE APPRECIATION

Eight members of the State Legislature attended PBCC's Legislative Appreciation Day on Tuesday, February 13. The event was sponsored by the PBCC Board of Trustees and the Foundation.

Representatives James Hill, Marian Lewis, Ray Liberti, Lois Frankel, Ed Healy, and Frank Messersmith, and Senators William "Doc" Myers and Don Childers attended the special tour, luncheon and forum.

The distinguished guests visited the Center for Early Learning, Xeriscape site, PBCC/Motorola Technology Transfer Center, and Dental Health area.

Following the tour, the group was treated to lunch which was prepared and served by students in the Chef Apprenticeship/Hospitality Management program. Each legislator was presented with an appreciation award by President Edward M. Eissey.

The afternoon Legislative Forum was held in the Duncan Theatre. PBCC faculty, staff and students submitted questions to the legislators and Bill Graham served as moderator. Questions on lottery funds, taxation, and salary increases were discussed.

The event was planned by representatives of the Foundation, FACC, and United Faculty.

CULTURAL AWARENESS

The Palm Beach Community College North Campus chapter of Phi Theta Kappa will host the second annual Cultural Awareness Festival, February 19-22. The theme of this year's festival is "Building Bridges...A People to People Experience."

*Heritage Day Fashion Show, February 22, 12 noon

IN PURSUIT OF QUALITY

Palm Beach Community College's two "Quality First" teams are pursuing various improvement projects.

Team number two is chaired by Vice President of Student Affairs Melvin Haynes, Jr., and includes PBCC President Edward M. Eissey, Vice President of Business Affairs Tony Tate, Vice President of Planning and Information Systems Elisabeth Erling, and Vice President of Academic Affairs Patricia Dyer.

Haynes' team has chosen the project, "Increase the Percent of Temporary Duty Elsewhere (TDE) Leave Forms That Are Processed Correctly on the First Attempt."

Team number three is chaired by PBCC North Provost Ottis Smith and includes PBCC South Provost Dan Terhune, PBCC Glades Provost Helen Franke, Director of Vocational Education Jan Bussell and District Registrar Scott MacLachlan.

Smith's team has selected the objective, "Decrease the Number of Wrong Location Calls Received in the Registrar/Advisement Areas."

The teams are scheduled to complete the "Quality First" training on April 16.

PBCC is an integral part of the Council in offering essential training resources and programs. The eight-day basic training program is provided to a team of six for approximately $3,000. This cost is usually offset by the savings from improvements made as a result of the long term, continuous "Quality First" process.

In a special report, PBCC Board Chairman Bettye King discussed a recent visit to Delaware County Community College (DCCC) in Media, Pennsylvania. She said the DCCC program was very effective in solving problems and producing quality improvements. King also said the program's success was the result of the commitment of all administrators and employees.

In other business, the Board approved a change in title for Helen Franke from Director to Provost. In addition, Mary Orsenigo was named Provost Emeritus for the Glades Center.

Trustees also approved an agreement guaranteeing that the Foundation will reimburse the College for funds used on the Lannan Museum. They also approved changing the facility's name to the PBCC Museum of Art.

PBCC President Edward M. Eissey announced that an anonymous donor had donated $90,000 which will establish two Endowed Teaching Chairs for the faculty or staff of the Glades Center. Recipients will be awarded a stipend to advance their academic endeavors.

A LOOK AT THE FORTIES

The Palm Beach Community College Center for Community History will present "The 1940's: A Decade of Civil Rights Activism in Palm Beach County" on February 23, 6 p.m. at South Campus.

The theme will be explored in two sessions. The first session, "Equal Opportunity, The Stebbins Case: Personal Retrospective," will feature C. Spencer Pompey and U.B. Kinsey.

The second session to be presented is "Post World War II Voter Rights Activism in Palm Beach County." Participants will include Harvey Poole and Rosetta Rolle.

Following the second session, a video tape, produced by FAU graduate student Karen Milano, will focus on the development of C. Spencer Pompey as a civil rights activist. Both sessions will provide an opportunity for audience participation.

For more information, please call the South Campus at 367-2212.

FSU ARTICULATION VISIT

Several representatives from Florida State University will visit PBCC Central on Thursday, March 8 from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. All administrators, faculty, and counselors are invited to attend the events which are scheduled in the President's Dining Room.

The program, called "Faculty-to-Faculty Articulation," will include the following tentative agenda.

The day will begin with an informal greeting and welcoming coffee from 10-10:30 a.m.

From 10:30 to 11:45 a.m., there will be faculty-to-faculty articulation in several areas. These include: A.A. degree general education package; A.S. degree articulation/transfer; accounting; advertising; computer science; criminal justice; fashion design/merchandising; and interior design.

Also during this time, advisors/counselors will meet with the FSU Director of Community College Interinstitutional Relations. In addition, PBCC and FSU Phi Theta Kappa students and their advisors will convene. Finally, the schedule includes a discussion among President Edward M. Eissey, his administrative staff and FSU administrative staff members.

The afternoon session is scheduled from 1-2 p.m., and all students are welcome to attend. The visit will conclude with a FSU Alumni Reception set for 2:30-4:30 p.m.

For more information, please call Patricia Dyer at 8087.

THE DIVERSITY CHALLENGE

"The Diversity Challenge: Managing with the Changing Workforce and Community," a conference for executive and midlevel managers will be held February 23 from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Boca Raton Sheraton.

Sponsored by the Palm Beach Community College Institute of Government and the Gold Coast American Society of Training and Development (ASTD) Chapter, the program is designed to provide participants with knowledge of the issues and strategies necessary to meet the challenges of an increasingly diverse workforce and community.

Featured speakers will include Richard Knight, City Manager of Dallas, Texas; Fred Miller and Catherine Buntaine, international consultants; Xavier Suarez, Mayor of Miami; Miami Herald columnist Kitty Oliver's video documentary, "Celebrate the Cultural Connection," plus a panel of public and private sector executives from IBM, Knight-Ridder, the City of West Palm Beach and the Latin American Chamber of Commerce.

PERSONAL

Rosamond Morris, wife of PBCC Trustee Admiral Thomas E. Morris, recently underwent surgery in Boston. As of Monday Report deadline, she was reported to be recovering nicely, and was due for hospital release.

A ceremony was held at PBCC Glades on February 14 to posthumously honor Ben Painter, former business instructor. Present at the dedication of an "In Memoriam" plaque were (L-R): Painter's widow, Echo, and Helen Franke, Glades Center Provost.

MONDAY REPORT

Volume XI, Number 50 February 26, 1990

Central Campus SGA, in recognition of Black History Month, presented a lecture by Mrs. Charlie L. Ellington on February 20 at the Duncan Theatre.

MEAL REIMBURSEMENT

Comptroller's memorandum number 5 from the Office of the Comptroller, State of Florida, reads in part, "Internal Revenue Service regulations require that amounts reimbursed for Class C meal allowances be included in the income of the recipient and reported on the form W-2. However, the amounts recorded as income are not subject to withholding for social security." Please note also that there will be no withholding of federal income taxes from amounts paid for Class C meals.

Class C travel is defined as travel for short or day trips that do not require an overnight absence from the employee's place of duty. Present reimbursement is $3 for breakfast, $6 for lunch, and $12 for dinner.

Beginning January 1, 1990, all meal reimbursements paid by PBCC for a calendar year and meeting the criteria of Class C travel will be reported on the employees W-2 for that year.

The additional amount to be incorporated in the employee's W-2 will be taken directly from any travel reimbursement form certified by the employee and paid by payroll/travel.

...J. Barry Rogers

PTK HOLDS EVENTS AT NORTH

PBCC North Campus Phi Theta Kappa students sponsored The Second Annual Cultural Awareness Festival, February 19-22. The events included a film festival, panel discussion, ethnic foods buffet and fashion show.

The festival's theme was "Building Bridges...A People to People Experience." On February 19, the film festival featured "People Portraits" and informational films. Students were invited to watch the films on Channel 2 on campus from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:15 p.m.

An opening reception highlighting music and art was held on February 20. A panel discussion held on February 21 served as an open forum for participants and attendees. Panel member and PBCC alumnus Clarence Anthony encouraged students to "throw away all your old stereotypes, and learn from each other." PBCC North faculty member and panelist Frank Mossadeghi said, "One person can make a difference."

Following the discussion, a luncheon buffet featuring ethnic foods from several countries was served in the Burt Reynolds Student Center. A fashion show on February 22 concluded the Cultural Festival which will continue as an annual event.

FREE THEATRE TICKETS

Full-time PBCC faculty and staff members can each receive one free theatre ticket for the March 2 and 3 performances of Ballet Hispanico scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Duncan Theatre.

There are 50 tickets available for each performance, and they are offered on a first come, first serve basis. Only one ticket per person will be issued. To reserve your free ticket, please call the Duncan Theatre Box Office at 8141 or stop by between 12 noon and 5 p.m.; a photo ID is required. All arrangements must be made before noon on Friday, March 2.

Tickets are made available through the State of Florida Enhancement Grant, coordinated by Claudia Chiesi. For more information, call George Matsoukas at 8201.

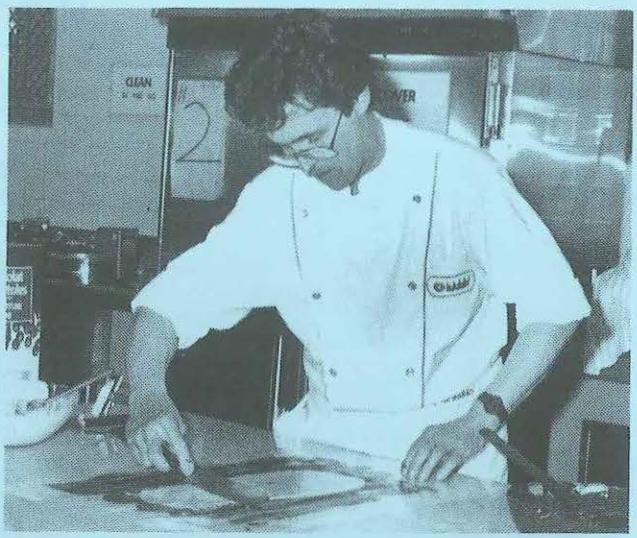
GLYNN STONE GRANT

Applications for the Glynn-Stone Grant are now being accepted, and instructors are encouraged to recommend PBCC students based on academic talent.

The Glynn-Stone Grant provides students with financial help to cover the cost of educational expenses. Application deadline is April 1, 1990.

Over the past 25 years, this grant has provided a total of $100,000 to more than 100 PBCC students. For more information, please call the Development Office at 8072.

PBCC Criminal Justice Program Manager Joe Macy recently presented a resolution in honor of Law Appreciation Week to Mangonia Park Public Safety Director Raymond Funk who serves as President of the Chiefs of Police Association of Palm Beach County.



It wasn't Willie Wonka and the Chocolate Factory, but Confiseur Jean-Marie Guichard demonstrating the art of candy making at a Chocolate Seminar held at PBCC Central last week.

EXPRESS TERM ON TRACK

Registration is presently underway at Palm Beach Community College for Express Term classes which begin March 6 and conclude on May 4.

The Express Term is an accelerated eight-week term which enables students to obtain college credit in half the regularly-scheduled semester time.

A wide variety of classes--from Art Appreciation to Scuba Diving--is being offered at all four PBCC campus locations. For more information, call the Registrar's Office.

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

The Ninth Annual International Festival will be presented at PBCC Central, March 9-11.

The three-day event, sponsored by the PBCC Center for Multicultural Affairs, will feature the food, fun and entertainment of other lands. The event annually attracts thousands of visitors who come to PBCC's Central Campus to sample the ethnic delicacies which have been a hallmark of the event.

As in past years, there will be a display of native arts and crafts, and several groups will entertain with music and folk dancing.

The opening festivities are set for 5-9 p.m. on Friday, March 9. The festival will continue from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday, March 10 and Sunday, March 11. For more information, call 8013.

PERSONALS

This is a belated thank you for the 65 roses you sent me on my "39th" birthday. They were not only a joy to me, but the hospital as well. As word spread about your generous gift, personnel came from the various departments to exclaim and admire all the beautiful colors. Thanks to you, I was a very popular patient. May God bless you for your thoughtfulness and especially your prayers. With your continued support, I am positive I am going to beat the odds. It is wonderful to be back at work earning sick leave instead of using it.

...Denise Shepherd

Thank you to everyone for the beautiful flowers, cards, phone calls and get well wishes during my recent hospital stay. It's great to have friends.
